Terrible Scene.

A MURDERER BEHEADED BY THE HANGMAN'S ROPE.

The San Francisco Chronicle contains a full account of the execution of Marshall Martin, for complicity in the murder of Valentine Eschler, in November. We quote that portion of the account after Martin had left the jail to proceed to the scene of the execution:

IN SIGHT OF THE GALLOWS.

He displayed not the slightest tremor or nervousness, but walked up the steps with very little assistance.—Martin was placed in a chair while the Sheriff read the concluding portion of the death warrant. Dr. Hertel then offered up a fervent prayer, and at its conclusion Martin was requested to stand on the trap. As he did so, he said:

GENTLEMEN: I want you all to understand that I am here to die; but I am an innocent man. I don't deserve this. The woman that caused me to do this deserves death a thousand times more than I do.—That is all I have to say.

Straps were then securely adjusted about the limbs, the cap drawn over the head, the fatal noose fixed about his neck—the whole not occupying half a minute. An instant more the arm of the Sheriff went up, a man in the rear cut the rope which held the lever in place, the trap gave way, and the body came down with terrible force.

A HORRIBLE SPECTACLE.

The scene which followed almost beggars description. The body shot straight downward. The rope stretched with a sudden, elastic-like spring, the black cap flew into the air at least eight feet, and spattering the blood in great spots over the rope, the white-washed wall, the trap, the chair in which the doomed man sat and the Sheriff's boots, it rolled away in one corner of the enclosure. The body of the poor man fell to the ground with a great thud, and two red, geyser-like jets spurted up from the neck and fell down on the ground in torrents. A closer look, and then the horror-stricken faces of the spectators showed that the awful nature of the occurence had burst upon them. The old man's head had actually been jerked from his body, and was even then lying in the black cap where it had rolled in the corner. The headless trunk lay weltering in the blood which poured from the neck. Not a word was spoken. After the first thrill of horror strong men turned away, sickened at the spectacle. The faces on the platform were blanched and ghastly. The Sheriff was as white as chalk, but he was cool and collected, and did much to inspire those around him.

THE SEVERED HEAD.

Dr. Holbrook, who was present, first emptied the black cap and its sickening contents. He lifted the cap at the top, and the head rolled away over the ground like a cannon ball The rope had severed the neck as cleanly as though it had been done with a knife. The vertebra had actually been pulled away from what the doctor called the atlas. The larynx, the arteries, tendons were all torn apart, the latter only showing straggling ends. Death, it is hardly necessary to state, was instantaneous. From the time the headless trunk struck the ground there was not even a quiver of the little finger. The body lay like a lump of lead. The horrible remains were at once placed in a coffin and hidden from sight.

THE CAUSE OF THE FRIGHTFUL MISHAP.

No blame is attributable to Sheriff Ivory for this terrible mishap.—The rope was adjusted for a fall of six feet, and it was said that this was no more than is usually given. Dr. Holbrook, who made a critical examination of the remains, testified before the Coroner's jury, later in the day, that, taking into consideration the physical condition of the man—his soft, flabby fat, and the weak condition of his muscular system—it was not at all singular that his neck should give way.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—C. J. Brydges is appointed Chairman of the Intercolonial Railway Board.

Ministerial papers are publishing a memoir of the Red River rebellion, written by Riel, in which he justifies every act of the rebels, especially the murder of Scott. He claims that the late Ministry and Lord Lisgar promised him an amnesty. The publication of the memoir is intended to pave the way for Mackenzie to secure an amnesty for Riel, as the Quebec members repeat the statement that Mackenzie is pledged to do so. He will do so under pretence that a pledge was given by the previous Government, and he cannot break it. No such pledge could have been given, as only the British Government has the power to give it.—Tribune.

Brandy distilled from sawdust is one of the latest triumphs of science.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam has been placed, by the common consent of mankind, at the head of all remedies for disorders of the Throat and Lungs, so prevalent in this ever-changing climate. It has saved thousands from falling a sacrifice to a neglected cough and into an early grave, a fact attested to by myriads who have used it. It never fails to relieve the sufferers from a distressing cough, and in all cases to effect a complete cure. Persons who have only taken a slight cold, and who are unable to procure their natural rest from a hacking cough, will, by this Balsam enjoy a refreshing sleep through the means of this invaluable and life sustaining preparation.

In the spring of the year, Catarrh or Horse-Ail is very prevalent. In order to cure it quickly, bathe the throat will with Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. It will cause a free discharge at the nostrils, and by its use the animal will rapidly recover. It should be kept by every owner of a horse as it embraces every attribute required in a Liniment, and is the best known eradicator of all painful swellings.

Dr. Wilson's Family Anti-Bilious and preserving Pills are celebrated as a safe and speedy remedy for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, etc., etc. By their salutary action on Bile Acidity of the Stomach they promote and purify the secretions of the Kidneys, and establish for life the healthy action of those parts.

Horses are as liable to indisposition as a man, and if he is overworked needs care and medicine. How many times we see a horse worth two hundred dollars apparently broken down by excessive work. "Each particular hair stands on end, and with head drooping down he drags his weary limbs along." The functions of his body are more or less obstructed—in other words he is out of condition. What shall we do! Give Clark's Derby Condition Powders, the universally approved English Remedy, and we have no hesitation in saying his feebleness will soon disappear before a course of those admirable powders.

Diseases of the Skin.

Diseases of the skin although they are as a rule but little dangerous, yet add much to the sum of human misery. How quickly is the feeling of pity in our breast stirred by those few words in Scripture history "The dogs came and licked his sores." What more deplorable condition can a human being be in than this, and yet we may judge from the rest of the narrative "it came to pass that Lazarus died;" that it was in process of time and not directly from his sores that Lazarus death came. Skin diseases, for their name is legion, all spring from impurity of the blood. The skin is the safety valve, through which these impurities pass out, when the natural emunctories are so clogged, as not to perform their office properly of eliminating the "materies morbi" from the blood.

By recognizing this fact, we see how it is that WILSON'S TONIC SARSAPARILLIAN ELIXIR prevents these diseases from forming or cures them when formed.

By cleansing out the internal emunctories, stimulating the healthy process, by which they drain these impurities from the blood, the Elixir prevents these diseases because it leaves NO POISON IN THE BLOOD for the skin to throw off, and where the disease is already formed it cures by cutting off the internal supplies.
