Local Market. Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son London, Jan. 23.

WEEKLY REVIEW. Today's dull market closed a week characterized by that feature almost every day. Saturday and Thursday being about the only ones free from it, and when two days are made to bear the weight of a whole week, the week's average must be very small. The chief cause of the dullness was due to small offerings in of the duffness was due to small offerings in almost every line, not even hay being excepted. Thursday and Friday saw a deluge of hay, but hat ended it, and the balance of the week saw Grain came in slow all week, and with the Grain came in slow all week, and with the acception of wheat made a gain of 1c to 2c all around and closed steady at the advance.

Butter was quiet. The local effering was light, but a good deal came in from outside boints and prevented any change in prices.

Eggs were steady; values about the same. Briefly fresh were in great demand at 18c to the and hard to set. the and hard to get.

Poultry quiet; supply equal to demand; 7c and 8c per 1b was paid for turkeys and 40c to 60c a pair for chickens; ducks scarce at 60c to 90c a pair.

Beef quiet at 41c to 5c by the carcass, 5c to 51c by the quarter. Lamb harder to get at 7c to 8c by the quarter. Dressed hogs were active at $4 50 to $4 75 for heavy and $4 80 to $5 25 for choice light weights. Demand was in excess of receipts all weights. Demand was in excess of receipts an weel.

Den and for skins and hides steady and values achanged.

Very ittle tailow coming, and no change in prices; o mand limited.

Apples were the only kind of fruit offered. The demand was good for nice stock, and very dult on poor quality. Sales of Baldwins, pies and Greenings, 50c to 75c per bag, and one or two lots of extra quality brought $1 65 per barrel to export, package free.

Beets, celery and onlons were the only kinds of vegetables that made any kind of a showing. There was almost no potatoes. Prices steady and unchanged.

There was no trade done in seeds owing to no offerings. There is considerable talk going on, but any prices we give are based on a few scattered private deals.

Special to the ADVERTIBER, TORONTO.
TORONTO, Jan. 22.—If anything the market was worse today than it has been hitherto, which is saying a good deal. There was not much buying for Montreal, and the local demand was not much to brag about. Receipts today were 29 carloads, including 500 hogs and 175 sheep and lambs. In butchers' cattle trade was dull again, chiefly the result of continued heavy offerings. Outle a few cattle were left was dull again, chiefly the result of continued heavy offerings. Quite a few cattle were left in the pens at the close, Common cattle would sell hardly at all. There was a pretty poor market all round, in spite of the fact that there were not so many in today; not many are wanted. There were two buyers on the market from Montreal. These gentlemen bought a couple of carloads, and Messrs, Rodgers & Halligan took two more carloads for that market, Prices paid for those were low, mostly from 22 to 3c per lb, only the really choice touching 3c. Taking the market all round the range was from 2c to 3c mostly. In export cattle two bulls were bought at a price in the vicinity of 3c per lb. Better cattle will bring 32c per lb. In stockers and feeders practically nothing was done, and prices are nominal at about 2c to 23c per lb. Shipping sheep were not quite as firm today, and prices remained steady. Dealers are waiting for space. Prices ranged at from 3c per lb for rams up to 31-2c per lb for good exporters. Lambs were firmer, advancing about to 1-2c per lb. In how there was a slightly weaker Lambs were firmer, advancing about to 1-2c per lb. In hogs there was a slightly weaker tone to this line of trade, best fat hogs bringing 4c per lb, weighed off cars. Other kinds are quiet and remain as quoted.

Buffalo Barley Market. BUFFALO. N. Y., Jan. 22.—Barley—There was more inquiry today than for the past week, but the prices were too high. Quoted: No. 1 western, 62c; No. 2 western, 60c; No. 1 Canada. 65c; No. 2, 63c; No. 3 extra, 61c to 61 1-2c; State, 59c to 61c; Chevalier, 63c to 64c.

Mortimer. -It is painful to record the death of James Govenlock, second son of Mrs. Margaret Govenlock, concession 5, West. minster. He died on Thursday, Jan. 17, and was interred in the Pond Mills cemetery on Saturday, Jan. 19. The funeral was very large, as might be expected, as the family is very highly respected. The funeral service was conducted by their pastor, Rev. Thos. Jackson, of Belmont. James was a young man of sterling qualities. He was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and very much esteemed by all who knew him. He will be much missed in the family, in the church, and in society. He was but 22 years of age. Though ailing for some time it was not thought that his case was dangerous. He took very ill on Sunday evening, Jan. 13, and despite the best medical aid, he rapidly grew worse. Drs. McCallum, of London, and Wilson, of St. Thomas, were called in to consult with the family physician, Dr. Cline, but were compelled to pronounce it a case where medical skill was of no avail. The family have the deep sympathy of all in the locality, as it is but a few years since they were called upon to bear the loss of the husband and father, Adam Govenlock, who was a man held in high esteem in the the township. Port Stanley Railway Grab. Since it was announced in the ADVER-TISER that ex-Mayor Essery, Secretary

Coo and their colleagues on the L. and P. S. Railway Board voted themselves some $900 in all for services during last year, there has been much talk in the city. The money was voted at the eleventh hour, and was not included in the balance sheet sent to the new board as the result of last year's proceedings. But early on the tollowing day, with two exceptions, the exmayor and his a sociates promptly presented their checks at the bank and got the money. The exceptions are said to be Mr. F. E. Leonard and Water Commissioner Judd, who have declined the $50 voted them. It is stated today that ex-Mayor Essery has been seen by the city authorities, and asked to refund the $200 of the civic funds accepted by him as president of the board, on the ground that the L. and P. S. Railway Board, being practically a committee of the council, had no right to vote itself reward for civic service. It is also asserted that Mr. Essery indignantly refused to return the money to the civic treasury. There the matter ends for the present.

The New Hill Street Mission. About 200 people gathered at the new Hill Street Methodist Mission tea meeting last evening. The proceeds are to aid in paying off the debt. Tea was served at 6:30 o'clock in the basement, after which the audience adjourned to the body of the church, where the following programme was rendered in an appropriate style: Chairman's address, Rev. E. B. Lanceley; solo, Mrs. Minhir Lok; financial report, Mr. Frank Kern, secretary of the trust board, showing the total cost of the lot and building to be $2,400, all of which has been raised but about $800; instrumental duet, Misses Benson and Winnett; address, ex-Mayor Spencer; solo, Miss Goldsmith; solo, Mr. Skinner; duet, Mrs. Break and Miss Skinner; address, Rev. Mr. Harris. The meeting broke up at 10:15 p.m., all being well pleased with the entertainment and future prospects. This evening at 6 o'cleck the children will be given a tea. Rev. Mr.

Lanceley will tomorrow evening commence a series of special services. Death of Mr. F. S. Clarke. Mr. Francis S. Clarke, the well-known broker and steamship agent, of Richmond street, next door to the ADVERTISER office, died today from the effects of a stroke of paralysis received on Sunday last. Mr. Clarke was 71 years of age and was born near Montreal. He was the only son of an officer in a Canadian regiment and spent a portion of his younger days in Hamilton and in Galt, coming to London about 35 years ago. Deceased was a member of the Church of England, and while his health was good he took an active part in church work. He had been in delicate health for several years, but appeared greatly improved lately. He suffered the stroke at 11 a.m. Sunday and gradually sank. Mr. Clark had been in the brokerage business for about 25 years. He was of a retiring disposition and had always been highly esteemed for his upright, honest business dealings. The family, which consists of the widow, a son, Francis, and two daughters, Bertha and Mary, will have the sympathy of a host of friends. The funeral will take place on Friday from the family residence, 810 Talbot street.

court for London was held in the Court House at noon today before Mr. Justice Meredith. Only one motion was made. In the case of Billingham vs. Neff, tried at the assizes the other day, judgment was given for the plaintiff for $190 and costs. It was an action brought by an infant for damages for removal of certain timbers from lands in the township of Wawanesh. The money was ordered to be paid into court to the credit of the infant. Mr. T. G. Meredith made an application for the rayment to the child's mother of the money in order that she could meet medical expenses incurred by the young one, and for its further maintenance. The order was granted on notice being given to the official guardian. Justice Meredith also gave judgment in the case of T. D. Hodgens, of this city, against the Bow River and other ranch companies. The application to strike out or limit the counter claim, or stay proceedings in the action commenced in the Northwest Territories by the defendants, was refused.

B. B. ALLEN'S DEATH.

A Report that the London Detective Was Not Murdered.

The Government Investigated It-Purely an Accident, It Is Said.

(Toronto World, Jan. 23.)

On Oct. 27, 1893, B. B. Allen, of London,

Ont., a county constable of Middlesex, was found lying dead in the woods at Long Point beside a dead deer. He had been engaged by the lessee of the Long Point reserve to remain there during the hunting season on the watch for poachers. A rumor became bruited about that he had been murdered by some poachers whom he had detected in the act of shooting game. An inquest was held and an open verdict returned to the effect that Allen died from the effects of a gunshot wound, but how or by whose hand the wound was inflicted there was not sufficient evidence to show.

Ever since the death of Allen his father and wife, who reside at London, have held an opinion that he was murdered, an opinion which is not shared by any person in the community, it being generally believed that the constable accidental y met his death while firing at a deer.

The Attorney-General's Department was communicated with, and during the past fortnight Provincial Detective Rogere has been at Long Point investigating all the facts in connection with the case. It is understood that when he mades his report to the Government it will be established beyond contradiction that Allen's death was purely due to accidental causes.

THE HONEY MEN.

Annual Meeting of the Ontario Bee-Keepers' Association.

The President's Address-Not an Encouraging Year-Interesting Papers by Experts-Ontario Government Commended.

STRATFORD, Ont., Jan. 23.-The annual convention of the Ontario Beekeepers' Association opened here in the City Hall yesterday afternoon, President A. Pickett, of Nassagaweya, in the chair. There was a large attendance of honey raisers from all parts of the Province. The president, in a short address, reviewed the work of the past year from the beekeepers' standpoint, which, upon the whole, has been rather discouraging. The bees wintered well and came out in spring with few losses, but the cold and wet weather following drove them back to their hives and compelled them to live on their winter stores, with the result that they were exhausted before the weather became favorable for the gathering of a fresh supply. In consequence many died of starvation. The survivors gathered but little clover honey, and other blooms being cut short by the drought, the result was little more than half a crop. He made feeling reference to the death of the late secretary, Mr. Corneil, and recommended a resolution of sympathy with the bereaved family. He was pleased to notice that their annual meetings were increasing in attendance, and also that the Provincial Government had taken an active interest in promoting the honey making industry by appointing a foul-brood inspector, and in other ways. He hoped that in the near future assistance financially for the association would be forthcoming from the same quarters. He commended the work of Foul-Brood Inspector McEvoy and expressed hope that ere long the disease would be a thing of the past in the Pro-

A. E. Sherrington, of Walkerville, contributed a paper on "Conventions, and How to Make Them Successful." He advocated that papers presented should deal with practical live questions such as would interest every bee man and provoke a general exchange of opinions. Prof. Fletcher, of Ottawa, addressed the convention on the subject of spraying fruit trees in bloom, and its bearing on bee culture. He also read a paper dealing with the same question by Prof. Webster, of Wooster, Ohio, whom he described as one of the most eminent entomologists on the continent. The reader agreed with Prof. Webster that bees are in danger of being poisoned by spraying the bloom of fruit trees, and that the danger remains until the bloom has fallen. It was hoped that legislation would be provided to obviate this danger.
At the evening session Wm. McEvoy, foul-brood inspector, presented his annual report, showing that that disease was on the decrease and was now to be found more in the newer settled parts of the Province than in the older localities. He had destroyed fifteen hives of diseased bees since last meeting. Then followed a paper on the sublect, "Will the Bee-keping of the Future Differ From That of the Past?" by W.

Z. Hutchison, of Flint, Mich. He described the bee-keeping of the past, with its homely appliances. Now there are specialists who are gradually bringing the industry under a more per fect system, and the indications are that with improved appliances and methods a more profitable and satismethods a more prontable and satisfactory avocation will be the result.

R. H. Smith, St. Thomas, took for his subject, "How Are the Bees Wintering?" Proper preparation was necessary to successful wintering. He recommended clams packed in chaff, but favored cellar wintering in extreme climates. With proper attention brooding will go on all winter, not being affected by changes in temperature. Steamship Arrivals.
