TORONTO'S NEW CATHEDRAL

Grand New Edifice of St, Alban The Bishop Sweatman, writing on this topic in The Evangelical Churchman, says: It is hoped that the choir and chancel will be roofed in by the next meeting of the Synod. The fitting up of this portion in a satisfile manner will cost a considerable sum and its execution must depend upon the moming of funds. The chapter were committed to commence building by the terms of purchase of the land. A further necessity was found in the pressing need of accommidation for the mission being carried on in Season Village. As soon as the basement of one of the aides was finished it was furnished and opened.

soon as the basement of one of the aisles is finished it was furnished and opened receive this congregation at Admin in 1886. Services and Sunday school has in 1886. Services and Sunday school has beld in this small room for more in a year when they were transferd into the basement of the main portion the building. The congregation has steadily reased, the modest place of temporary using has gradually undergone improvement, and now there is a very hearty service than attendance of 200 to 250, and a nday school of the same numbers.

St. Alban's Park has been taken into the y, water and gas are laid down, and innage put in. Houses are rapidly springing, and the value of the chapter's property become enhanced to fully seven times the count for which it was lought. There is any indication that before many years the will be in the very centre of the residential tion of the city. No serious doubt can be ertained that the Diocese of Toronto, with in wealth, is easily able to carry modest design which is administed for a cathedral. In Albany, N. M., with a population not one half of that of Toronto, only five or six churches, and a chirch membership of probably not more than 7000 or 8000, a partially completed cathedral has just been opened, which, while only slightly exceeding St. Alban's in its dimensions, has already cost more than will be required to carry out the complete design of St. Alban's, and will need she expenditure of an additional 400,053 to realize the architect's beautiful and truly cathedral-like conception.

When the church people of this diocese secome seized of the true value of the institution, and are possessed with the spirit f unity as the characteristic mark, the histest glory, blessing, and strength of the hurch, they will throw them show a engerly not this work and not be satisfied tyll the granization of their diocese is completed by be essential feature of every diocese in the Christian beautifully, which shall be a pride and joy to some level of their place in the Christian businesses and an honor to the prosperous ty in which it reises it stated towers.
