sunken cheeks, inflamed eyes and ragged garments. He turned them upon the stately apartment in which they were assembled; he saw that it had been fitted up at no trifling cost; he stared through the partly open doorway into the parlour, and saw looking-glasses, and pictures, and gilding, and fine furniture, and a rich carpet, and Miss Lucy in a silk gown sitting down to her pianoforte; and he thought within himself, How strange it is! by what a curious process it is, that all this wretchedness on my left hand is made to turn into all this rich finery on my right.

"Well, Sir, and what's for you!"

These words were spoken in the same shrill voice which had made the "fools' pence" ring in his ears.
