

DR. WINTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

It was known many years ago that the wild cherry tree of this climate possessed valuable medicinal properties.

TO G. P. RIDOUT, ESQ.

SIR—The recent dissolution of the Provincial Parliament has imposed upon the Electors of this city the necessity of making choice of candidates to represent their interests in the Legislature.

Taking into consideration the undeniable fact that the onward prosperity of this city is intimately associated with the advancement of its commercial relations and the extension of its means of intercourse with other parts of the Province, we unhesitatingly affirm the opinion, that the time has arrived when the almost daily increasing importance of its business transactions demands that Toronto should be represented by a MERCHANT, so as to ensure to the mercantile community that particular attention to their wants and wishes which the numerous interests concerned materially require, when questions affecting trade and commerce are brought forward in Parliament.

For the purpose, therefore, of realizing so desirable a consummation, and having full confidence in you as a merchant and citizen, we, the undersigned Electors hereby invite you to offer yourself as a candidate to represent this city on the Conservative interest at the approaching General Election; and we further pledge ourselves, individually and collectively, to exert our best endeavours to secure your return.

Toronto, Nov. 20th, 1851. G. T. DENISON SENR. JOHN RITCHIEY, JOSEPH BECKETT, J. McMURRICH, & others.

To Messrs. Geo. T. Denison Senior, John Ritchiey, Joseph Beckett, J. McMurrich and others:

GENTLEMEN, In acknowledging the receipt of a Requisition signed by your lives and others, which you have been pleased to present to me, I beg to tender my warmest thanks; such an evidence of your favourable consideration is indeed most gratifying to my feelings.

For months past I have been solicited by a large number of my fellow-Citizens to avail of the expected dissolution of Parliament, and present myself for the suffrage of the Electors; encouraged therefore by your invitation, and concurring as I cordially do with you in opinion, that the business transactions of Toronto justify the preference, of a large number of its inhabitants, in favour of the City being presented in the Provincial Parliament by a Commercial man, I cheerfully accede to your request of allowing myself to be placed in nomination, as a Candidate at the approaching General Election.

In doing so I beg to state that I am fully sensible of the trust you desire to repose in me; and in abstaining from the requirement of any pledges, you have afforded additional proof of the confidence you place in my known principles and opinions.

At the same time, as there are several subjects of great importance now occupying the attention of the People of this Province, I feel it a duty to explain to the Electors of Toronto, my views upon such subjects as I consider of primary consequence.

As my welfare is closely identified with the Commercial prosperity of this City, it is hardly necessary for me to enlarge upon that subject; inasmuch as my own interest would naturally lead me to advocate and support every sound and well considered plan of stimulating Commerce, and developing the material resources of the Province. But there is one point in particular, on which I desire to be thoroughly understood, namely, that, if returned to Parliament, I will spare no pains to obtain such an Amendment of the Assessment Act, as shall make it bear more equitably than it now does upon the Mercantile community.

I am the warm friend of public improvements, and I shall at all times be found supporting increased means of internal communication, whether by roads or by Railway, having for their object a general public utility.

I am opposed to violent organic changes in our Constitution. Responsible Government having become a settled principle in the administration of our affairs, I desire to see that principle fully and honestly carried out; and to accomplish this I think it absolutely necessary that the ministry should not only have the confidence of Parliament, but the confidence of each other, and should act in concert upon all the important measures submitted to Parliament.

As regards the Legislative Council, I cannot but admit, that that body does not enjoy the confidence of the country to the extent I would desire, nor can it, I think, whilst so widely open to the influence of the Executive, be depended upon for that salutary check against hasty and unwise legislation, which the British Constitution requires. I should therefore support such a change as would render the Legislative Council a more independent and useful branch of the Legislature.

I have always looked upon the settlement of the Clergy Reserves as finally disposed of by the Act of 1840. I regret however to perceive, that this vexed question has again been brought forward to agitate and disturb the peace of the country. I shall, nevertheless, use my best endeavours to maintain that settled undisturbed. But failing to accomplish that end, I will not refuse, as the only alternative left me, to support a measure, having for its object the equitable division of these Reserves among all Christian denominations according to their population for religious purposes.

I am of opinion that the expenditure required to carry on the Government is much more than the circumstances of a new country justify; I am therefore in favour of a judicious system of Retrenchment, so far as is consistent with the efficiency of the public service, and thus relieve the commercial and agricultural interests from the heavy duties now collected upon our imports.

As but a single week intervenes before the day of nomination, and as the polling will take place very shortly afterwards, I fear that it will not be possible for me, within so short a space of time, to canvass the electors of the City personally. Aided and assisted however by your co-operation, I will do my utmost to wait upon and collect the support of my fellow-citizens.

Should I have the honour of being returned as one of the members for the city, the people of Toronto may rely upon my best endeavours to discharge with faithfulness and diligence my duty as their Representative.

I have the honour to remain, GENTLEMEN, Your obedient servant, G. P. RIDOUT. Toronto, 24th November, 1851.

CHANGE OF THE SEASONS! AND NEW, CHEAP AND SEASONABLE DRY GOODS.

The showers of the Spring are but shed o'er the land, The earth but unfettered from Winter's grim hand; Its leaves but fell, and its verdure but seen, When it passes away with the Springs that have been, Then Summer comes on with its sweet smelling flowers, Its rich verdant fields, and its try-clad bowers; Yet strange, when it yields us the greatest delight, It mokes at our gazing, and fades from our sight, Then Autumn succeeds, with its corn and its grain, Its low mellow fruit, and its rich yellow plain, But like Spring time and Summer, how short is its stay, It drops us the year leaf and passes away. Then Winter draws nigh, and the leaves disappear, And every green spot grows withered and drear; And the breeze of evening are heavy and chill, And the snow spreads its mantle of hoar o'er the hill; Unlike Spring time or Summer, or Autumn it stays, Through many bleak nights and cold frosty days, Till we tire of its visit, and wish him away, And long for the balmy breezes of May, McDONALD, on Yonge Street, One Hundred and Three, Has a Stock which he wishes the Public to see; Well suited in fabric for cold Winter's trade, And embracing the latest designs that are made; There are Flannels and Blankets, in goodly supply, Which feel thick to the hand and look well to the eye; There are hundreds of Shawls! some styles very rare, The fine, heavy, long, and magnificent square The rare Brod Cloths, and Dorakins, and Cassimeres too, And Loxres, and Colours, in every hue; And a large stock of Furs, which, at some recent day, Were trapped on the banks of the famed Hudson Bay. There are fine Cloaks and Bonnets, and many things more, That McDONALD keeps always on hand at his Store; He would not the rights of another invade; While he seeks for a healthy extension of trade; But if fairness will answer, and bargain repay, Then call at his Warehouse at some early day; He asks but a call, 'tis a modest request, And a glance at his prices will tell all the rest.

THE object of this Advertisement is in part to do away with an erroneous opinion which has long prevailed, viz.—that nothing choice or tasteful can be had in the Dry Goods department on an examination of the Subscriber's Stock will sufficiently refute that notion, as it will be found to comprise all the articles in general use in the Trade. To the Free and Independent Electors of the City of Toronto.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg leave to announce to you, that it is again my intention to offer myself as a Candidate for your Suffrages at the approaching General Election.

From the period when, in 1844, without solicitation on my part I was put in nomination and returned as one of the Representatives of this City, I have endeavoured to discharge the duties devolving upon me to the best of my ability, regardless of all personal consequences, and if I know myself, without a wish to make the high trust reposed in me, subservient to my private interests. I have now enjoyed this distinguished honour for eight years, and if in that capacity I have faithfully and zealously discharged my duty, I trust I may, without presumption, look for a continuance of that confidence and support, which is the only reward a public man has a right to expect at the hands of his constituents, if he seeks their good and not his own. I ask no other.

I have always striven to promote the interests of this City and of our Common Country, and whilst doing so, though sometimes on the weak side and sometimes on the strong side, I trust that your suffrages will show that in your opinion I have at least endeavoured to be on the right side.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, Your obedient servant, WM. H. BOULTON. Toronto, Nov., 6, 1851. 15-11.
