

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN YOUR EMPLOYER.

(By John A. Howland, in Chicago Sunday Tribune.) I've just lost a mighty good boy out of my office and I'm sore, was the remark made to me some time ago by the head of a business capitalized for millions of dollars. Only that I had knowledge of the man and his point of view the statement would have seemed incredible. Here was a man of business, with the care of millions of money and thousands of employees, troubled because a youngster barely out of school quit his office. One young man just out of his teens troubling this white haired millionaire to the extent of his introducing the topic to me.

How to Know a Mad Dog.

Hydrophobia is in reality so rare and so terrifying that its symptoms and treatment are little understood. As a matter of fact, the commonly accepted expression of madness in a dog is often misleading. The real mad dog does not shun water, as it is said. On the contrary, mad dogs often rush to the water and drink eagerly, if they are able to swallow. The mad dog does not frolic at the mouth. It does not run amuck, snapping at everything in its path. What, then, are the indications of the mad dog? To those familiar with a given dog the surest symptom and the one which should excite closest attention is a distinct and unaccountable change in the dog's disposition—a staid dog becoming excited and a frisky one dull. That condition does not necessarily mean rabies, but it is suspicious, and if, in addition, the dog has trouble in swallowing—as though it seemed to have a bone in its throat—beware! That dog should be instantly tied up, because if it be rabid it takes but a day or two for ferocious instincts to develop. The unmistakable evidence, however, is a dog with rabies is the sticky, whitish saliva which covers the teeth and shows on the drawn lips. The eyes glare and are red; the dog has paroxysms of running fury, during which it barks hoarsely, with alternate periods of temporary exhaustion.

MRS. FRANK STROEBE

A Remarkable Recovery.

Mrs. Frank Stroebe, R. F. D. 1, Appleton, Wis., writes: "I began using Peruna a few weeks ago, when my health and strength were all gone, and I was nothing but a nervous wreck, could not sleep, eat or rest properly, and felt no desire to live. Peruna made me look at life in a different light, as I began to regain my lost strength. I certainly think Peruna is without a rival as a tonic and strength builder."

Her Newspaper Acquaintance.

Among the guests at a fashionable New York reception was a recently appointed young editor of one of the dailies, who thought extremely well of himself. He received an introduction to the thirteen-year-old daughter of his hostess. "And how do you like newspaper men?" he asked the little maid in a most condescending tone of voice. "I don't know," she replied artlessly; "the only one I know is the one who brings our paper every morning."—Lippincott's.

Watering Flower Beds.

If the soil is good, stiff loam and you have frequent showers you do not need to supply any water. If your soil is sandy and the weather dry, it is beneficial to water every day. Geraniums seldom need watering when growing in good garden soil; with much water they grow too much and flower sparsely. Cannas require rich soil and plenty of water. Coleus and plants of this character do not require much water. For them and geraniums we prefer frequent hoeing to watering.

Nature's Mat.

Effie, on her first visit to the country, saw a number of chickens from the front porch of a farm house. The child industriously scratched around like a hen and turned and ran to her mother. "Oh, mother," she cried, excitedly, "come out on the porch and see the chickens wiping their feet on the grass."—Harper's Weekly.

HUSBAND AND SON CURED

A Mother's Praise of Zam-Buk

Oakwood, Victoria.

Dear Sirs,—I have great pleasure in stating that Zam-Buk cured my husband of barber's rash with twice rubbing. It also cured my little boy of a dreadfully itchy skin eruption. I know of several other cures it has effected and I cannot speak too highly of it. I am sure if people once try it they will always use it. Yours truly, R. SAVILLE.

Zam-Buk is healing, soothing and anti-septic.

It quickly heals wounds and skin troubles. Certain cure for piles. Sold by all druggists and stores, 50c. a box, 3 for $1.25.

The "Soo" is an Ancient Place.

The summer visitor who sails up the Great Lakes in a magnificent passenger steamer which joins the procession of vessels that crowds through the locks of the "Soo," can hardly realize that this modern-looking town is so closely associated with the traditions of frontier life. The shores of the river and the lower end of Lake Superior are largely peopled with Indians and half-breeds who cling to their tribal customs. They bring their canoe loads of wild game and other novelties for sale, and during the summer are a picturesque feature of street life at the "Soo." The visitor who sees a group of these natives, and then runs across perhaps two or three dog teams hitched to little gigs and wagons, waiting outside the stores while their owners are shopping, is impressed with the curious mixture of the past and present which is to be found in this Michigan town.—From The Outing Magazine for July.

Ventilating the Bedroom.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, in the American Magazine, gives the following advice about the bed and bedroom: The bedroom should be well ventilated. All windows should be open from the top at least one, and better two or three feet, so that a gentle current of air can be felt blowing across the face. "Night air," as Florence Nightingale pithily remarked, "is all the air there is to breathe at night." It is just as pure and as wholesome to breathe as day air.

Mira SKIN SOAP

Study Them: Don't Kill!

Instead of shooting the birds, swooping at the swallows, and pinching the tiny life out of the butterfly, we were to watch any one of these creatures on a summer day, the day would pass like an hour, so packed with exciting experience it would seem. Through what mysterious coverts of the woodland, into what haunted under-world of tangled banks and hidden ditches and secret passages the snake would show us the way; and we should have strange hearts if, as we thus watched it through its mysterious day, we did not find our dislike of the clever little creature dying away, and even changing into a deep tenderness toward the small, self-reliant life, so lonely a speck of existence in so vast a world.—Success.

"Oh, dear, will you look at it again?"

sighed Mrs. Howard Newcome in an ecstasy of bliss. "Isn't it magnificent? Turn this way now. A side glance brings out the traditional beauty, I have never seen anything so perfectly exquisite. Dear, do come over here and look at it from this view. One would never believe that such a lovely thing existed in the world. The perspective is simply grand. How inspiring and noble. Here is another view from the right. Doesn't it show off even to better advantage? I am simply entranced with admiration." What is Mrs. Newcome looking at? Some masterpiece in a picture gallery?

No, indeed. It is an old kitchen chair

she purchased at a second-hand store, which she thinks is a "genuine antique."—From the June Bohemian.

Hard on New England.

A New England clergyman was taking breakfast one Sunday morning in a hotel in a little western town. A rough old fellow across the table called over to him: "Goin' to the races, stranger?" The clergyman replied: "I don't expect to." "Goin' to the ball game?" "No." "Well, where are you goin'?" "I'm going to church."

"Where do you come from?"

"New England."

"Oh, that explains it! That's where they keep the Sabbath and every other blamed thing they can lay their hands on." This was an overemphasized tribute to New England's overemphasized thrift.—Applenton's.

JAVELIN GUN.

Instrument to Bring Painless Death

to Animals.

Henry Bergh, treasurer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, announced that he had perfected an instrument to render death instantaneous and practically painless to animals slaughtered for food. A test of Mr. Bergh's device, says the New York World, was made in the ambulance house of the S. P. C. A., No. 111 East Twenty-second street. It is a pneumatic instrument looking like a fireman's hose and nozzle. But instead of water, it hurled a javelin with such force as to penetrate an inch oak plank. It will fire the javelin fifty times a minute.

An experiment will be made on a steer at a local abattoir.

The cylinder

containing the javelin is mounted on a swivel, like a machine gun. The operator stands six feet from the animal to be killed, the muzzle of the gun projects within three feet of the animal's head, and the point of the javelin penetrates the brain instantly.

The Land of Bananas.

At the meeting of the ministers of the Methodist Church at Wesley Hall

recently, says the Philadelphia Telegraph, one of the brethren who had recently visited Jamaica, told some wonderful tales of that island of lovely climate and monstrous tarantulas. The men are of no account, he said, and the women do all the work. Within a short distance of Port Antonio are 30,

000 acres of land devoted to banana growing, and on them were grown last year 11,000,000 bunches, valued at more than $4,000,000. The women put these bananas on the boats of the company which controls the trade from Sunday

to Thursday and work night and day.

They earn from $3 to $4 a week, which they regularly spend during the remain-
