GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS Perhaps Your KIDNEYS

are out of order. Make the doctor's test. Examine your urine. It should be a light straw color—if it is highly colored, reddish or deep orange—if the color is strong or unusual—"brick dust" or mucus is present, look to the kidneys. They are out of order. Get GIN PILLS at once, and take them regularly. Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, pain in the back, groin or hips—all point to weakness in the kidney or bladder action, and the pressing necessity for GIN PILLS. Gin Pills are worth their weight in gold because they drive these poisons clean out of the system. They only cost 50 cents a box, with the absolute guarantee of satisfaction or your money back. Six boxes for $2.50, or a free treatment if you write to National Drug & Chemical Co., of Canada, Limited Toronto - Ont. 14

Why Germany Won't Fight U. S

At last the secret is out. We understand now the reason of the singularly amiable tone of the German notes re the Lusitania and her complete back down on every debatable point between Germany and the States. If diplomatic relations were broken off or if war were to be declared, Germany could of course no longer depend on the United States to feed Belgium. As she would probably refuse to do it herself, her natural humanity would prevent her from quarrelling with the only big neutral nation in a position to do it for her.

The Ontario Budget in a Nutshell

Tax on racetracks increased from $500 per day of operation to $1250 per day. Tax of one cent will be imposed upon each paid admission to amusement halls, dance halls, moving picture theatres, theatres, baseball parks, circuses and all places of amusement. The province has a surplus this year of $271,000, as compared with a $600,000 deficit last year. Total revenue increases for the year were $1,200,000. Ontario last year gave a total of $11,102,000 for patriotic purposes. Ontario's credit is second to that of no state or government in the world. Provincial treasurer announced that the courts may be invoked to force the Grand Trunk Pacific to live up to their contract with the T. & N. O. Railway. Ontario's total assets are placed at $475,000,000. Provincial treasurer intimated that the federal finance minister had gone beyond federal scope in his taxation, and promised an adjustment after the war. Ontario saved $592,000 by investigating the Cox estate. In future the penalty of an additional tax of 25 per cent will be imposed when the total assets are not represented. Succession duties revenues of $1,615,000 set a new record in Ontario's history.

At the hospital physicians found the young man had been addicted to the use of the drug for some time and that the overdose was accidental and not with suicidal intent, as at first believed. WINTER DRAINING

It is Essential that the Cows Be Kept Comfortable.

The first essential in securing the greatest net profits from the herd in winter is that the cows be kept comfortable, for a cow must be comfortable to do her best, says a contributor to the Farm Progress. The stable must be provided with some kind of ventilation that will give a change of air. The cow must have sufficient room in the stable to move around or stretch out when she lies down. She must have plenty of light and sunshine, with all the pure water she will drink twice a day. Salt should be kept before her at all times. Clean and sheltered yards must also be considered when planning for the comfort of the dairy cow. Cows that are compelled to stand in a muddy yard, with the wind blowing full upon them while they are getting their water, will receive a chill that will greatly reduce their nerve force. Then, if they are compelled to wade in mud and slith they cannot produce clean milk. When the udder and flanks have become caked with mud some of it is sure to find its way into the milk, and there is no strainer that will eradicate all of it once it gets in there.

The cows should go into their winter quarters in good flesh. If a cow is in poor condition when winter comes upon her it will take weeks of good treatment to bring her around to where she will be profitable, and that means a loss both of time and profits. One must observe and practice economy in feeding dairy cattle. We must learn to realize the greatest value of the feed produced on the farm. We see on many farms a great amount of roughage wasted. Cows will almost dwindle away if they are fed exclusively on straw, yet if they are given a liberal feed of straw every few days they will clean it up with a relish.

The cows can be brought through in good condition if they are fed on clover, alfalfa, or pea hay, together with corn silage and straw as roughage and a small amount of grain. About three-fourths roughage and one-fourth grain will secure good results. A heavy grain ration may make a better showing in the milk record, but unless the farmer lives near a good market to dispose of hay and dairy products to good advantage he will have to cut the grain bill down to secure the greatest net profit.

No two cows will handle the same amount of grain alike. Therefore the individual cows should be studied and their feed proportioned to their capacity to handle it economically. The roughage which can be grown on every farm is the cheapest part of the cow's ration, and the dairy cow is built to handle a large quantity of roughage.

Barn Window Ventilation.

Ventilation is primarily for two purposes—to admit oxygen and to dilute and remove impurities. Fresh air in house or barn is therefore not a fad. It is neither a luxury for humans nor a fancy for beasts. It is a need for both. Every stable should supply 1,500 cubic feet of air for each mature cow or horse, and this should be removed frequently. In small barns window ventilation suffices very well. The windows may be hinged at the bottom, allowing the top to open inward. At the side boards are placed, the width corresponding from top to bottom with the opened distance of the window. By this plan air is admitted at the top and not directly on the animals. If opened on the side away from the wind and according to the severity of the weather, fresh air will be provided and without serious drafts being caused.

Mulch for Winter Wheat.

In sections where there is more straw than can be used to good advantage for stock feeding and bedding some of this material may be used for winter wheat, says the Country Gentleman. One experiment station in a test has learned the value of such practice.

In November, 1914, after the ground froze, part of a field was mulched with three loads of straw to the acre. The wheat in this part made a good winter survival and yielded an excellent crop, while fields that were not mulched both on corn stubble and summer fallow were totally winter killed. In such cases

PILES

Are you a sufferer? Know that terrible itching, dragging-down pain, that robs you of pleasure, even of rest, and makes life miserable? Don't you believe in the law of averages? If a remedy has cured hundreds of people, don't you think it likely it might at least cure you? Just give Zam-Buk a fair trial! Mr. J. McEwen, of Dundas, suffered from piles for fifteen years. He says: "I tried pretty nearly everything, but got no permanent relief until I tried Zam-Buk. This balm relieved the pain; continued use completely and permanently cured me." The rich herbal essences of which Zam-Buk is composed, quickly remove congestion, relieve the dull, gnawing, burning pain, and cure. All druggists and stores, or post-paid from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 50c. box, 3 boxes $1.25.

the mulching would pay in spite of the labor. Approximately three tons of straw an acre should be used after the wheat has become dormant for the winter. Old straw piles which are more or less rotten can be spread to better advantage than fresh straw piles, but either may be used. The old straw may be spread with an ordinary manure spreader, but fresh straw requires a special implement known as a straw spreader. The straw must be spread very thinly and evenly for best results, as the wheat will smother out under thick bunches and kill out on bare spots if the straw is not properly spread.

ORGANIZATION FOR FARMERS.

There is now a movement under way in the far west for a great national organization of farmers. No one will be eligible for membership except those who depend upon farming for a livelihood. The object of the organization will be to secure fair laws for farmers, laws that really are what they are represented to be, and to have repealed those passed simply to keep farmers quiet, such as the de-natured alcohol bill that the country was in such a furor about a few years ago, but which has proved to be a disappointment to those it was expected to benefit most. Hustling western farmers have this movement well under way, operating in a quiet manner.—New York Sun.

ADVERTISING HELPS.

Fruit Consumption Greatly Increased by Staffed Publicity. Ontario has solved the problem of good fruit. This question, which for many years has been the chief one in the minds of the fruit growers had to contend with, is now being solved actively minor importance. Comparatively? Because another question deemed by many as equally important has arisen during the last few seasons. It is now the big problem confronting the Ontario fruit grower, says Gordon Furrow in The Toronto Globe.

The orchard men of this Province have shown by the rapid increase in production in the last few years that they know how to grow trees and how these trees should be looked after. Quantity is not all, however, as the quality of the fruit has also been steadily improved until we find Ontario's output at the top of the list of the Provinces in the Dominion in regard to both of these points.

Consumption has lagged a trifle behind. Not only is it somewhat below production, but because of this fact the public have grown more particular in their taste. Formerly, bright apples and golden peaches were bought eagerly without any regard to their after-effects. Now, people have learned that there are apples and apples, and that the first "clingerstones" are not as good as those to follow. They demand fruit that has been picked in the proper condition, and that has a pleasing flavor as well as good shape and color. Tasteless apples have about completed the round of the different markets, and to-day when these rounds are about to be repeated the buyers remember, and demand another variety.

If the Ontario fruit growers are to make a permanent success of their business, they must take into consideration another person besides themselves and the middleman; they must think of the consumer. Too often his position has been entirely lost sight of in the rush of production. As proof of this it is only necessary to look over the variety of fruit trees planted all over Ontario up till the last few years. These will be found hundreds of acres of Ben Davis and Stark varieties of apples, and orchard after orchard of early peaches. Why? Because in one case the trees are quick maturing, steady bearers, needing comparatively little attention, and in the other, because early peaches at one time brought high prices. Education on the part of the consumer and increased production on the part of the grower have changed all this. The city housewife no longer goes to the market for apples. She simply asks for a specific variety.

For the purpose of becoming acquainted with these new problems, and for planning ways and means of meeting them, most of the addresses and discussions at the Ontario Fruit Growers' Convention held in Toronto recently were based on marketing. Growers, basket manufacturers, fruit commission men, and consumers were all represented. Practically nothing was said regarding the producing end of the business, but the marketing, and more particularly the proper ways for marketing, of the fruit formed the principal topic for discussion.

The fruit situation during the past year was reviewed and what might be expected for the coming season was briefly discussed. Peaches, we are told, were never so cheap in the smaller towns of Ontario as last season. This fruit, that formerly sold around a dollar a basket, could be had for from fifty to sixty cents. The reduction was due to two causes: first, because of the general large crop, and secondly, as a result of the increased advertising on the part of the growers. While some of the latter men claimed that they sold at a loss, many of them were of the opinion that the cheapness of good fruit was one of the best advertisements they could have and one whose effect would be felt for years to come.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

During January cauliflower, cabbage and lettuce should be sown in the greenhouse or conservatory, to be transplanted later to frames for early use.

Go over cabbage and root crops stored in the cellar and throw out decayed material. This will prevent further decay and help keep the cellar clean.

Seeds of annuals and perennials may be sown in greenhouses and conservatories now for plants for setting out early in the spring.

Grapevines should be pruned during January while the plants are perfectly dormant, otherwise they will be weakened by bleeding.

WATFORD ASTONISHED

BY SIMPLE MIXTURE. Watford people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. ONE SPOONFUL removes such surprising foul matter it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. Because Adler-ika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Taylor & Sons, Druggists.

Tiresomeness.

"Don't you get tired of playing the same part night after night?" "I should say not," replied the actor, "What makes me tired is closing shows and learning new parts."

Favors.

"Be careful about asking favors of people, my boy." "Why?" "Because once a man does a favor for you you are in his debt for life."

It Makes Tracks.

One day small Harold came running into the house, and holding up a horse-shoe, he exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, some poor horse lost one of his tracks, and I found it."

Keeping Company.

"They kept company for an awfully long time before they finally got married." "Yes, and they've kept it most of the time since. Her relatives seem bound to live on them."

THE NEWEST REMEDY FOR Backache, Rheumatism and Dropsy.

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, achiness and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and loins, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. This is the time to try "Anurie." Send 10c. for trial package. During digestion uric acid is absorbed into the system from meat eaten, and even from some vegetables. The poor kidneys get tired and backache begins. This is a good time to take "Anurie," the new discovery of Dr. Pierce for Kidney trouble and Backache. Neglected kidney trouble is responsible for many deaths, and Insurance Company examining doctors always test the water of an applicant before a policy will be issued. Have you ever set aside a bottle of water for twenty-four hours? A heavy sediment or settling sometimes indicates kidney trouble. The true nature and character of diseases, especially those of the kidneys and urinary organs, can often be determined by a careful chemical analysis and microscopical examination—this is done by expert chemists of the Medical Staff of the Invalids' Hotel. If you wish to know your condition send a sample of your water to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and describe your symptoms. It will be examined without any expense to you, and Doctor Pierce or his Staff of Assisting Physicians will inform you truthfully.

KNOW YOURSELF! Read all about yourself, your system, physiology, anatomy, hygiene, simple home cures, etc., in the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," a book of 1028 pages. Send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents in one-cent stamps for a cloth-bound copy. Customs prepaid.
