the Secretary the General Report of the Citizens Committee summarising the most important of their findings in the examination they have been conducting into the Municipal Charter of the late Commission. We publish a first instalment of it to-day, and reserve comment until the whole of it has been published and the intention collection in aid of the cemeteries of the Legislature in regard to the were taken up and exceeded the completed draft is made known. That amount collected last year by severis the matter that is of importance at al dollars. The amounts are: shelving the act for another year, aphave time to discuss it adequately. Mount Cashel ..... 13.60 It does not need time to discuss it Further, it would be a misfortune if it attempted to do so in any detail, for it is a special matter which is hardly within the province of the House. The general principles being admitted, the sections are nothing more than a number of rules and regulations, any of which can be repealed next year if found unsuitable. The only way in which the suitability of the principles themselves can be tested (and we Ford, S. and Mrs. Penshaw, Miss S. arated from, and had not the remotest radical departure from those existing) is by actual experience of them. Anto see the charter in any better condition than at present: we need to see how it works. In any case the bill bin, C. Nolan, H. Matthews, W. Heashould certainly come before the ley, M. J. Gillis, J. Richards, R. Kean, House. If some grave objection is A. G. Smith, Geo. and Mrs. Strickland, discussed there, it can be postponed; H. Lowe, Jas. Simpson, J. C. Robertotherwise it should be passed. Mr. son, G. H. Coles, H. Forsey, Wm. Pa-Gosling's letter discloses a particular tey, R. Warford, Chas. Yetman, Mrs. reason, in addition to the general J. H. Matthews, H. Hurst, J. W. Morone, why the act should come into ris. force. We join with the News in opposing a suggestion which would be illogical, possibly injurious and a reflection upon the men who have given so much time and thought to this mat-

TO AVENGE BROTHER.

Among those to enlist yesterday with the 7th Brigade Canadian Siege Artillery Draft was Edgar Cowan who gave as his reason for going to At Rossleys, the front that he wanted to avenge the death of his brother, Pte. George Tremaine Cowan, who was killed in action whilst serving in France. The 7th Brigade draft is rapidly approaching its full complement, and expects to leave any time for England .-- Montreal Star, June 2.

The Flag Incident

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,-Our attention has been drawn to statements in the pres which have coupled the tearing down of the flag at Twillingate with the pit parently because the House may not St. Joseph's ..... 24.66 prop investigations which we undertook there on behalf of our client Mr. M. E. Martin. We beg to inform $1,491.96 you that the flag was torn down off the Recruiting Station at that place on the 21st of May; that we did not arrive there until the 24th of May; and that the hearing of the case against one Eli Frost, on the day of which the disturbance occurred in the Twillingate Court room, took place on the 26th of May. You will thus appreciate that Dean, Mrs. J. A. Paddon, E. Munn, J. the flag incident was distinctly sep-
