Lodge Notes

Knights of Pythias.

The officers and members of Calanth Lodge, No. 36, Knights of Pythias were honored last night by an official visit from Grand Chancellor Oscar Rumpel of Berlin. A large number of members of the order assembled in the castle hall for the purpose of receiving the Grand Chancellor who was accompanied by over thirty knights from Phoenix lodge of Berlin. The officers and members of Berlin Lodge conferred the rank of knight on a number of candidates. The visitors exemplified the work in a very creditable and impressive manner and were heartily congratulated on their efforts. After the degree work, the gathering partook of a dainty luncheon, after which the cigars were passed around and the remainder of the evening was spent in speeches, music and song.

C. C. Hicks brought the gathering to order and called upon G. C. Rumpel who spoke on the great advancement the order is making. Bro. W. R. Byers rendered a couple of bass solos in capital style. C. C. Kraz spoke on behalf of Phoenix lodge. After a number of short speeches by visiting brethren and local brethren, the affair was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

is being used in a great variety of ways nowadays, but among the latest users are The "Salada" Tea Co., who are now making their well known packets from thin sheets of this material. It has been found to preserve the freshness of the tea leaves better even than lead.

Eleanor Wilson Marries Wm. M'Adoo at Capitol

(By Special Wire to the Courier)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the President of the United States and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, will be married at 6 o'clock this evening in the White House to William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury. The simple and impressive wedding service of the Presbyterian Church will be pronounced by the Rev. Sylvester Beach, pastor of the church in Princeton, N.J., attended by the President, and Mrs. Wilson and their family. The ceremony, while it is to be notably elegant in all of its appointments, will be witnessed by the smallest company that ever attended so important a function in the White House. The vice-president and Mrs. Marshall, the members of the cabinet and their wives, relatives of the president and Mrs. Wilson and Secretary McAdoo and a few intimate personal friends of the bride and bridegroom, comprise the list of guests.

The ceremony of this evening takes place in the historic blue room, the middle apartment of the suite on the south side of the White House, between the East room and the state dining room. It has been the scene of more brilliant social functions than any other room in the mansion.

The floral decorations of the room—in fact of the entire mansion on the first floor—will be marvelously beautiful. Slender vases of graceful designs in cut glass and rare porcelain, will be filled with cut flowers, including masses of lilies and white orchids, products of the White House conservatories. The south side will be banked with palms to form a background for great bunches of spring blossoms of cherry, peach and apple.

In the main lobby of the mansion, the Marine band orchestra of fifty pieces will render a programme of music, specially selected by Miss Wilson.

To the strains of Wagner's inspiring wedding march from Lohengrin, the wedding party will descend the main staircase from the apartments above.

Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Sayre, the bride's sisters, will be maids of honor. Two charming little maids, Miss Sallie McAdoo, the twelve-year old daughter of the bridegroom, and Miss Nancy Lane, the dainty daughter of Secretary and Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, will attend the bride as flower girls. The will be attired in exquisite white frocks, exactly matched. The bride gown was made of ivory white satin and trimmed with real old point lace. The bodice was softly draped with satin with roses in front and is brought to a point below the shoulders front and back. The V-shaped neck is finished with folds of soft tulle. The long sweeping train is three and a half yards in length. A cap effect bridal wreath especially executed with orange blossoms and long-draped veil was very effective.

The bride will be escorted to the blue room by her father, the president of the United States. At the beautiful extemporized altar of white satin and cut flowers, she will be joined by the bridegroom, Mr. McAdoo, and his best man, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. navy, an intimate friend alike of the secretary and of the president.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony after which the bridal party and assembled guests sit down to the wedding supper to be served in the state dining room. Later in the evening Secretary McAdoo and his bride will leave Washington for a brief honeymoon trip.

Burtch Women's Institute Meeting

The regular meeting of the Burtch Institute was held Tuesday, April 28, at the home of Mrs. Marquis McIntyre, with a good attendance. The meeting was opened by singing "Blest be the Tie That Binds." The minutes were then read and adopted. The roll was called and was answered by each giving a subject suitable for Institute meetings. Mrs. Earl Burtch gave a very interesting talk on "What a child should be taught before starting to school," followed by a general discussion on the subject.

Miss Edith Buckwell gave a reading in her masterly manner, entitled "Two Summer Girls." Mrs. Coral Birdsell spoke on "How to Keep Young," giving some very good advice along that line.

It was decided to hold the regular May meeting on Tuesday p.m., May 10th, at the home of Mrs. Haynes. Members are requested to be present, as this is the meeting for election of officers. The roll call will be answered by each member paying dues for 1914. There will also be present a doctor from Brantford to speak on behalf of the Tuberculosis Hospital. This meeting is a week earlier than usual on account of having an extra meeting the last week in the month. Saturday, May 30th, when we will have a summer delegate to give an address.

Mrs. McIntyre served dainty refreshments and the meeting closed in the usual way.

Bazaar Held By Young Ladies

In connection with Balfour St. Presbyterian church, a very enjoyable bazaar was held last night at the home of Mr. W. H. Raynor, 28 Mt. Pleasant street. The bazaar was given under the auspices of Mrs. Danby's Young Ladies' Bible Class, who organized in February under the name of the "Willing Workers," with Mrs. Gordon Raynor as president.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather a large crowd of people came to view the pleasing array of fancy and useful articles that were displayed on small tables about the room, and they all proved willing buyers.

The following were the young ladies in charge:

Candy Table: Miss Elma Laird. Toilet Article Table: Misses Margaret Powell and Beatrice McCormick. Sewing Table: Miss Iva Nicks. Novelty Table: Miss Margaret Morrison. Tea and Cheese Table: Miss Kathleen McFadden.

Refreshments and Ice Cream: Misses Belva Danby and Maria Morrison. During the evening the Sunday school orchestra under the leadership of Mr. McDonald, added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening by their selections.

It is expected that the proceeds of the bazaar will be in the neighborhood of thirty dollars. This is very gratifying to the young ladies who have worked so hard for the last few months, to make the bazaar a success.
