ANTIGONISH, OCT. 2, 1879.

DEATH OF ARCHBISHOP MCKINNON.

It is with feelings of extreme sorrow we record to-day the death of His Grace Archbishop McKinnon, which occurred on Friday last at his residence in Antigonish. On the previous Wednesday he had an attack of paralysis which rendered him unconscious until he breathed his last. The last rites of the Church were administered to him by Father H. Gillis, his confessor. At his last moments, and during the three previous days, he was surrounded and attended upon by Bishop Cameron and a large number of his clergy.

Archbishop McKinnon was born at Williams Point, in this County, in the year 1810. He was sent to Rome at an early age to pursue a course of studies in the famous Propaganda, where he was ordained priest. On returning to his native country, he was installed in the Parish of St. Andrew, where he served and labored in the vineyard of Christ with force and energy, and with great zeal and love for the salvation of souls for about sixteen years. On the 24th February, 1852, he was consecrated Bishop of Arichat in St. Mary's Cathedral, Halifax. He continued Bishop of this Diocese until July 17th, 1877, when failing in health, on account of incessant labours, he resigned his charge. In consideration of the very many services which he rendered to the Church, the late Holy Father, Pope Pius IX, promoted him to the high rank of Archbishop, his titular See being Amydo in partibus infidelium.

The funeral of His Grace, Most Rev. Dr. McKinnon, took place on Tuesday last. No sooner the holy and illustrious prelate surrendered his soul to God, than messages were sent to the neighboring Bishops, announcing the sad news of his death; and although all of them were at the time far away from their homes, on their episcopal visitations, and had to travel over difficult roads, yet such was the love, respect and veneration which they entertained for him that they strained every point to be present at his funeral, to pay their last homage to their noble and kind-hearted friend.

St. Ninian's Cathedral was skillfully draped and well prepared for the occasion. The services for the dead began at 9 a. m. A Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Bishop Cameron, assisted by the Very Rev. Neil McLeod as Archdeacon, Rev. Canon Power and Rev. Fr. Martell as Deacon and Subdeacon, and Rev. Canon Murphy as Grand Master of Cereemonies. In the Sanctuary were also present, Most Rev. Michael Hannan, Archbishop of Halifax; Rt. Rev. Peter McLoiye, Bishop of Charlottetown; Rt. Rev. Dr. Rogers, Bishop of Chatham; Very Rev. Monsignor Trein, of New Orleans, Domestic Prelate to His Holiness; Very Rev. James McDonald and Dr. Chaisson, of Charlottetown; Revs. Canon Cernody and Fr. Kearns, of Halifax; Rev. Fr. Morrissey, of Chatham; Revs. W. B. McLeod, J. V. McDonald, H. Gerrier, R. McDonald, Andrew McGillivray, R. McGillivray, H. Gillis, W. Chisholm, Dr. McGrover, J. Obisholm, M. Tompkins, W. LeBlanc, A. McKenzie, J. Grant, A. E. McGillivray, P. Wiset, Dr. Angus Cameron, Dr. Alexander Chisholm, James Fraser, James Quinn, Donald Cameron, Roderick McDonald, Wm. McPherson, D. J. McIntosh, F. Broussard, T. Richard, M. A. McPherson, M. Laffin, Dr. Joseph Quinn, Wm. B. McDonald, and E. Fougerson, of the Diocese of Arichat.

After Mass the Rev. R. McGillivray, P. P. of St. Joseph's, delivered a most beautiful and touching panegyric on the life and labors of the deceased prelate. During the sermon no one could help wondering how deeply the audience felt and sustained the loss of him who was so dear, so much esteemed and so loved by them. It did not, in this vicinity, require any public demonstration to show the deep hold which Archbishop McKinnon's signal merits had taken of the affections of the people; but the congregation on Tuesday showed to the stranger that the services of the great prelate were treasured up in the popular heart. Our thanks are due to the concourse which assembled and to the thought which came uppermost as we watched the solemn pageant on Tuesday was, that the illustrious dead was as much cherished abroad as at home.

His Lordship the Bishop of Arichat, accompanied by the Rev. Neil McLeod, P. P. of St. Joseph's, here yesterday morning on a visit to the U. States. We understand that his Lordship will be absent for about three weeks.

Professor Henry How, D.C.L., who for many years past filled the chair of chemistry at King's College, Windsor, died yesterday (Sunday) morning; he had been failing in health for some time past. Professor How spent twenty-five years in this country, in connection with King's College, coming here from Glasgow. He was an able educationalist, and his death will be deeply regretted.

It is said that the negotiations on long pending between Germany and the Pope have been broken off, but that negotiations have been opened on a different basis. We are not told what this means, but every one must know that the Catholic Church need expect the justice or fair play from Bismarck. It was said that the Belgian Government sent one of their number to treat directly with the Pope for a settlement of the troubles created by the party now in power in that country. The story was very improbable and it has been contradicted. The Government and those who support it are bitterly hostile to Christianity, and they are not prepared to make any proposition of which they could expect the Pope to approve. The story that the Belgian Bishops have applied to the Pope for definite and positive instructions as to the course they should pursue in the present circumstances is also most improbable.—Freeman.

There are not more than 228 Catholic clerical parishes, chaplains, directors, and professors of seminaries, etc., vacant in the archdiocese of Freiburg, Germany. In other words, the number of priests in the archdiocese is less by 228 than its normal strength.

The number of convents suppressed by the law in Italy has been 4,954. Though impossible to state exactly the number composing the communities of each, the result of official inquiry for above 3,000 of those religious houses shows that they were inhabited by 23,959 nuns, and by 29,863 monks. They enjoyed a lawful income amounting to 24,618,618 francs, derived from the lands and estates belonging to the communities, and the rents paid to them thereon, as well as from the products of their industry and the economy of their own lives. No wonder that the Government looked with an evil eye on such thriving communities and on the 63,822 religious, who seemed to it a useless portion of its population, and no doubt it was thought quite a meritorious act to confiscate such property, though unlawfully, for better means and ends, such as for instance, making Rome a new city, and a city, with as many theatres as she formerly possessed churches and convents.

LY CABLE.
London, Sept. 26.—In this country the feeling among the farmers is so deeply seated that consequences of a most serious character are to be expected. Within a few days very large meetings have been held in Ireland, and the expression of feeling on the part of the people (to the extent of 100,000) has been the result of the all their claims were granted, as unmistakably manifest. Yesterday a great tenants' right meeting was held in Linstowell, at which 15,000 persons were present. One of the speakers was Sir Robert Bismarck, of County Kerry. At this meeting the farmers reiterated their purpose to refuse payment of any rent whatever until the landlords acceded to the terms which the tenants demanded; and which, in their opinion, were only just and reasonable, or until Parliament should pass a statute which should secure to them rights which they now demand.

London, Sept. 25.—Latest despatches from Simsbahad intelligence that General Roberts, commanding one of the British columns in Afghanistan, has completed his commissary and transport arrangements, and the advance on Kabul will commence without delay. Col. Baker will attack Kuski, a point about 40 miles off from Kabul. No confidence is placed in the Afghans, and military preparations will go on without reference to any action that Yakob Khan may take. General Roberts will be supported by a reserve of 4,000 men, under Generals Gordon and Doughty, holding Karam Valley and maintaining communication between the advancing forces and northwestern India. The influence of Asia at Kabul is said to be constantly more apparent. A detachment from the Viceroy of India, the Afghans are concentrating at Kuski. The line of communication in the Karam and Khyber valleys has been strengthened by considerable reinforcements and the various posts fortified in view of the possibility of local trouble.

Cabul is in a state of anarchy, the rebels holding entire control of the city, and having closed the gates. The Afghans has fled to Kuski.

SPECIAL NOTICES.
Rheumatism is the most painful and most troublesome disease that afflicts humanity. It comes when we least expect it and when we have no time to be interferred by it. The only reliable remedy that we ever found in Johnson's Rheumatism Linctus.

Nearly all diseases that afflict humanity originate in the stomach, liver, or bowels, and might be prevented if people would use a little common sense; but they will not. They rather take PAIN'S Purgative Pills, because one is a dose.

This is to certify that I have been troubled for four years with a bad Cough, Costiveness, and a great deal of the time of the time unable to work by coughing and raising. Consulted several doctors, and they pronounced me in the last stage of Consumption, having pain and soreness of the lungs. I have tried several doctors, but with no success, until I fell in with a friend who advised me to try your medicine. After I had taken a few bottles of your No. 1 BITTERS and No. 2 SIZUP my cough stopped, appetite returned, bowels became regular, and now I feel quite well, and would recommend it to every person suffering, as I feel that is by your medicine and the blessing of God that I am now alive.
