

The Million Dollar Jubilee

Tonight the Burroughs representatives in this locality, composed of Mr. D. W. Saxe, Sales Manager, and G. J. Gibson, F. J. Hart, H. E. Hogle, C. S. Parkinson, H. M. Steiner, A. S. W. Stevenson, A. L. Whitelaw, Salesmen, are going to meet in Toronto, for the purpose of celebrating their victory over "King Quota."

In the month of December, the Burroughs Sales Force in the United States and Canada, pledged itself to sell $1,000,000 worth of Burroughs machines. This $1,000,000 in sales was known among the Burroughs men as "King Quota."

In the last thirty days of 1912, the businessmen of the United States and Canada, actually purchased $1,017,050 worth of Burroughs Adding and Listing Machines, being the largest month's business ever done by the largest company in the world making and selling adding and listing machines.

This is strictly complimentary to our efficient organization and sales force, but the broad significance lies in two things: first, that the simple but wonderful and economic business principle of handling figures with a machine is becoming better understood throughout the land; second, that the enormous majority by which the Burroughs is selected is our guarantee as it is yours—that these machines are right.

The Burroughs Adding Machine Company wishes, on this occasion, to thank the businessmen of America, and particularly those in London, who, by their confidence in the Burroughs product and their appreciation of its value to them, have made this remarkable record possible.

SPIRITED DEBATE IN HOUSE ON THE NAVAL PROBLEM

Dr. Beland Makes a Protest Against Conservative Charges of Separation.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The naval debate was resumed today by Mr. E. B. Devlin (Wright). As a Quebec member he ridiculed the loyalty of those who would have Canada borrow $35,000,000 and in return lend England $35,000,000 worth of empty ships, to be manned and maintained at the expense of the British taxpayer. That was not Quebec's idea of loyalty. "Let the Prime Minister rise now," said Mr. Devlin, "and tell us whether the British authorities told him that the best thing we could do would be to send empty ships into the Mersey. It is like sending Dominion policemen to Toronto to be clothed, fed and paid by that city, only to be recalled to Ottawa when the Parliament Buildings were in danger. It is like a man living in another's house, who says to his host: 'You have been kind to me, keeping me without charge, board, I am going to do something in return. You have a mortgage on your house. Let me build an addition to it and put on a second mortgage and you can pay off this mortgage, too.'"

"If the Premier is confident that the people are behind his scheme why does he not go to them?" asked Mr. Devlin in concluding.

Wants Canadian Navy. Mr. Maclean said he believed in a Canadian navy also. "A Canadian navy is no bugaboo to me," he declared. I spoke in favor of it in 1909, and I have not changed my mind. I hope that the policy of the Government will develop along that line. He concluded by urging the parties to get together. A policy of contribution for dreadnoughts could be linked with the organization of a Canadian navy. The united voice of British Columbia was for a Canadian sea power to guard against Asiatic dangers.

Hon. Dr. Beland followed Mr. Maclean. He was glad to see the member for South York advocating that the House should be of one opinion. "We think so, too," Dr. Beland added. "We were of one mind in 1909." After many years of peace it required a campaign of education to arouse Canadians in Quebec to the responsibility of taking hold of their defence on sea as well as on land. This campaign Sir Wilfrid Laurier had conducted, despite the efforts of Hon. The Hon. and Hon. Mr. Pelletier. Dr. Beland referred to the "wonderful metamorphosis" which had taken place in the attitude of Mr. Pelletier since he tasted the sweets of office. He convinced him that the "world was mutable."

"What is the Liberal policy?" asked Mr. Pelletier. "The same solid, loyal platform that it was in 1909 and 1910," replied

Dr. Beland, amid Liberal cheers. The Liberal policy, he said, was to maintain Canadian self-government and integrity within the Empire. The Conservative policy was to restrict it.

An Eloquent Speech. Dr. Beland, of Beauce, occupied the greater part of the evening on the naval debate. The speech of the member for Beauce was one of the most eloquent contributions to the debate so far delivered, and voiced a lofty Canadian spirit. The separatist cry, he said, was an extreme argument raised only in desperate cases and was a gratuitous insult to the Canadian people. "It has come," he declared, "Dr. Beland, 'that to be a good Canadian one has to endure the charge of being a separatist. If Sir John Macdonald were alive today he would be surprised at the condition which exists."

Mr. H. Turgeon, member for Gloucester, was the last speaker of the night, and adjourned the debate. He spoke before the adjournment. The Government ranks had thinned down to a round dozen, and at times it was doubtful whether there was a quorum. Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of customs; Hon. L. P. Pelletier, postmaster-general, and Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, took turns in representing the imperialistic party while the debate was in progress.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Travelling Salesman."

Sheep Camp, who enacts the role of Bob Blake, in "The Travelling Salesman," is a regular fat man, with a regular double chin, but that does not seem to prevent him from being really funny. The play has been on the road for some years, and yet it retains much of its freshness and interest. It paid its annual visit to the Grand Opera House on Friday evening, when Sheep Camp, fat man, made his initial bow in the comedy. That he is about as clever a comedian as has been seen here in a long time goes without saying. He makes the best of his part, and that insures a good evening's fun for everybody in the theatre. It is worth while seeing this big, healthy, hearty chap, who is sure death to the blues and the grouches.

Miss Grace Bryan, as Beth Elliott, is an accomplished actress, with an intelligent appreciation of her lines at all times. She made a fine impression last night.

The other roles were in capable hands. Miss Harriet Sheldon as Mrs. Babbitt, Charles Rosa as Ted Watts, Lewis Acker, as Julius, the colored porter, were excellent. "The Travelling Salesman" will be presented this afternoon and evening, and should attract big houses. It is worthy of such patronage.

TEMPLAR BALL BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Knights Upheld Their Reputation for Doing Things in Splendid Style.

GUEST LIST VERY LARGE

An Evening of the Most Complete Enjoyment in the Masonic Temple.

The Knights Templar ball, held Friday evening in the new Masonic Temple on Queen's avenue, was the most successful of the many pleasant events held by this organization. The Templars have established a reputation for doing things in good style, and the night's function was no exception to the rule. Nothing was overlooked that would tend to make the evening enjoyable for the visitors, and the knights put themselves out to see that the guests were properly cared for.

The dance hall was charmingly decorated. The color scheme was national, the red, white and blue predominating. The gallery was reserved for the visitors who did not dance, and it was a veritable bower of beauty. Several of the rooms were used by the card players. All places were thronged all evening with guests of the Templars, who thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The Knights themselves wore their uniforms. They presented a striking appearance throughout the evening. The ladies wore numerous and handsomely gowned.

Excellent Music. An excellent program of music was furnished by Tony Vita's orchestra. All the latest and most popular selections were played.

The committee were indefatigable in their efforts. The success of the affair is largely due to them. The men in charge were Sir Knights N. P. Walsh, chairman; Harry J. Bennett, secretary; Col. A. H. Scott, C. E. Carlton, Geo. Dowling, Arthur Nobbs, Allen Carswell, Edwin Smith, E. L. Guillemont, Frank Millar, Chas. McGeary, Dr. A. Roy Routledge, John J. Dyer, F. Thomson, and A. L. Stummie.

The Guests.

Among those present were: Col. A. E. Somerville, Mrs. A. E. Somerville, Miss Alberta Somerville, Edwin Smith, Miss Edith Cox, Miss Victoria Cox, Geo. Dowling, C. E. Carlton, Geo. Dowling, Arthur Nobbs, Allen Carswell, Edwin Smith, E. L. Guillemont, Frank Millar, Chas. McGeary, Dr. A. Roy Routledge, John J. Dyer, F. Thomson, and A. L. Stummie.

Free of Debt.

The First Church also contributed something over their apportionment for the missionary budget. There is not, perhaps, in the whole of the church, a finer system of systematic and proportionate giving than in these two congregations. There is no debt on either church, all expenses met, and a good balance on hand, that of St. Andrew's being $237, First Church, $104.95. For missionary and benevolent purposes, St. Andrew's $541, making a total of $1,675 for missions. For congregational purposes First Church gave $1,471, St. Andrew's $1,134, total $2,605, making a grand total for all purposes of $4,171.

Dr. McCrae Leaving. Dr. McCrae stated frankly that after more than twelve years' service in Westminster he felt the great amount of driving by day and night a severe task on his physical strength. The call that had been tendered him by the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church, London, was so unanimous and enthusiastic that he felt the divine hand was in it, and that was decisive. It was one of the hardest things of his life to break the tie that bound him to Westminster, and he earnestly urged them to make it as easy as possible for him by acquiescing in his decision if the presbytery was willing. The congregation with profound sorrow and regret agreed to Dr. McCrae's request.

CITY'S SHARE WILL BE OVER $25,000

Repairs to the Courthouse Will Cost About $53,000, It Is Stated Now.

At the meeting of the county council yesterday afternoon it was stated that the total cost of the repairs and alterations to the courthouse was now estimated at $53,000. This estimate was prepared from the plans submitted by the city building inspector and Architect Nutter. The original estimate was $27,500, and the city and county each agreed to pay 50 per cent of this amount. After the work had been commenced it was found that the work would cost almost twice the original estimate, and the city not having the money available refused to pay anything in excess of the first estimate. A communication was received from the city council on Tuesday stating that the city was prepared to continue the agreement, and complete the improvements.

The work already done had cost $20,000, of which the city and county have each paid half, so that each municipality will have to pay out about $15,500 yet before the work is completed. As the matter stands now each of the two municipalities will have to pay its share of the work an amount almost equal to the original estimate.

N. T. R. DEGRADING CHARGES JUSTIFIED BY DOCUMENTS

Changes Made in the Original Grades Since Borden Government Took Power.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 31.—The charges made by prominent Liberals during the recent Laurier tour through Ontario and more recently by Hon. Chas. Murphy, in the House of Commons, to the effect that since the present Government came into power changes have been made in the original grades agreed to in the construction of the eastern division of the National Transcontinental Railway, have been completely justified by documents just brought down in the House of Commons. It was charged that the grades, whose maximum was not to exceed four-tenths of one per cent, eastbound, and six-tenths westbound, had during the past summer, under the authorization of Major Leonard, of the Transcontinental commission, been increased in many places to as high as one per cent. The charges are borne out by the correspondence and documents which have been brought down at the request of Hon. George F. Graham.

REV. DR. MCRAE IS COMING TO HAMILTON ROAD CHURCH

Stated to His Congregation in Westminster Why He Is Leaving Them.

REV. DR. MCRAE.

The annual meetings of the two Westminster churches, First and St. Andrew's, ministered to by Rev. Dr. Crae, were held this week. Both churches have had the best year in their history. The total membership is 284 and the number of families 135. All the organizations connected with both churches gave fair reports. The south church at Glanworth raised more than double what they gave before for missions, exceeding their apportionment for the million-dollar budget by $118, not counting the amount raised by the W. F. M. S.

NEW MEN'S MOVEMENT FOR STUDY OF CITY PROBLEMS

Idea Is To Secure Co-operation of the Men of All the Churches.

A movement is on foot to band the men of the various churches together for the study of social and other city problems.

The promoters feel that there is a grave and pressing need for an organization of this kind. They feel that there are social evils growing up which should be grappled with by the churches before they reach proportions that will make the task more difficult than it is today.

The plan is to enlist the interest of the men of all religious denominations in the general idea, and then to proceed to work on definite and practical lines. The first step will be the appointment of an interdenominational committee to thoroughly study the questions that call for attention. A program of action will be formulated by the committee, and laid before the men of the different churches for their consideration. It is hoped to secure their co-operation in establishing a permanent organization, with a paid official, specially trained for the work. A compact body of this kind could exert a powerful influence for the betterment of conditions in the city in various directions.

A number of local clergymen have initiated the movement, and have been promised the support of laymen to whom the matter has been broached. A preliminary meeting is to be held in Wesley Hall Tuesday evening, which all men are invited to attend. Mr. J. E. Starr, judge of the children's court, Toronto, will deliver an address on municipal problems, and will outline the objects of such an association.

Women Are Better Companions For Men Than Books.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Telfer, Feb. 1.—At the weekly meeting of the Young People's Literary Society of Vanuack, the following interesting subject was debated: "Resolved That Books Are More Companionable For Men Than Women." After the opposing sides had contested the question for over an hour, the judges gave their decision in favor of the negative. Their verdict was heartily approved by the audience.

HEADACHY, CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Removes the Scum From the Tongue, Sweetens a Sour, Gassy, Bilious Stomach; Cleanses Your Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels Without Gripe or Nausea.

If headachy, bilious, dizzy, tongue coated, stomach sour and full of gas, you belch undigested food and feel sick and miserable, it means that your liver is choked with sour bile and your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with effete waste matter not properly carried off. Constipation is worse than most folks believe. It means that this waste matter in the thirty feet of bowels decays into poisons, gases and acids, and that these poisons are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which should seek only nourishment to sustain the body. Most people dread physic. They think of castor oil, salts and cathartics. They shrink from the after-effects, so they postpone the dose until they get sick; then they do this liver and bowel cleansing in a heroic way—they have a bowel washday. That is all wrong. If you will take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight you will never again have taken anything until morning, when all the poisonous matter, sour bile and clogged-up waste will be moved on and out of your system, thoroughly but gently—no griping, no nausea—no weakness. Taking Syrup of Figs is a real pleasure. Don't think you are drugging yourself; it is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatic and constant use cannot cause injury. Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company, on the label. This is the genuine—old reliable. Any other Fig Syrup offered as good should be refused with contempt. Don't be imposed upon.
