FIRST FAIR DEFIED RAIN

And Pulled Out About Even In Its Finances.

High Class Was the South Wentworth Feature.

But the Races and Special Evenis Were Cancelled.

The weather vesterday certainly was dash of cold water upon the hopes of the directors of the South Wentworth Fair. They had arranged a special programme for last evening, and were sorely disappointed when the rain did not show any sign of abating. Although show any sigil of abating. Although some of the exhibits were not very large every person who visited the fair was astonished at the extra good quality of everything, and the judges stated that in some instances it was hard to know to whom to award the prizes. As soon as the judges had completed their work the exhibitors began packing up, and at 6 o'clock the fair was over.

On account of the track being so very muddy the racing events were all cancelled except the jumping and saddle classes, which resulted as follows:

Best performance over three jumps—S

Thompson, 1; Pit, Wm. Pettit, 2.
Saddle race—S. Thompson, 1 and 2.
There were over one hundred entries in the horse classes, which included an extra fine lot of carriage horses.
The cattle, which were judged by Dan
Reed, M. P. P., consisted mainly of Ayrshires and grades

Among the poultry, J. E. Peart was the winner of a large number of prizes.

He had an exceptional fine lot of brown

Leghorn chicks.

The dairy products, which consisted mostly of bread and butter, were very good. A large loaf of fancy bread exhibited by Miss M. Vanmere attracted mostly of bread and butter, were very good. A large loaf of fancy bread ex-hibited by Miss M. Vanmere attracted much attention.

The plants and flowers formed an attractive part of the exhibition display. The hanging baskets shown by Marshall Bros. were especially good.

Bros. were especially good.

There was a unanimous feeling that the leading feature of the fair was found in the domestic manufactures and ladies' work exhibits. All this was excellent, and the ten large quilts on exhibition were very good specimens of home work. and did great credit to the ladies of the fair.

Quality was the most important feae, every one of them was good, and ke well for home talent. tanley Mills and the Baynes Carriage had fine exhibits of carriages and

Co. had fine exhibits of carriages and hardware.

Too much cannot be said in regard to the excellent manner in which Secretary George Henderson conducted his part of the exhibition. He was satisfied that if it had not rained an exceptionally large crowd would have been present. In spite of the disadvantage caused by the weather, he expects the receipts will fully cover the outlay.

The efficent staff of officers was composed of:

Second Vice-President—W.m. Kennedy. Second Vice-President—I. Geldes. Secretary-Treasurer—G. G. Henderson. Directors—Jos. Harrington, J. H. Dickenson, jun., P. Tregunno, H. Bush. C. M. Hildreth, E. J. Mahoney, Dr. E. Whitworth, Murray Neil, George Nichol, Jun.

HIS CHOICE. *
A Pitsburg millionaire said at a dinner:

"I lunched with Sir Thomas Liptor at the Ghebireh palace, in Cairo, just before he set out for his tea plantation in Ceylon, where the ex-Empress Eu-genie was to visit him. When the coffee came on I opened my gold case and offered Sir Thomas a beautiful aromatic cigarette frosh from the factory down the street.

AN UNCERTAIN PROPOSITION.

AN UNCERTAIN PROPOSITION.

Tyrus Townsend Brady, the author and clergyman, told at a dinner in Tole-do a story about charity.

"A millionaire." said Dr. Brady, "lay dying. He had lived a life of which, as be now looked back on it, he felt none too proud. To the minister at his bed-side he muttered weakly:

"If I leave a hundred thousand dollars or so to the church will my salvation be assured?"

The minister answered cautiously:

"I wouldn't like to be positive, but it's well worth trying."—Washington Post.

WEAKNESS OF NATURE

WEAKNESS OF NATURE.

A physician at a recent meeting of the College of Physicians in Philadelphia told a story illustrating the witty comprehension of a patient of Irish nativity. The physician declared that one of his patients, an Irishman. could not understand why, if one of his arms refused to perform its usual functions, the other should remain normal. "It is the balancing power of nature," explained the physician. "If a man is blind in one eye, nature generally provides additional strength for the remaining eye. When deafness is discovered in one ear, the hearing of the other car becomes unusually acute." "Now that you mention it, Oi belave it's so,' said the patient. "Whin a mon has wan short leg, th' other leg is generally longer."—Judge.
