NINE HUNDRED NAMES NEEDED IN RECALL MOVE

Fifteen Per Cent. of Votes Cast in Last Civic Election

Petitions for the recall of Commissioners James H. Frink, Hon. R. W. Wigney, Thomas H. Bullock and W. L. Harding, were being circulated this morning for signatures.

As there were 5,905 votes cast in the last civic election, it will be necessary for the petitioners to secure the names of 886 taxpayers, 15 per cent. who are eligible to vote, before they can have the recall law put into operation and have another election.

When the petition is presented to the Common Clerk he will have ten days in which to check it up and if sufficient names are not attached he so reports to the petitioners and they have another chance to get the added number of names. When the Common Clerk has satisfied himself that the petition is in order, he so reports to the council and that body orders the election.

Dr. Brittain Discusses Council-Manager Plan

IN VIEW of the interest being taken here in proposed civic changes, and the fact that Dr. Brittain, of the Bureau of Municipal Research, will shortly be in Saint John to discuss civic affairs, on the invitation of Mayor White, the following letter written by Dr. Brittain on the Council-Manager plan will be of interest.

To the Editor of the Times-Star:
Permit me to express my appreciation of your discussion of the Council-Manager form of city government in your editorial columns.

Whether or not this system is suitable for Toronto, thorough discussion of the merits and demerits cannot fail to have good results. May I, however, say that so far as I know, the Manager is never elected, but is always appointed by and responsible to the City Council, just as our permanent department heads. The election of a City Manager would entirely negative the main principle underlying the Council-Manager form, namely that the Manager should be responsible to the people's representatives, and that satisfactory results cannot be obtained by the method of electing executive officials, as is proved quite conclusively. I think by the experience of the United States cities, many of which elect a number of their chief executive officers.

It seems to me also that the appointment of departments for supervisory purposes among members of the Board of Control, would be extremely dangerous as it would have the main defects of the commission form of government, which assigns to the same elected men policy-forming and policy-carrying-out functions. The best results have usually been obtained by leaving the permanent heads of departments free to carry out the policies decided by Council.

You raise the question whether the actions of the City Manager would not be liable to reversal by the Council, as the elected representatives of the people have a right to determine all policies and see that they are carried out.

As to reversal of acts of executive officials which are properly within their province, there should, of course, be no reversal by Council whether the city be under a Council-Manager or other form of city government. One of the main arguments for the Council-Manager system is that the Manager can bring about and maintain co-operation between the departments in the carrying out of the policies decided by Council.

To a large Council the Board of Control, as an executive and financial committee of Council, is undoubtedly well conceived, and may render good service in centralizing responsibility for the initiation of policies. The reduction in the size of the City Council, as you suggest, is one feature of the Council-Manager plan, and is one which might well be adopted by all cities with large Councils.

EMPIRE'S LEADERS CONVERGE ON LONDON

Many Questions Are Awaiting Solution Since Parley of 3

LONDON, Oct. 11.—All eyes are turned now for the imperial conference, that great cabinet of the British Empire which will meet in the historic cabinet room at number 10 Downing street, on October 19.

Prime Ministers, Maharajahs, delegates from the overseas dominions and representatives of the Crown colonies are converging on London, the hub which unites the spokes of the British Empire.

It has been three years since John Bull called a meeting of his board of directors, and many questions have arisen to crowd the agenda. There are the usual problems of imperial growth—trade, immigration, defense and communications—but these will be dominated this year by a question which has been the very roots of inter-empire relations.

The big question is the treaty-making status of the Dominions on foreign affairs.

MEIGHEN TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Quits as Party Leader at Conservative Caucus; Perley Suggested Successor

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—The Conservative caucus called to consider the question of leadership of the Opposition party adjourned early this afternoon until 2:30 o'clock, without accepting the resignation tendered by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen as leader.

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, officially tendered his resignation as leader of the party shortly after the opening of the opposition caucus in the railway committee room of the House of Commons at 11:30 this morning.

Over two hundred leading members of the Conservative party are in attendance at the meeting, which is presided over by Hon. Donald Guthrie, defeated candidate in South Oxford.

Gossip among leading Conservatives before the meeting was that the name of Sir George Perley would be suggested as temporary leader of the party, coupled with the further suggestion for the holding of a national convention at a date to be named for selection of a permanent leader.

The caucus is attended by Conservative ex-ministers, members of parliament, senators and defeated candidates from all over the country, but more especially from the east.
