LIGHTS WILL BE ON TONIGHT

Repairs at the Power House Are Almost Completed.

Big Generators Established on Concrete Foundations and Will Break Down no More.

For the past 72 hours a force of men have been engaged at the plant of the Dawson Electric Light & Power Co. transferring the big generating machines to the new concrete foundations.

The work progressed all day Sunday and went on last night and all day today. At eight o'clock this morning the smaller of the two dynamos was in position and the local newspaper offices and other institutions which make use of the electric power have been working uninterruptedly today.

At three o'clock this afternoon an announcement was made by Manager Speak that the big machine will be in working order this evening unless something unforeseen occurs and patrons of the company may expect that the electric lights will be in perfect working order by 7 o'clock this evening and possibly before that hour.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights the city was in total darkness so far as the electric lights were concerned, and the various enterprises which make use of the electric current for power purposes were forced to resort to all manner of makeshifts in order to tide over the time until the current should be turned on again.

The shut down caused a big demand for lamps and coal oil, and in no few instances the old sour dough method of illuminating houses and places of business by means of candles was revived.

Manager Speak thinks that he has now overcome every difficulty which is likely to prevent itself during the winter, and with the monster generators safely established on their concrete foundations, he feels confident that no more breakdowns will occur.

This hope is echoed by every patron of the company, all of whom have been placed at great inconvenience and no little expense by reason of the fact that the company has been compelled to shut down during the past three days.

Mail Coming.
The Emma Knott with two tons of mail was reported between Big Salmon and Five Fingers this morning. She can not possibly arrive before tomorrow night. The next mail to leave will be on the Ora, about the 26th.

CAPT. NIXON GOT NOTHING

From Koyukuk Merchandizing and Trading Voyage.

Among the passengers arriving in Dawson last night on the steamer Nora was W. A. Wood, who left early last June with the Gold Star which Captain Thomas Nixon took up that river on his celebrated merchandizing voyage. It will be remembered that Nixon had his boat loaded to the guards with goods purchased on time (and eternity) in Dawson and that he unloaded them at the head of Koyukuk navigation and left them there in the care of Mr. Wood. Nixon's meteoric career after his return to Dawson is well remembered. Finding himself heavily in debt, he got "cold feet" and left between two suns, going down the river in a small boat, leaving his steamer tied up at the Aurora dock.

The fleeing skipper avoided detention and finally arrived at the mouth of the Koyukuk where he awaited the returns from the sale of the goods left on the headwaters of the Koyukuk. But it is vaguely hinted by one of the Dawson merchants he attempted to victimize that the wait at the mouth of the river was in vain and that he got nothing in the way of returns from his goods, his agent, Mr. Woods, preferring rather to protect the Dawson creditors which, it is said, he did to the best of his ability under the circumstances.

Captain Nixon was in Seattle only a few days ago where it is reported he has absolutely nothing as the result of his merchandizing voyage up the Koyukuk, while his steamer and other property in the Klondike have long since been levied upon and sold, the proceeds going towards liquidating his numerous debts.

Another Chance.
From the crowds of people who were flocking to the postoffice this morning to mail letters, papers and payels an observer would have concluded that the last mail to leave for the outside before next spring was about to be closed. But one more and possibly two or three mails will yet leave Dawson by steamer and before navigation closes. The Ora will leave for Whitehorse the latter part of this week, possibly Saturday, and it is not improbable that other light craft will leave on later dates.

Notice.
All Elks register during the week, and meet Sunday next, 3 p. m., at the Exchange parlors.

MEN OF LETTERS AS ATHLETES

Many Eminent Authors Have Been Physical Giants.

Pride of place to Prof. Wilson? As wrestler and pedestrian "Christopher North" could hold his own against all comers. As a jumper, too, he was pre-eminent, and putting aside as apocryphal certain legends with which he is credited, had unquestionably in his day no rival.

The author of "The Bible in Spain" was another notable athlete—a man who could walk his sixty miles a day and hold his own with his fists against any of the rough characters he met with in his wanderings. His encounter with the flaming Finnish, so graphically told in "Havengro," is a biographical episode which shows that George Borrow not only possessed considerable conscience, but that essential quality known among the old-time boxers as "bottom." Topping six feet by some two inches, built in proportion and always in condition, he must, indeed, have been a formidable foe to encounter.

On his skill with the gloves Lord Byron prided himself, though he was nothing better than a respectable amateur being severely handicapped by his lameness. As a swimmer, he was undoubtedly of higher merit, and the long distance he covered when virtually untrained, in the lake of Geneva and elsewhere, proved that he excelled in the nautical art. Among modern we may point to Mr. Swinburne as an adept in the same direction.

ARIZONA KICKER EXTRACTS

The Editor and His Honor the Mayor Still Live

And Being One and the Same Person Upheld Each Other Scintillations of M. Quad.

An eastern paper says that an Arizona editor was in Chicago this winter blew out the gas and was almost a goner when his room was broken into. It wasn't us. We always light our way with a tallow candle when in Chicago.

Some 450 of our local subscribers are in arrears from $1 to $3 each. Next week we shall start out on a collecting tour, and our guns will be well oiled and loaded. Have your money ready when we call.

In trying to shoot a jack rabbit in the suburbs of the town yesterday James Daily killed and had to pay for a $75 mule belonging to Captain Childers. If Mr. Daily had carried out the threat he once made of shooting us on sight, we wonder how many innocent citizens would have gone before his fusillade.

Old Major Harrington

came into The Kicker office the other day to ask why America had gone ahead and licked China out of her boots.

We started in to explain matters as best we could, but he got impatient and fired three bullets at us and left. The major was never a hand to understand statesmanship.

There was a rumor around town the other day that Dave Sullivan, the stage driver, had been devoured by a mountain lion in the Red Tree hills. As Dave isn't to be found at any of his haunts the story may be true, but we'll bet the lion passed a bad hour after his meal. Dave is about the toughest thing we know of in Arizona, and the wolves and bears have studiously avoided him.

Last week we were one of the committee of four that sought to raise $15,000 to give the town waterworks. The total sum subscribed in the entire week was $1.60, and, as for ourselves, we'll be hanged if we waste any more wind over the matter. If a citizen wants to lie down on his stomach and collect microbes from Tomahawk creek, let him go ahead and imbibe.

Our esteemed contemporary denies that he was ever in jail in Indiana for stealing a cow. Of course not. A man who steals a cow and drives

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT

Frank W. Clayton Injured by a Fall

Mr. Frank W. Clayton, one of the city's best known citizens, was a most distressing and painful accident shortly after midnight last night while on his way from his office in the A. E. block to his home on Second avenue between Seventh and eighth streets.

Owing to the break in the electric power house the street lights, and while on a deep ditch by the little alley at the corner of Second and Sixth street, Mr. Clayton was footing in the pitch surface and violently forward, striking his nose and completely destroying it, making it necessary to move sixteen teeth.

When the ambulance arrived to carry him to his home, he was conscious for an hour and a half, but a hastily summoned doctor he suffered from convulsions, still suffers intensely, but is now being in a hospital.

It was only a year ago that a lady fell in the open end of a street and was eight months in a hospital in consequence.

This is to notify the public that Henry Gulch, all No. 1, and Henry Gulch, all No. 2, and Henry Gulch, stand in my name as shown by records at the commissioner's office in June, 1900.

Curbside Law

He owes me a dollar, and if he takes the steamer today without paying me, I'll stop him at Whitehorse with a capias, as sure as I live.

And the man who delivered himself of the above on the sidewalk this morning strutted around in ignorance of the fact that capias are not issued where the amount involved is less than $100.

Subscription Reduced

Beginning October 18th the subscription of the Daily Nugget will be reduced to three dollars per month, delivered by carrier to any address within the limits of Dawson. This reduction is made by reason of the facilities which we now enjoy for turning out a modern up-to-date journal at a minimum cost, the Nugget now possessing a plant which cannot be excelled in any city of the world of a similar size.

Our readers will notice that while we have reduced the price of the paper we have increased its size, and are now publishing an eight column metropolitan journal, equal in text, matter and typographical appearance to the up-to-date dailies on the outside.

The Nugget will be delivered to your door for $3.00 per month in the future.
