East End Presents a Very Busy Appearance These Days.

Things are assuming a very business like appearance at Queen's Park today, and a long train of exhibits is continually passing through the gates.

The Grand Trunk siding on Campbell street is lined with freight cars for the big exhibition, and a large gang of men is kept busy handling the rush. The midway has been staked out for erected. The space in the machinery and transportation halls are nearly all occupied, and the stock shows are rapidly filling up.

It is an easy matter to locate the dog show and poultrp buildings, as the occupants are said to be holding a debate on the merits of the exhibition. At any rate there is much noise at the buildings which have all a large number of ex-
