SONG OF LIFE.

A traveller through a dusty road Strowed acorns on the sea; And one took root, and sprouted up, And grew into a tree. Love sought its shade at evening time, To breathe its early vows, And age was pleased, in heats of noon, To bask beneath its boughs. The dormouse lov'd its dangling twigs, The birds sweet music bore, It stood a glory in its place, A blessing evermore! A little spring had lost its way Admid the grass and fern, A passing stranger scoop'd a well, Where weary men might turn. He wall'd it in, and hung with care A ladle on the brink; He thought not of the deed he did, But judged that toil might drink, He passed again—and lo! the well, By summers never dried, Had eod'd ten thousand parching tongues And saved a life beside! A dreamer dropp'd a random thought, 'Twas old, and yet was new, A simple fancy of the brain, But strong in being true. It shone upon a genial mind, And lo! its light became A lamp of life, a beacon ray, A monitory flame. The thought was small—its issue great; A watch-fire on the hill, It sheds its radiance far adown, And cheers the valley still! A nameless man, amid a crowd That thronged the daily mart, Let fall a word of hope and love, Unstudied from the heart. A whisper on the tumult thrown, A transitory breath, It raised a brother from the dust, It saved a soul from death. O, germ! O, fount! O, word of love! O thought at random cast! Ye were but little at the first, But mighty at the last!

THE REFORMERS OF THE MINISTRY.—The Reformers of the North Riding are already giving evidence that the trucking and trembling Administration are to expect a determined opposition at the next election. They at length begin to see the acts of the Ministry in their true colors, as being solely for the benefit of themselves and adherents, and entirely contrary to the "well-understood wishes of the people." The next Session will be the last before the general election, and these traitors to their party are dreading the time for meeting the House, when they will have to render to the country an account of their past misdeeds. The appointment of two or three Conservatives lately to office by such a Government as Canada at present possesses, has rather a suspicious appearance, and is not likely to diminish its unpopularity with the Rads, or gain the confidence of those whose principles are adverse to Republicanism. The flagrant abuses, infamous jobbing, and unprecedented extravagance of the existing Administration, have disgusted all parties, and in consequence they are deserted by every political section. Even the Globe and Pilot, both of which are accredited as organs of the Government, have been for some time at loggerheads, and the Mirror, which lately most miraculously jumped "Jim Crow," from the opposition to the defence, states that "the Globe is not the organ of the Ministry, or of any member of it." All these are peculiar symptoms of a regular disorganization amongst our reckless rulers and their late outrageous supporters, which strongly forebode an approaching downfall.—Hamilton Gazette.

Extraordinary Trial—Bel Air Md. Dec. 24—One of the most extraordinary occurrences that have disturbed this part of the world for the past half century, took place to-day. Sometime ago the body of a man named Hammond was found near here, bearing evidence that he had been cruelly murdered. Suspicion was fixed upon 2 persons, Stump and Griffith, as the villains who committed the bloody deed and they were accordingly arrested, and duly indicted Stump for being the principle, and Griffith as being an accomplice. Stump's trial came on a few days since, and he was acquitted, the jury thinking that the testimony against him was not sufficient for hanging. Griffith, the accomplice was next on trial, and the Court having been occupied with it for the past few days, to-day they brought in a verdict of not guilty, upon the following singular testimony, Stump having been acquitted of the murder, his evidence was of course admissible, and he was called to the stand in behalf of Griffith.—Being sworn he was asked—"Do you know anything of the murder of Hammond?" "Yes." "Do you know who killed him?" "Yes." "Who was it?" "I did it myself!" "Had Griffith any agency in the act?" "None; and he did not know it, until four hours afterwards!" "The Jury immediately returned a verdict of Not Guilty against the prisoner, and he was discharged.—N. Y. Sun.
