RED COAT ROBBERS. - One night last week two men wearing red coats were detected while attempting to rob the store of D. Jewett at Zealand station. Their identity is wrapped in mystery as no men from the I. S. C. were absent from barracks and it is supposed they secured the coats in order to allow a lot of mere boys loose on the streets

LOCAL RACES.—William Blake has rented lic cup." the Woodstock trotting park for the afternoon of Oct. 2nd. He will hold races in three classes, viz.: 2:55, 2:35 and a green class open to horses that have never started for money. Entries will close on the 30th inst. and should be sent to William Blake, Woodstock, by that date.

THE NEW CHIEF. - Accompanied by secretary Sampson, Dr. Inch, chief superintendent of education, visited the city schools Tuesday and was warmly greeted by the teachers. By his affable manner and commanding presence, the new chief has already become very popular, and left a very favorable impression among the scholars.

GATE BOXES.—The city authorities are replacing the wooden gate box, on the corner of Queen and Regent streets, with one of brick. There are about one hundred of these boxes throughout the city, and it is the intention to have them all brick thereby saying the expense of repairs necessary or the wood box. The work will be done at odd times till all are finished.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS. - The York county municipal elections will take place on the 5th of Oct. In every parish except Douglas, it is thought, there will be a stiff fight. In Bright there will be four to go before the people: Inch, McKeen, Graham and Bird. Canterbury: Jamieson, Lawson and E. Loundon will offer for choice. Other parishes have not been heard from as vet.

LOOKOUT FOR THEM. — Toronto papers After the service, notice of a congregational spurious ten and twenty-five cent pieces for the election of a minister and moderat have recently been put in circulation. It is said they can easily be detected as the metal is very soft and feels greasy to the touch. All that have been seen so far, the Toronto papers say, have been dated 1891 and lack the letter "M" below the wreath.

The mill was owned by the St. Lawrence lumber company and was managed by Kennedy F. Burns M. P. and his brother. It was a very complete establishment, newly fitted up, and was connected with the Caraquet railway, logs being brought to the mill from distant points along the line. The mill had a capacity for cutting some ten or eleven millions of superficial feet of lumber yearly. It was provided with a very complete equipment for putting out fires, on which its proprietors prided themselves very much but in spite of all that could be done the fire gained the mastery. The mill was insured for $10,000. $6,500 of which is reinsured, and there is $10,000 more insured in another office. There was no insurance on the $30,000

A few minutes past ten on Wednesday norning, a flourish of trumpets from the Artillery band announced the arrival of the governor and party who were to open the show. The party proceeded to the southern end of the building where president Everet in a short speech welcomed Sir Leonard and Lady Tilley, governor Carvell and Lady Carvell, of Prince Edward Island, and other distinguished visitors. President Everett referred to former exhibitions and predicted this would be a greater success. We had hoped, he said, to have a stock and agricultural show as well, but circumstances arose which made it very difficult to do so. To secure the presence of the best stock would have required a prize list, and we were not financially strong enough to afford one, and we therefore had to confine the exhibition to these buildings and grounds The stock exhibit last year, as you know, was on the grounds at Moosepath. It is another matter of great regret that we have not more extended grounds in connection with these buildings. I will now ask you ing, by the Artillery band. to kindly open the exhibition. There was another flourish; of trumpets, and then president Everett said: "I have the honor to introduce Sir Leonard Tilley, lieutenan governor of New Brunswick, who will formerly open the exhibition." Sir Leonard Tilley.

His honor was loudly applauded on rising. He spoke of the necessity of holding annual exhibitions, as they had proved a great benefit to Toronto and the like would follow at St. John. The fairs had not only been a benefit to the farmers but to the tradesmen as well. He said that one ing, City Cornet band merchant at Toronto had told him, that during the progress of the fair he had sold $8,000 worth of goods. He said it was quite justifiable in the local government to extend aid to a show at Fredericton this year which would embrace both agricultural and manufactured articles. He referred to the visit of col. Goldie, the British cavalry officer sent to inspect the horses shown as to their suitability for war mounts, and said that he hoped that he would be able to make a successful report to his government on the condition of our horses for military purposes. Lady Tilley then applied her hand to the lever and the machinery of the exhibition of 1891 was set in motion. The Horse Parade was a complete failure. The horses were attached to all kinds of conveyances, from a tative of the London horse guards, inspected

Several samples of anthracite and bituminous coal occupy a promine place in the exhibit. The coal is of the very best quality, and was mined in British Columbia. Enormous quantities of coal are taken annually from the British Columbia mines, and the C. P. R. company afford every facility for its conveyance to the different markets in which it is sold. The wheat and grain shown are said to be of most excellent quality, while the different wild grasses surpass anything ever seen in this section of the country. A sample of wild hops is shown; they are used largely in the manufacture of been throughout the United States.
