

7. Moved by Lady Davies, seconded by Mrs. English,

"That the following resolutions passed by the Committee appointed to consider the subject of 'The Better Conception and Regulation of Woman's Social Life and Obligations,' be adopted as suggestions to be brought before the Local Councils."

LADY RITCHIE'S SUGGESTIONS.

"If a lady is unable to call on a regular reception day, after a lunch, dinner or ball, it will not be considered discourteous if she leaves her card on any day in the week.

"It is unnecessary to call after a tea. If, however, a lady is unable to attend it would be more courteous to send a card of regret, or to call after the tea."

SUGGESTIONS FROM HALIFAX.

"Ladies not wishing to receive visitors should place a basket outside their door with 'not receiving' written upon a card attached to it; visitors to drop their cards inside the basket.

"The wives of Cabinet Ministers and the wives of the Speakers of the Senate and Commons should not be expected to return visits, and it would be esteemed a favor if the wives of Senators and Members coming to Ottawa would call on these ladies."

Carried.

SUGGESTIONS
Approved of at the Private Meeting of the Council.

1. That at the Annual Meetings the members wear the respective badges of the various societies to which they belong in order that they may be recognized as fellow-workers by other members of the said societies.

2. That when members of Local Councils go to reside in other cities the secretary of the Local Council in that place be notified in order that said members may be invited to attend any Council meetings that may be held.

3. That some of the officers or members of the Local Council be appointed to visit the federated Societies, and other societies not in federation, from time to time as opportunity arises, explaining the aims and objects of the Council and telling of its work, with the object of cementing more closely the union between the federated Societies and the Council, and also with the hope of persuading other societies to federate.

EMILY CUMMINGS, Cor.-Sec'ty.