OUR SUMMER RESORTS.

It is doubtful if any other country on the face of the earth possesses such a variety of summer resorts as our own Ontario. We have a vast country of lake, river and forest, a climate of extreme ranges, and scenery presenting every phase of nature from plain up to picturesque and grand. There would seem to be a native instinct which impels men and women to seek out some retreat farther north as the sun slowly and silently climbs higher into our sky, moving in parallel with him as well as leisure and means will allow. Many, the great majority, have no choice but must stay where circumstances have placed them, grinding like the blind Samson as the mill, some who feel or think that no one else can do their work, and the work must go on; and a vasty larger number who never get one day ahead of the world, whose hard lot it is to toil and pray each day for their daily bread.

W. t. the number who can afford to rest their labors on this continent is larger every year. The present are realizing that it is wisdom to choose themselves to take it. Where the time to get the best satisfaction at shortest notice out of it is a matter of judgment for the individual. Many the most part to find out advertisements of himself.

THOMAS GILLY Islands in the St. Lawrence, occupants, and they are sometimes south of the middle of the lake. The Muskoka and Parry Sound districts have had some cottages and enjoy the comforts of nabobs. The lake region also draws many Americans, but by far the largest numbers are drawn from various parts of Ontario, chiefly from the cities of Toronto and Hamilton. The picturesque islands of the Muskoka lakes are at this season of the year gay with camping parties, whose well-browned hands and faces give an assurance that they are laying up a stock of robust health which will carry them safely through the labors and worries of another year.

Then there are the islands of Georgian Bay, many thousands in number and of all sizes, stretching along the eastern and northern coasts from Malchedah Bay to the Grand Manitoulin. This is an archipelago without an equal in the world, and is hardly less noted for the picturesque of its scenery than for the attractions it offers to lovers of sport. We do not know where else one could hope to get such black bass fishing as in these waters—great grey fellows of three to six pounds who can fight like athletes for their lives. A number of these Georgian Bay islands have been purchased by private parties from the Crown Lands Department and are regularly occupied from two to three months every summer season.

We think, however, that having regard to the future of summer resorts those islands should be reserved from sale, and the leasehold system adopted instead. If a careful survey was made, and the larger islands divided into blocks of suitable size, and a complete book of the archipelago prepared by the officers of the department, thousands of people might be induced to take up camping locations there. This would be doing the world of holiday seekers a service for which they could not fail to be thankful, and there is hardly a doubt of its becoming a source of revenue.

We make the suggestion a present to the Commission, and no one knows better than Mr. Hardy how well life may be enjoyed in the Georgian Bay islands.

Going farther south we have Lake Nipissing and its tributary streams with Lake Temagami, Lake Temiscaming and the upper waters of the Ottawa River, all abounding in fish of various kinds; numerous lakes in the Sudbury region; an extensive coast line along the east and north of Lake Superior; Lake Nipigon and its river, world-famous for clear blue waters and speckled trout; and perhaps the most beautiful lake in America, Lake of the Woods, which affords a charming retreat for our Manitoban brethren.

By and by we shall have Hudson Bay itself, the grand inland sea which washes our Province a distance 700 miles due north of London. The time will doubtless come when busy men of our south country will do their fishing in the cool waters of Hudson Bay, and come back refreshed in mind and body to tell tall stories of sport in high latitude.

But there are many places nearer at hand, and we incline to the opinion that the very best of our summer resorts are within easy reach of the busiest centers in Ontario and neighboring States. There are stretches along the northern shore of Lake Erie which only need to be known to be highly appreciated, especially that portion of the coast lying between Port Stanley and Fort Erie. The prevailing summer winds there are from the southwest, and after crossing 200 miles of warm and moving water they are as pure and balmy as winds can be. It is not every one who can endure the cool breezes of our northern waters, but there are few so delicate that they cannot enjoy the breezes of the Lake Erie north shore. There are at frequent intervals, too, delightful locations for summer cottages, with sand beaches and safe bathing, and already our friends from the other side are finding them out and taking possession of them. Our own holiday-goers ought not to miss the Lake Erie shore.

A PLEA FOR CONSIDERATENESS.

We had occasion a few days ago to refer to the violent and partisan attacks which are being made by unknown correspondents in the columns of the Toronto Mail and the Toronto Empire. These attacks continue to be made by the courtesy of these journals, and it seems likely that they will continue to be made until a certain quality of school teachers and school inspectors take again to their regular vocations at the close of the holidays. It is sometimes said that teachers and inspectors are more in need of a season of rest than men employed in any other profession or calling, as their duties are wearing and exhausting to a degree not experienced by persons otherwise employed. We are inclined to think that there is something in this allegation, and charity leads us to suspect that the ones who are the greatest sufferers from nervous prostration are the "observers," the "teachers" and the "inspectors" who air their grievances against the Minister of Education in the Empire and the Mail. We have read a number of those letters, being impelled thereto by the sense of duty which governs the faithful reviewer of books, and our deliberate opinion is that the writers are the most insane and mindless lot of men to be found in all Ontario. It is simply impossible to find out what those grievance-mongers have to complain of. They write bitterly enough and deprecate vigorously enough to change the school fish-wife; but when it comes to finding a fault it is to be found in the material of moonbeams in a jar. We do not, of course, know who those writers are, and we do not care to know. It has been suggested indeed that the "Teacher," "Observer," "Inspector," and the rest are not many, but one—a mythical realization with many hands and but one poor head—and this seems likely. There is in all the letters such an air of profound inanity and imbecility that the theory of a common origin is at least plausible. We prefer to think that there are not two men in Ontario employed in educational pursuits who can write such drivel against the Minister of Education as is seen day after day in the Mail and the Empire.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

—In traveling it is easy to distinguish between Canadian and American girls. The latter chew gum.

—The first person publicly whipped in America was a Quakeress named Mary Clark, who was given twenty stripes for preaching in Boston in 1657. Women nowadays, if they happen to be mothers or teachers, are more often preached to for whipping.

—At Grand Forks, Dakota, the other night, 500 people paid 50 cents each to witness a fight between a native wild cat and a bull terrier. No doubt they got the worth of their money, as the combat is described as desperate and brutal, and lasting half an hour.

—The Boston Herald in a column article enumerates the symptoms of all sorts of headaches—malaria, neuralgia, congestive, anaemia, nasal and sick headaches—but neglects to state that the cause of most of them is overwork of the brain or stomach, and underwork of the muscles and lungs.

—Miss Philippa Fawcett is quoted by a London correspondent as saying that "the truest compliment will be paid when a girl's success is recognized as quietly as a young man's, with no flourish of trumpets, as if it were a strange thing to find some degree of ability in one sex and a matter of course to find it in the other."

—A householder who kept strict account of family expenses for a period of 26 years says that the most annoying thing about it was the rapidity with which children wear out shoes. "For ten years," he says, "it has taken on an average one pair of shoes per week for the family (of four children), including myself and wife." It would be safe to bet big money, however, that the doctor's bills are in inverse ratio to the shoemaker's account.

—Investigations recently undertaken by a photographic society in Geneva tend to show that the longer a married pair live together harmoniously, the more marked becomes the resemblance between them. On careful inspection of the portraits of 26 old couples, and of an equal number of adult brothers and sisters, it was found that the married people were more like each other than those of the same blood. Considering that there is a general tendency to marry one's opposite in looks and temperament, the statement of the society is a curious comment upon the faculty human beings have for imitating those with whom they are most associated.

—How miserable is the lot of the great! It used to be said of the musician Liszt, that the very coffee grounds left in his cup at the hotel tables were carefully scraped out and preserved as mementoes by his infatuated admirers, and now we hear that the present Pope never leaves his own rooms until they have been swept and dusted, which is done as soon as he rises. He then closes all the doors and windows and takes the keys away with him, and this not because he is concealing some treasure, but he fears a regular trade kept up in scraps of paper and other objects found in his rooms.

—There is more truth in snake stories than there used to be. An exchange prints two columns of "horrible scenes," "palpating rattlers of enormous size," "gaping spotted sides," "series of hisses," "agily spotted folds," "quivering jaws," "horrid gleam of murderous eyes," "glowering over prey," "lightning-like stroke," "burying his fang," "convulsive movements," etc., etc., as related by the native of a snake-haunted ravine to a reporter, the account ending with the words: "The native had lied." It is in the closing assertion that the truth comes in.

—The complaint is made that this old earth has ceased to have any dark corners. Not one of its countries now offers opportunities for the explorer. Even the Dark Continent has become light. If another Stanley should arise there would not be any part of the world sufficiently unknown and mysterious to engage his powers. A writer in the last Century thinks that explorers of the future will be forced to take for their field of study the unknown regions of psychology, philosophy and "natural science," where mere latitude and longitude cannot circumscribe them, and there is no possible chance that their investigations can have an end.

OTHER NEWSPAPERS.

THE GAMBING MANTA.

Philadelphia Ledger.
In one instance, which came within his actual knowledge—cited simply as an example—he found a little girl whose situation appealed to every human sympathy for rescue. The distress of the child was being compelled to live in such degradation, her suffering and actual starvation at times, had been brought to the notice of a charitable family by the mother of the girl and the little girl was taken home by them. The mother, who was comfortably situated, sent to school. The child, who was ward of the child, was yearning to get away from the den where she was living, and from the wretches she was herding with, went to see her. This was in the winter. When the child came home in the evening to her benefactors her little woolen hood and coat, and every warm undergarment she had were gone. Her own mother had stolen them, pawned them for 25 cents and spent the money in lottery tickets! Not for run! That is the vice and crime which not only wrings the tears of millions of dollars every year out of its victims of all grades—bringing many a promising young life to sin and ruin, many a once loved parent's head to the grave in sorrow and humiliation, and even the poor wretches whose only means of living are the charities of benevolent people! That is the game and the infamy of which the Congress of the United States, by reason of its tardy action in failing to enact effective anti-lottery laws, is in danger of making the nation a silent partner!

"A Wonder of Medical Science" may well be applied to Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by the wonderful cures of coughs, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

Druggists—Are you doing anything particular now, James? James—No, sir. "Then you may catch some flies to put on that fly-paper in the window."

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removes corns from one pair of feet without cutting any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

The many remarkable cures Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes are sufficient proof that it does possess peculiar curative powers.

Pimples, boils and parasites eradicated from the system by using Case's Sarsaparilla Bitters. It cleanses the skin, beautifies complexion. 50c. and $1. Sold at Larkwell's.

Riding School Notice.
Mr. Fitch will leave about Sept. 1 to compete at the Elmira horse show. After that his time will be very much taken at the Ladies' College. He will be glad if ladies and gentlemen wanting lessons will in any way assist him. Terms, ten lessons for $12. Telephone 678. J. F. FLETCHER, riding master, London. ywt

Indigestion

It is not only a distressing complaint of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Broadway Centre, Mich.:

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested as the food taken, my stomach refused to receive it. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my stomach refused to receive it. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results.
