WEEKLY, REVIEW.

LONDON, Wednesday, June 7.

Since our last weekly review the weather has been exceptionally favorable to planting, etc., and as a resuit we have hed small markets in nearly all lines, the only two exceptions occurring in hay and when any week since the have been all markets and when any week since the have been all diveries. Wheat has failen in price so per cwt. Dealers say they were convolled to lower prices owing to the weekness evinced at all large centers, and the small output of flour by the millers. At to-day's session red soid at $105 and white at $10.

There has been a steady demand for oats all week; the price did not vary much, $107 to $168 being the ruling value.

Hand-ricked beans came forward very slowly and sell at $15 per bh. Some select lots fit for seed have brought $150. The supply of butter was good and prices vernain unchanged. Pound-rol butter was favored by nearly all dealers and sold at $2c$ per lb above crocks; 15c to 16c was about its falue, and 14c for crock.

Eggs quiet and steady at 10c to 11c by the basket, and 12c retail.

British Grain Trade.

London, June 5.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: English wheat during May averaged in value 266 dd, being 189 dl lower than the same month last year. The foreign wheat trade is dull, being 3d lower on the week. The principal cause of the duliness has been the improved accounts of the condition of the Russian crops. The holdings of flour are still extensive. Foreign receipts of wheat are heavy and of flour moderate. The wheat on passage to Great Britain on June 3 amounted to 3,103,000 quarters. Maize is cheaper in seventeen markets, owing to favorable advices.

In the Clutch of Law.

An aged couple, tottering upon the far-An aged couple, tottering upon the latoff boundary of human existence, were in the Police Court this morning charged with vagrancy. James and Mary Macgregor were the names appearing upon the docket.
They represented that their home was in St. Catharines and that Sarnia was the destination sought. After tieing up their "goods and chattels" in several bundles, the old man, partially stricken with paralysis, toddled down the street, closely followed by his life's partner. They had Il cents between them with which to complete the journey. Mary Butcher, a woman rather inclined to enboupoint, hired a rig from William Tripp about 2 o'clock in he afternoon and took an extended drive. She

She did not arrive in the city again until 9 o'clock at night, and was then, owing to having imbibed rather freely, unable to descendirom the buggy. Those near generously offered assistance. When asked to recompense the livery owner, she refused absolutely. The magistrate discharged her on the understanding that the bill would be met. John Gavin and William Coyne, together with the objects of their admiration, acted rather improperly on the street. The police arrested the two mentioned on a charge of disorderly conduct. When the chief saw them in the dock-knowing them to be, as he asserted, notorious characters—the misdemeanor was changed to that of vagrancy. They were remaned for a week. Inquiries will be made as to their antecedents.
