Notes From Belleoram.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—One often hears it remarked these days that the day of free labor is done, but it does not seem to apply to Belleoram just yet as the following will clearly show. After the contractor had done with the new school here the painting of it became the next consideration; this meant a considerable addition to the already heavy cost of the building if payment for the required labor were to be included. The committee, therefore, in order to make the expenses as light as possible decided to give free labor a trial. For more than a week after this it seemed as if their effort was going to prove futile, but the sky cleared and the gloom disappeared when the following gentlemen came forward with the fixed resolve that the painting should be done without cost for labor, even supposing they were obliged to do the whole of it themselves, namely:—Mr. Joseph Rose, a prominent business man, Mr. Philip Rose, Harvey & Co.'s popular and obliging storekeeper; Mr. Skeans, their able and trusty book-keeper; Mr. William Clancy, of St. John's, their energetic and sprightly fish-culler, and another prominent gentleman, "Anonymous" for the present. For three weeks they worked at it willingly, good humouredly and determinedly putting in from four to ten hours daily until all the interior of the upstairs portion of the building, the staircases and the hallways had received two coats of paint. The two playrooms may come in for their share a little later on. Of course we don't mean to give the above named gentlemen all the credit for these most pleasing results, as the persons mentioned below came forward and put in from four to twenty hours each, which in the aggregate means a great deal. The names of these gentlemen are:—Messrs. John T. Cluett, John Cluett, Allen M. Cluett, Thomas Drakes, Albert Tulk, Alfred T. Cluett, Walter Cluett, Levi T. Cluett, Eli Strowbridge, Benjamin Keeping, Geo. Keeping, Geo. Keeping, William J. Dicks, Wm. Henry Dicks, Joseph Brinton, Capt. John Romkey and Allen Rose. The rooms, now in their beautifully blended colours, present a most delightful appearance which reflects most creditably on the exquisite taste of the able foreman.

The Chairman of the Committee, Rev. A. E. Tulk, B.A., was both surprised and delighted when he arrived from his regular tour of his extensive parish yesterday to find the painting business successfully disposed of, only a little by the way of finishing touches remaining to be done. He expressed himself as more than thankful to one and all who had participated in the noble work. The people of this parish should be more than grateful to Providence for their having such a man as the Rev. A. E. Tulk to minister to and look after their spiritual welfare. His hard work and steady perseverance during his two years in the Mission have been crowned with success. The people realize they are better looked after than ever before and they show their appreciation by a corresponding slackening of their purse strings.

The Church Women's Association is doing gigantic work here. Since its establishment, about six years ago, it has turned over somewhere about three thousand dollars. Mrs. B. Keeping is an ideal "resident" and is very popular among the officers and members. They had a parish tea and dance in the Orange Hall on the nights of Wednesday and Thursday of this week with the usual excellent results. They realized $73.00. It is surprising to notice what zeal and energy these women display and how freely they give of their substance for the benefit of the cause.

Mr. E. J. Burdock's schooner Little B. Hible, Capt. J. B. Dicks, sailed for Gloucester a short time ago laden with salt bulk fish from Harvey & Co. and got caught in a storm and received a hard battering. She managed to reach Lunenburg, but in such a disabled condition that it is feared that her cargo will have to be transhipped and taken to its destination on some other vessel.

The schooner John Harvey, Capt. William Kearley, is now loading at Harvey & Co.'s with salt bulk fish for the Gloucester trade; she will be ready to sail on Monday.

Mr. E. J. Burdock's schooner Little B. Hible, Capt. J. B. Dicks, sailed for Gloucester a short time ago laden with salt bulk fish from Harvey & Co. and got caught in a storm and received a hard battering. She managed to reach Lunenburg, but in such a disabled condition that it is feared that her cargo will have to be transhipped and taken to its destination on some other vessel.

Two children died of measles here lately, an infant son of Mr. Samuel Lee, and an infant daughter of Mr. Wm. Dicks, adopted by Mr. Uriah Critchell.

Mr. James Kearley's many friends are sorry to learn that he has been indisposed for some time, and his nose, on which he had an operation performed some few weeks ago at Halifax, is again causing him pain. They hope that it's only the result of a cold and that it will speedily return to its normal condition.

The schooners Gay Gordon, Capt. Marshall, and the Mattie, Capt. Randall, arrived here to-day. Both vessels took salt bulk fish to Gloucester from Harvey & Co. here, and each brought back a full load of coal, the Gay Gordon, hard, and the Mattie, soft.

It has been blowing a gale here all day to-day. About noon Mr. E. J. Burdock's new store, built on the beach last summer, was blown off its foundation into the sea.

Thanking you in advance for inserting the above in your much appreciated paper, we remain Yours very respectfully, Belleoram, Nov. 25, 1911. G. C.

Address

To Miss Maggie Doody, Teacher, St. Joseph's School, Bonavista.

Dear Miss Doody:—

We cannot permit you to go from among us without evidencing in some slight way the esteem and respect in which you have always been held in this community. Your determination to make henceforth the great American Republic the scene of your labours has come to us all as a real and positive loss.

Though your manifold good works have been unobtrusive we are not without realizing the many benefits that have accrued to the rising generation through your untiring efforts in their behalf. Not only during the hours given daily to classes have they profited by your devotion to their interests, your whole life has been to them a worthy example and let us hope an inspiration.

Nor are we unmindful of the great and lively interest you have ever evinced in work pertaining to the Church and the Spiritual instruction you were ever ready to impart to those under your care.

We very much regret that you have decided to leave dear Old Terra Nova, and though many ties and friendships may be formed in your new home we doubt if hearts more loyal and true be found than those you leave behind.

We beg to offer you, on this the eve of your departure, the accompanying purse of gold as a tangible evidence of our unfeigned appreciation.

In conclusion we wish you God-speed in your new sphere of usefulness, and wherever your lot may be cast we hope you will reserve in some corner of your heart a little green spot for those you leave behind in Bonavista.

Rev. Joseph Murphy, Nicholas Ryan, J. T. McCarthy, Clarence McDonald, Michael Hartley, and others.

The McGill Campaign.

Record Established in Collecting Funds for McGill.

Monday, the 27th ult., saw the opening of what has proved to be the greatest of its kind on record—a campaign of the city of Montreal to collect one million dollars for the benefit of McGill University. Throughout the whole of its existence McGill has been sustained through the beneficence of private individuals—having neither a private nor a public revenue of its own. Affairs had arrived at that stage when the loyal friends of the University had decided to make a whirlwind campaign of the citizens of Montreal, and "right" generously have these latter contributed. Committees were organized and decided to canvass the city for five days, Monday to Friday. Every day they met at luncheon and reported progress. The first gift was one of $100,000 on condition that the million be raised. Later a second gift of $100,000 was given on condition that the final amount total to over one and one-half million.

Excitement was intense and everybody strained to aid "Old McGill." On Friday, noon, it was announced that the million mark had been reached and that the amount was very near a million and half. The students immediately held a meeting and that afternoon they canvassed the city from door to door and succeeded in raising over $29,000.

The first official announcement came out at 9.30 on Thursday night in the "McGill Daily" extra and it was known that the total was $1,528,965. At the final meeting of the committees many speeches were made expressing gratitude to the citizens and friends who had so willingly rallied to the rescue of our "Alma Mater, Old McGill." Below is statement of amounts:—

Monday	$233,675
Tuesday	225,578
Wednesday	214,765
Thursday	259,360
Friday	358,914

IT WAS STONE IN THE BLADDER GIN PILLS PASSED IT

"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called inflammation of the Bladder—intense pains in the back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor. My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once, and the attacks were less frequent."

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I was laid low, how I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me. JOHN HERMAN, Hamilton, Ont.
