THE SENSATION CREATED BY A JAPANESE PEASANT WOMAN.

A young Japanese peasant woman has created a genuine sensation in the medical circles of the east with a new theory and cure of rheumatism.

Her theory is that it is caused by a small insect under the skin, that gnaws and bites the muscles and thus causes the twinges of pain and the untold misery of that ailment.

A grizzled and sceptical sea captain placed bimself under her care and, after foot baths of bran and hot rice brandy, she nipped from his knees small white insects by the dozen!

The regular practitioners were skeptical about this new theory, and put one of the insects under a microscope. They decided that by its organism it never could have lived under the surface of the skin.

The Captain insists, however, that the Japanese woman has taken the insects from his knees and ancles by the hundreds, in his sight, and killed them, and that he grows better after each treatment!

This theory, absurd as it seems, is really not much more so than the N. Y theories formerly held by the medical fraternity. It used to be thought a trouble of the joints, and was treated as such until it was demonstrated that the treatment brought no lasting results.

Then, as the muscles were effected, it was set down as a muscular disease, but the same unsatisfactory results followed, Now it is universally acknowledged to be a "fiery condition of the blood caused by the presence of uric acid in the system.'

To cure it the uric acid must be driven out of the blood, which is done by putting the kidneys in a healthy condition with Warner's safe cure and "putting out the fire Warner's in blood" by safe rheumatic cure. These remedies, taken in alternation, as they should be, drive out the uric acid already in the blood, and prevent further accumulation. James Wight, of 87 E. 19th St., New York, was for many years a victim of rheumatism, and tried various remedies and cures without avail, Sept. 8, 1e87, he writes in praise of the remedies named, and says: "I am now free from the arrow stings of the dreaded inflammatory rheumatism. I have and always will recommend Warner's rheumatic remedies to all sufferers of the disease."

The Japanese peasant woman's theory will not be likely to stand the test of time and scientific investigation, but the thousands of cures made by the remedies mentioned above prove their merit beyond all question.

FOOD FOR CONSUMPTIVES. - Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypo phosphites, is a most marvelous food and medicine. It heals the irritation of the throat and lungs, and gives flesh and strength quicker than any other remedy known. It is very palatable, having none of the disagreeable taste of the crude oil. Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

HAVE YOU NOTICED IT .- The weary "all gone" feeling, with gnawing at the pit of the stomach, or a choking from undigested food so common to the weak dyspeptic. This trouble is soon remed. ied by Burdock Blood Bitters, which is a positive cure for the worst form of Dyspepsia.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competion with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only canna. BOYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall St
