Summary of the Final

Awards. The judging of horses was entirely finish ed at the Fair on Thursday and nothing mains now but the parade of all horses in front of the grand stand at 2 p.m. today. This will indeed be a fine sight, for no finer display of horse flesh can be seen in any horse ring. George Pepper carried off many prizes on Thursday. One of the jumpers, Lord Minto, got away from his rider and for a time made things lively in the ring. The horse was finally caught without any accident occurring. FRIEND SAW MONEY PICKED UP arrest of Finder of $27 Brought ing the sum of $27 from Mrs. Alexander Begg of Orillia on Wednesday.

Mrs. Begg had the money in an enlycope in her chatclaine bag and missed it on reaching the Union Station. She went back over the route she had taken to the depot, but could get no trace of the envelope or money. She reported her loss to the police and remained over in the city to await developments. On Thursday, by a strange coincidence, she visited the home of Mrs. W. B. Campbell at 224 Wellesley-street, and in conversation with her friend mentioned the fact that she had dropped the envelope containing the money. It so happened that Mrs. Campbell was in the vicinity of the Union Station at the time and saw Ernest, who runs a fruit store next to the Daly house, on Frontstreet, pick up an envelope and take out some money. Mrs. Begg reported what she had learned from Mrs. Campbell to the police and Ernest was immediately taken into custody.

MULATTO TURNED WHITE, All Done Within Seven Years_A Most Remarkable Case.

York, Pa., Sept. 11.-Mrs. Cornella Noble, a mulatto, 60 years old, residing in this city, in seven years has completely changed color, save for a few marks on her arm and body, the transformation being from that of the natural hue of the mulatto to the deficate white complexion of the fairest Caucasian. Mrs. Noble says:

"It is just seven years since I noticed a small white spot at the top of my forehead, just at the roots of the hair. It gradually spread, and within a year nad reached the size of half a dollar. In the meantime other white spots appeared on my face, neck, arms and body. Now, as you see, I am completely white, with the exception of these marks on my arms and body, and, strange to say, these marks

CANADIAN OPTICIANS MEET.

The annual convention of the Canadian Association of Opticians opened on Thursday afternoon in their offices, in The Saturday Night Building, with the president W. G. Maybee of St. Catharines, in the chair, and about 35 delegates in attendance. Reports presented by the secretary, Alexander Moffat of Bradford, showed that the membership was 87, and that the as, the membership was 87, and that the association was in a prosperous condition. A strong committee was appointed, to put forth efforts to increase the membership in all parts of the Dominion. Another question debated at some length was the advisability of awarding a diploma. This will be further considered at to-day's meeting. In accordance with a regolution passed at a previous meeting of the association, arrangements were made for the organization of district branches. Toronto will be the headquarters of the central branch.

In the evening the delegates were
