Weak and Run . wn, With Heart and Kidneys in Bad Condition -Restored by food's Sarsaparilla.

"I was very much run down, having been sick for several months. I had been trying differen remedies which did me no good. I would have severe spells of coughing that would leave me prostrate. I was told that my lungs were affected. and my heart and kidneys were in a bad condition. In fact, it seemed as though every organ was out of order. I felt that something must be done and my brother advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I procured a bottle and began taking it. Before it was half gone I felt that it was helping me. I continued its use and it has made me a new woman. I cannot praise it too highly." MRS. SUMMER-VILLE, 217 Ossington Avenue, Toronto. Get only Hood's, because

CHOOSE OFFICERS

Y. M. C. A. Convention in Brockville-Election of Officers.

Brockville, Jan. 30. - At Saturday morning's session of the Y. M. C. A. convention, Rev. J. M. Gray, D.D., of Boston, instructed the delegates in a system of Bible study. T. F. Mc-Lean, of Toronto, afterwards addressed the meeting. A report of the boys' conference, one of the features of the convention, was laid before the committee. Addresses were delivered in the afternoon by F. C. Stephenson, H. G. Barrie, of Toronto, and L. A. Winter, of Montreal, followed by Bible study conducted by Rev. J. M.

Gray. D.D. The following is a list of the officers elected: J. Penman, of Paris, chairman; J. F. McLean, Toronto, secretary; president, Charles T. Williams, Montreal; first vice-president, S. W. W Chown, Belleville; second vice-president, A. M. Solandt; Kingston; third vice-president, G. F. Davidson, Toronto; assistant secretary, J. W. Hopkins, Toronto.

Public Attention

Is at present being directed to Catarrhozone, and much interest has been aroused by its marvelous effect upon disease germs. Catarrh, bronchitis, irritable throat, and such maladies instantly disappear when this apparently mild pine-scented gas is inhaled. It penetrates wherever air can go. Messrs. N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., have generously intimated that sample outfits of catarrhezone will be given our readers free, for a short time, if sent for immediately.

Prominent Citizens Who Have Passed Away.

During the last few days the number of deaths in the city has been surprisingly large, and those who have passed to the great beyond are principall of very advanced years, whose death has been accelerated or caused directly by the dreaded grip.

MRS. J. P. ARMSTRONG. Mrs. Armstrong, wife of Mr. J. P. Armstrong, the well-known blacksmith, died at the family residence, 469 Queen's avenue, yesterday morning. For ten years past Mrs. Armstrong had been more or less an invalid, but of late had enjoyed somewhat better health. On Tuesday she was seized with an attack of grip, and gradually sank. She was highly respected by all who knew her, and a large circle of friends will hear of her death with feelings of sorrow. Mrs. Armstrong was 53 years of age, and was born in 1846, near Toronto. She was married in the latter city to Mr. Armstrong, by the late Rev. Mr. Fletcher. For some time she was a resident of Alvinston, where Mr. Armstrong was engaged in business, before his removal to this city seven years ago. Mrs. Armstrong was a devout Episcopalian, and was confirmed at an early age by the late Bishop Strachan. She leaves a sorrowing nusband, one daughter and two sons. The sons are: W. N. Armstrong, druggist, of Concord, Mich., and John R., teacher, of Bothwell. The only daughter is Miss Letta, whose care for her invalid mother has always been unceasing.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DEAD. Sad, indeed, was the household of Mr. and Mrs. William McNeill, at No. 646 William street, on Saturday, and doubly sad yesterday. For 50 years did this worthy couple enjoy a life of domestic happiness, but the binding tie was severed at 5 o'clock on Saturday, when Mr. McNeill passed into eternity after a short illness with grip, and was followed a few hours later by his wife, who died at 9 o'clock on Sunday evening. Both parents were surrounded by their family when the end came. Mrs. McNeill had been in feeble health for some time, and recently was taken ill with grip. A few days after Mr. Mc-Neill was attacked with the same malady, and grew gradually worse. On Friday Mr. McNeill, who was 76 years old, was informed that his aged wife was not likely to recover, and from that and Edward streets. time he sank rapidly, and died at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. His death had a marked effect upon Mrs. McNeill, whose demise ensued a few hours afterwards, and a useful life of 75 years went out. Mr. McNeill was a native of Musselboro, Midlothian, Scotland, where he spent the greater portion of his life. In 1850 he married Miss Galloway at her home, "Finmount," Kinglassie, Fifeshire, and 30 years ago they came to Canada. For a time he carried on business as a millwright in British Columbia, and later removed to Mitchell, where the couple were well known and highly esteemed. In 1881 Mr. Mc-Neill removed to London, where he had lived ever since. He was a most en-thusiastic Scotchman, and a great pro-moter of Caledonian games. He was a lover of Scottish music, and took a deep interest in anything affecting the welfare of his native land. He will be remembered by all who knew him as an indulgent and genial man, and characterized by sterling integrity. Mrs. McNeill was born on the old family estate, "Finmount," in Kinglassie, Scotland, and was an aunt of the late W. G. Willis, who died so suddenly on Friday. Mrs. McNeill was a kind mother, a loving wife and a generous friend to all who sought her aid. Four of a family survive the aged couple-Mrs. A. E. Cooper, of this city, and three sons, Martin, Lansing, Mich.; Dr. McNeill, Arva, and W. G. McNeill, ieweler, of this city.

MRS. HENRY DAVIS.

The death list of yesterday contains another well-known resident of London —Mrs. Ann Jane, relict of the late Henry Davis, of 418 King street. The deceased lady was one of the oldest residents of this city, and had reached the advanced age of 80 years. health for the past two years had been poor. Two weeks ago she was seized with an attack of grip, which, with other complications, caused her death. Mrs. Davis was born in Brockville, in 1820. She was married in 1836, and lived at Hall's Mills (now Springbank). She shared all the privations of a pioneer's life in this section, and during the trouble of 1837-8 she was forced to accommodate eight soldiers at her home. Her recollections of the early days of London were particularly vivid. was widely known as a kind, sympathetic and benevolent friend, and a most devoted mother. The sudden death of her favorite son, Dr. George C. Davis, which occurred about eighteen months ago, had a decided effect upon her, and her intellect, from that time, had not been so bright, nor her health so good. She was a member of the First Congregational, and a large circle of friends will hear with regret of her death. Her husband, who established a jewelry business here in 1831, died in 1883, aged 79 years. The surviving children are William H., jeweler, city; Joseph W., jeweler, Toronto; C'ara ly and $120 in money was taken. There (Mrs. R. D. Millar), and Mary J.

MRS. JAMES CRAWFORD.

Mrs. James Crawford died at her late residence, 253 Queen's avenue, this morning, aged 60 years. The deceased was born in Fermanagh, Enniskillen, Ireland, and came to this country when a girl of tender age. She was married 37 years ago in St. Paul's Cathedral, by the Rev. Archdeacon Marsh, and for over 40 years had been a prominent and highly-respected citizen of the Forest City. Mrs. Crawford had been ailing some time with a tumorous growth, and for some days had been lingering between life and death. Her husband, ex-Sergeant of Police James Crawford, three sons and one daughter survive her. The sons are: Walter, mail clerk on the G. T. R.; John, chief of police of Ingersoll, and Rev. Edmund, of Comber, Ont. The only daughter is Beatrice (Mrs. A. H. Clinger). Mrs. Crawford's death will be heard of by many with mingled surprise and regret.

MISS HOBBS CALLED AWAY. Miss Sarah E. Hobbs, a most estimable and popular young lady, was called away by death on Saturday evening, aged only 23 years. She was the second daughter of Mr. T. P. Hobbs, contractor, of South London. Lung trouble was the cause of death. The funeral will take place tomorrow afterto Mount Pleasant Cemetery. noon, Rev. Mr. Walker will conduct the ser-

MORNING BLAZE

Out-Narrow Escape of the Family.

The grocery store of Mr. Harry Smythe, of 555 Ontario street, was burned out at about 5 o'clock this morning. The entire stock was lost, valued at about $500. The store fittings were insured, but there was no insurance on the stock. The building, owned by Mr. Grismond, of California, was damaged to the extent of $200. The fire originated in the store, and was first discovered by Mr. Smythe's 7-year-old daughter, who awakened the other members of the family. The occupants of the house had a decidedly close call from being burned alive, as they were sleeping soundly, when the little girl awakened them. er being bitterly cold, some of the family were nearly frozen, escaping only in their under-garments. They were soon made comfortable by neighbors. Mr. Smythe has been ailing with pneumonia for some time, and the shock may bring serious results to him in his weak condition.
