WASHINGTON, D.C., March 24.—
How did they do it? Was it Christian cience, excitement, or will power? The late-risers puzzled. Sufficient to say that Dr. Hughes and some of his party were up bright and early Saturday morning, gambolling about the streets of Washington, the gayest brood of spring chickens in the south. Fresh and glowing, they entered the breakfast room with the news that they had been photographed in fronto.

on their way to the monument the Canadians pushed their way thru the immense market, where eggs sold at 20 cents per dozen. The radishes, fruit and flowers, rivaled those of our Canadian National. But both our market and our exposition fail to produce the originality and the niggers paramount in Washington. What on earth were they doing with that grisly black swallowed. But if they could not live in Toronto, they would surely choose Washington. Truly, the early green, and the lovely magnolias, and the "mammles" to shove the perambulators would doubtless be strong attractions.
