

THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1906.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

BASE BALL

McCaughen Done With Patterson. Don McCaughen, of this city, who has been the star of the Patterson (N. J.) team pitching staff, has finished with the team, they having won the league contest.

National League. At New York—New York, 10; Pittsburgh, 4. Second game—Pittsburgh, 3; New York, 2.

American League. At Detroit—Detroit, 7; Washington, 0. At St. Louis—St. Louis, 5; New York, 1.

At Cleveland—Cleveland, 7; Boston, 2. Second game—Boston, 3; Cleveland, 4.

Eastern League. At Rochester—Rochester, 5; Providence, 4. Second game—Rochester, 4; Providence, 1.

At Buffalo—Buffalo, 10; Buffalo, postponed. At Toronto—Toronto, 3; Newark, 2.

At Montreal—Montreal, 4; Jersey City, 2.

From the present outlook Carleton will re-enter the city league, taking the place of Fairville, which team resigned at Wednesday night's meeting of the executive.

The Carleton Club held a reorganization meeting last night and decided to make application for admission to the league.

The result of the meeting Carleton will likely play a strong fifth in the field.

The first practice will be held this evening at 7 o'clock on Market square. The captain for the team was not chosen at last night's meeting.

THE TURF. Columbus Races. Columbus, O., Sept. 20—Two races were decided and two more almost completed this afternoon at the Grand Circuit track.

Baltimore, Sept. 20—"Kid" Sullivan, of Washington (D.C.), knocked out "Jimmy" Biggs, of Boston, in the ninth round of a boxing match.

Twesdie and Mayor Nicol. The German band will play this evening at the exhibition. Invitations are out to an at home on Monday evening to meet the committee.

Chatham, N. B., Sept. 20—Five thousand paid admissions were taken at the exhibition yesterday. The fireworks in the evening were fine. There is another big crowd today.

Millie—Yes, Jack is sentimental and Tom is practical.

Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

SEEK TO RECOVER FROM EDDY ESTATE

Quebec Government Suing for $250,000—Claim Succession Dues. OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—The preliminary examination for discovery in the suit of the Provincial Government of Quebec against the E. B. Eddy estate has commenced in the Hill courts.

The province is not satisfied with the statement made by the executors as to the value of the estate, and is trying to force a showing in the court with a view to increasing the succession dues.

The amount sued for is $250,000. Mr. Oshman, of the E. B. Eddy Company, was examined, and in the course of his evidence it was shown that an audit report is made at stated intervals, which shows the value of the estate throughout Canada.

Mr. Oshman, the attorney-general of Quebec, asked that the latest audit report be produced, on the grounds that it would give nearly the information required in concrete, but T. P. Moran, K. C., for the estate, objected, claiming that it did not show the scope of the business of a company doing business in all the provinces of Canada.

The court refused to order the production of the audit report, and the case will be followed and reference made to a judge.

A WOMAN GOLF TEACHER. The following item will be of interest to lady golfers:—The only woman golf teacher in England is a professional instructor in the game, and gives her lessons at "Princess's Ladies' Golf Club, at Midham. Mrs. Gordon Robertson has been teaching for just a year, and in that time has given over 100 lessons.

"I think women can teach women golf much better than men," said Mrs. Robertson yesterday to a representative. "It is difficult for a man to teach a woman for the fact that women make in learning the game that men do not."

She knows their power, strength, and their weakness, and can, therefore, anticipate and overcome their difficulties. Personally, I am not a great golf player, but people tell me that I know how to teach."

THE RING. Siler Sues Nelson for Libel. Chicago, Sept. 20—George Siler, the referee in the recent fight between Joe Fox and Battling Nelson, today filed suit for libel in the Superior Court against William Nelson, the manager of Nelson, and Nelson himself. Siler claims damages to the amount of $50,000.

Since the fight both Nelson and Nelson have repeatedly been quoted as saying that Siler received money for giving a decision in favor of Gans.

Sullivan Knocks Out Briggs. Baltimore, Sept. 20—"Kid" Sullivan, of Washington (D.C.), knocked out "Jimmy" Biggs, of Boston, in the ninth round of a boxing match.

Twesdie and Mayor Nicol. The German band will play this evening at the exhibition. Invitations are out to an at home on Monday evening to meet the committee.

Chatham, N. B., Sept. 20—Five thousand paid admissions were taken at the exhibition yesterday. The fireworks in the evening were fine. There is another big crowd today.

Millie—Yes, Jack is sentimental and Tom is practical.

Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

Tom is practical. Maud—And which do you like better? Millie—Well, I'll let you guess. You see, Jack thinks I look sweet enough to eat, and then he gets me to eat, and then he takes me out—ideas.

JAMES PENDER ON TRANSPORTATION

Well Known St. John Man Speaks Strongly Before Canadian Manufacturers Association. In his report of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in session in Winnipeg on Wednesday the Toronto Mail and Empire has the following:—The Railway and Transportation Committee report was also adopted. On this report James Pender, of St. John, N. B., spoke strongly on the transportation problem.

He said:—"On the administration of transportation depends the success of the country. The railway is charged too much it retards western progress, and if the manufacturers are charged the same condition of affairs will be maintained."

Mr. Pender, who was returned for his constituency at the last general election. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Pender's report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson. The judges both agreed that the decision of 1904 in Quebec-Shellburne was null and void, but their report also allowed of an appeal to the supreme court upon the personal charges against the finance minister and the Hon. Mr. Nicholson.

THE DOMINION BYE ELECTIONS

Eight Will Take Place Before the Opening of the Next Session of Parliament. (Montreal Witness). Of the eight bye-elections taking place between the end of the meeting of parliament, five are being held in constituencies held by Liberals and three for seats that were represented last session by oppositionists.

Volting in East Eglin is being held on October 4, and in North Renfrew on October 9. The form in which Judges Weatherbe and Russell have reported upon the Quebec-Shellburne case makes it doubtful whether the speaker of the house of commons will issue at once his writ for the holding of a new election.

These will be a by-election in Nicolet county, caused by the Hon. Mr. Lomieux's determination to continue as the representative in parliament of the county of Nicolet, and has been prevented until recently by reason of the continuance of court proceedings from making his choice.

Nicolet was Conservative with but a single break from confederation down till 1904, when Mr. Lomieux received a majority of 342 votes. In 1901 it went Liberal by a majority of one. St. Mary's Division of Montreal must elect a member to replace Camille Piche, who recently accepted appointment to the bench.

This constituency has been Liberal since its creation, ten years ago. Mr. Piche's majority in 1904 was 982. In this constituency results were complicated by the possible attitude of organized labor.

The Liberal party nomination is regarded by the Liberals as tantamount to election. Three bye-elections are to be held in Ontario. Andrew Ingram, who last session became a member of the East Eglin constituency, represented the East Eglin constituency since 1891, but always with small majorities. In 1904 he had a margin of only 21, and the Liberals have since that time in the coming contest Mr. Hepburn, his nominee, will be able to win a Conservative vote down to Ontario.

Mr. White registered the seat in 1904, but did not live long enough to fill out his full parliamentary term. With two Liberals in the field for the coming election the Liberals are confident that they will be successful.

The chances are decidedly against them unless one of the Liberal aspirants drops out. Beginning on Monday, Oct. 1, and lasting for one week a fair in aid of the new Church of the Assumption, Quebec, will be held. It will take place in the new church building and this will be of special interest. The fair will be under the auspices of Rev. J. J. O'Donnell, who has been in charge of the building since its completion. The fair is assured all who attend.

England supplies members of the house of commons with gratuitous snuff. From snuff was described in the estimates as such, but to ward off the objection aroused by improving habits the charge of $1,000 a year was added up or covered in the estimates as "snuff oil."

There was quite a representative gathering at the meeting yesterday in Bowma's hall, Brussels street. New officers were elected as follows: James Macleod, president; Samuel Crighton, vice-president; A. B. Macaulay, secretary; and J. Donovan, treasurer. Thomas Robinson, Harry M. Floyd, Thomas Davidson, Robert W. White, and Thomas A. Barrett, with the president and treasurer, were appointed an executive committee.

There was quite a lengthy discussion on the advancing of the price of milk. A resolution to stand by each other in the matter and not to cut prices or accept the advances of other customers at any price was freely expressed.

J. Donovan, who occupied the chair previous to the election of officers, expressed the opinion of the meeting for a pint of milk. He and other speakers who followed pointed out that the shops where milk is handled are charging a figure. It was also urged that it would be inconvenient to charge four cents a quart and three cents the next to the next morning.

The argument that had the most weight with the meeting, however, was that at the old rate of three cents a man would have to have 100 pint customers to make 83 a day. Out of this he would have to pay for his milk and perhaps the wages of a man. By charging a straight price of four cents, however, a fair living profit would be made.

As to cream, it was claimed that those who supplied the fluid along the line of the C. N. R. have recently raised their prices five cents a quart, which makes the increase necessary. Before the recent increase in the price of milk a householder could buy cream in the city at 25 cents retail. But at the increased rate the high as it separates from the milk, a householder could buy cream in the city at 25 cents retail. But at the increased rate the high as it separates from the milk, a householder could buy cream in the city at 25 cents retail.

Two men out the price five years ago and in self defence the dealers all had to follow suit. A fact not generally known to the householders, however, is that there are two grades of cream on the market. Practically the whole supply comes from farmers who own separators and by simply turning the pump screw on the machine cream can be produced of any desired thickness. A few of the milkmen were honest enough to tell their customers this but a good many, it is said, did not waste time explaining.

A large party of young people left the court house last night in buckboards for Renfrew, where they enjoyed a social evening to wind up the season at Kamikof. The ladies committee in charge was composed of Miss Florie McLean and Miss Bell Mowatt. An orchestra was on hand and dancing. An excellent program had been prepared and a very jolly evening was spent before the return to the city.

BEAUTIFUL FALL SHOES.

Gold Bond Shoes Are Forging to the Front. For shapeliness and fitting qualities they are without superior in Canada or the United States. Prices, $3.50 to $5.00.

HOME OF THE GOLD BOND. WILLIAM YOUNG, 519-521 Main Street.

Advertisement for Canadian Pacific excursions to Montreal, Portland and Boston, and Western States Points. Includes travel dates and prices.

Advertisement for St. John Fuel Company, offering best qualities of Scotch and American Anthracite Coal.

Advertisement for Star Line Steamship Co., listing ship names and routes.

Advertisement for Victoria Hotel, located at King Street, St. John, N.B.

Advertisement for The Dufferin, located at King Square, St. John, N.B.

Advertisement for Clifton House, located at Princess Street and 141 and 143 Germain Street, St. John, N.B.

Advertisement for Prince Royal Hotel, located at 113-115 Princess Street, St. John, N.B.

Advertisement for St. Martin's Hotel, located at 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437