Holloway's Ointment and Pills, an unfailing Remedy for Scrofulous Sores.—The eldest son of Anthony Barnet, aged 14, of Montreal, was an awful sufferer, with scrofulous sores on his limbs, the parents took him to several doctors, who did all in their power to alleviate him, but he only became worse. A sister of Mr. Barnet, who had been cured of a bad leg by Holloway's Ointment and Pills, took the child under her protection, stating she would try what effect a few weeks' residence with her would do, no sooner had she got him at her own house, than she tried Holloway's Ointment and Pills, they soon caused an improved appearance in the child, and after using them about ten weeks, every symptom of his disorder had vanished like snow, before the sun,—such is the power of these wonderful remedies!! They will also cure all disorders of the skin.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE.
Wednesday, August 22, 1855.

It is all times an agreeable task to congratulate, whatsoever the subject of congratulation may be, but by a conventional tacit agreement among Englishmen and their descendants, the weather is par excellence, a topic that never tires. Our first salutation is "good morning" or "good day," which has given occasion to foreigners to remark, that a fine day in England is such a rarity, that they make it a subject either of thankfulness or of prayer. Our salutation of good morning or good day is either, say they, meant as a sign of mutual rejoicing because the day is fine, or imprecatory, that is, "may it be a good day or a good morning," for the expression is equally in use whether the weather be fair or foul. In the East, among the Arabians and some others, the salutation is, Salam Alicom, "is it peace?" to which the reply is Alicom Salam, "it is peace," and this arises from the hand of the descendants of Ishmael being against every man, and every man's hand being against them; like our "good day," it has become the usual salutation in the crowded city or the desert plain, whether clothed in robes of peace, or armed from head to heel, mais reconns a nos moutons. We intended to congratulate our readers on the fineness of the weather, it is almost impossible to conceive finer. With a glorious bright sun shining directly over us, giving fulness and ripeness to all the fruits of the earth; its extreme ardor is tempered by refreshing breezes, which makes it almost impossible to resist spending the greater part of the day in the open air. This is just the weather for Picnics and Excursions by land or water. The country is looking beautiful, and there is every prospect of a bountiful harvest. We hear some croaking about the weevil, &c., but this is always heard, let the reason be what it will. We should take it kindly of our intelligent readers—and we have many—if some of them would extract from the meteorological notices that have for the last few years appeared in the Royal and Haszard's Gazettes and the Islander, the average of cold and heat, the number of rainy or snowy days, as well as the prevailing winds that blow during the twelve months. It would serve to fill up many a leisure hour or two with an interesting and useful occupation, and afford a valuable page in our Island Statistics. We shall with much pleasure publish the results. We are convinced, that it will turn out, that there are in P. E. Island fewer days in the course of the year, in which a person cannot take healthful exercise in the open air, than in any given portion of either Europe or America.

They say, that "new brooms sweep clean," and one would suppose, that our new officials, the Mayor and Common Councillors—to judge by the constant attendance there has been at the Mayor's Court during the first week of their administration of the police, are no exception to the rule. But the truth we believe is, that they have had no occasion to go in search of business. If they have been sedulously occupied, it is because, that from a conjunction of circumstances, breaches of the peace have been more frequent than they usually are. We trust, however, that they will "sweep clean," leaving no impurities behind them, for they may depend upon it, that dirt begets dirt, as careful housewives say. A case was disposed of on Monday, which we hope, will give the youthful population of the City a lesson, that Constables and Peace Officers are not to be molested in the execution of their duty, or to be insulted and attacked for the faithful discharge of it.
