OUR Students comprise a real business community. They do business with one another, just as the merchants and bankers of a city. They are engaged from the start in valuable and really educative work.

Our schoolroom is like a counting-room and our graduates are fitted for real business employments, something altogether impossible by the old text-book method.

We have secured the Exclusive Right to use this actual business method in this part of Canada, and we cordially invite everyone to call at our schoolrooms and investigate its merits.
