The Princess Mary to Wed Lascelles

Betrothal of King George's Only Daughter and Earl Harewood's Son Announced

London, Nov. 22.—The betrothal of Princess Mary, only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, to Viscount Lascelles was announced this evening. King George at a council meeting in Buckingham Palace today had previously announced that he had given his consent to the marriage.

Prime Minister Lloyd George, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Viscount Bickenhead and the cabinet ministers were present at the council meeting, at which Lloyd George had an audience with the king. Later Viscount Lascelles dined with the king and queen.

Arrangements for the wedding have yet been made.

Viscount Lascelles (Henry George Charles Lascelles) is the eldest son of the Earl of Harewood, and is thirty-nine years of age. Princess Mary was twenty-four years old last April. The viscount, who was educated at Eton, was an attaché at the British embassy in Rome from 1905 to 1907 and aide-de-camp to Earl Grey, governor-general of Canada, from 1907 to 1911, served with distinction in the great war. He was three times wounded and won the Distinguished Service Order and the French Croix de Guerre.

It is no break with tradition that a daughter of the royal house should marry into the British peerage, for the princess royal, Louise Victoria, eldest daughter of King Edward VII, was married to the Duke of Fife and her own daughter, the Duchess of Fife, married back into the royal family in the person of Prince Arthur of Connaught. Princess Louise, daughter of Queen Victoria, also married into the peerage. Her husband was the late Duke of Argyll.

Publication of the royal betrothal has quickened again public interest in the Prince of Wales, for whom rumor several times has selected a mate outside royalty.

You Must Have Pure Blood And Proper Nourishment.

If you would have perfect health. The medicine that will secure this for you is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which will convert all the good in your food into blood, bone and tissue.

It creates an appetite, makes food taste good, aids digestion, promotes assimilation, builds up the system. A volume of testimony unequalled in the history of proprietary medicines proves all this and more.

If you need a laxative or cathartic take Hood's Pills.

COMMUNITY CHORUS.

The third rehearsal of the St. John Community and Festival Chorus was held last evening with an attendance of about 150 singers in the Central Baptist church school room. More than 100 were on hand at 7:30 in order to take advantage of the class in sight singing. This class, together with Mr. Brander's talks and exercises in deep breathing and pronunciation, is meeting with fine support. At the rehearsal a start was made for the first concert of the chorus, which is planned for early in January. Owing to the many requests for an extension of the line limit for entering the class, it was decided by vote of the chorus, to extend the limit

STRENUOUS TIME IN INDIA FOR PRINCE

Shooting Tigers and Rhinos Part of Programme.

Many State Functions and Social Events Also Included in Arrangements for Four Months' Stay.

London, Nov. 22.—(By Canadian Press).—His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will have a strenuous time during his four months' stay in India, beginning with Bombay, where the battle cruiser London, on which he sailed from England on October 27th, and is due to arrive on the morning of Nov. 17th. At Bombay he will be greeted by Lord Reading, the Viceroy, and the Ruling Princes on the staff of His Royal Highness. The initial ceremony upon his landing at the Gateway of India, on the Burder, which was built to commemorate the Durbar visit of the King and Queen, will be the presentation of an address by the Bombay municipality. A State drive through the city to Government House at Malabar Point will be followed in the evening by a reception, preceded by a quiet dinner. On the following morning the Prince will hold a durbar of the Ruling Princes. A dinner and ball at Government House, that night will conclude the Prince's initial visit in Bombay, and shortly after midnight he will leave for Poona.

After a public welcome to the Prince in Poona His Royal Highness will unveil the Mahatma war memorial. He will then attend the races in the afternoon, and will then return to Bombay. Among his engagements in Bombay are the cricket match (so called from the competition of European, Persian, Hindustani, and the sports tournament of the great Bombay Maidan. In addition to attending numerous functions in Bombay the Prince will extend his tour to Julunder and Jhelum, where he will come into touch with both the Hindus and the Muslims, who are largely concentrated in the Punjab. It is expected that His Royal Highness at both of these places will lay the foundation-stones of schools for soldiers' children erected in connection with the Kitchener Memorial Fund. A similar ceremony may form part of the programme at Delhi.

The Prince will leave Bombay on the night of November 22nd, for Baroda, which last received a visit from the then Prince of Wales in 1875. After some formal engagements in Baroda the Prince will go into the country and have some black-buck shooting. He will then proceed to Udaipur, whose venerable Maharaja is considered the leading ruler in Rajputana, on account of his legendary descent from the semi-divine Rama and the great traditions of chivalry associated with the ruling line. Through all the generations of Mogul domination it was the only ruling Rajput family which gave no daughter in marriage to any member of the Mahomedan Imperial dynasty. The Prince will spend a couple of days in Udaipur, and not far from the palace of the Maharaja, shooting leopards and possibly some other big game.

His Royal Highness will reach Ajmer, the headquarters of the Agent to the Governor-General in Rajputana, on November 25th, and will visit the Mayo College, which is known as the "Eton of India." A large proportion of the boys educated there are either heirs-apparent, younger sons, or near relations of the Ruling Princes of Rajputana. The Prince, while at Ajmer, will meet those of the Rajput rulers whose States he will not have time to visit.

At Jodhpur the following day the Prince will meet the Jodhpur Imperial Service Lancers, who rendered conspicuous service on many fields during the war, notably in the Helwan campaign of 1914, in Lord Allenby's campaign in Palestine. Jodhpur is the home in Rajputana of pig-sticking and polo, and Sir Pertab Singh, it is expected, will provide the Prince with good sport in both directions. The young Maharaja is serving the Jodhpur polo team, once so famous in India.

On December 1 the Prince will reach Bikaner, whose Maharaja is recognized as one of the most enlightened and able of Indian Princes. Bikaner comes next on the list, and will be reached Dec. 1st. Here His Royal Highness will come into contact with the Imperial Service contingent, members of which have a fine reputation as soldiers. Early in December there will be duck-shooting at Bharatpur, and from there the Prince will proceed to Lucknow, where he will arrive on December 9th.

The Prince will spend some time in the United Provinces, now under the charge of Sir Harcourt Butler as Governor. While in Lucknow he will stay at Government House. A fortnight after his arrival in the capital is the fête given by the Taluqdars at the Kaiser Bagh, which recalls the glories of the court of the Nawabs and Kings of Oudh. Allahabad is the capital of the United Provinces, though the Legislature meets at Lucknow, and will be visited from the latter city. His Royal Highness will also go to Benares and later in his tour, on his way to Delhi and the Punjab, he will see Aligarh and Agra. In all these places, except Agra, there are universities, and the Prince will make a point of coming in contact with

SISTERS SAVE WOMEN AND BABIES IN FIRE

Eight women and six babies in the maternity ward of the Chatterbox hospital were saved from fire by the bravery of the Sisters of Charity and some volunteer helpers through thick smoke, when fire broke out there last night. One of the patients is not expected to live, but the rest were removed to the Rema McLean hospital, formerly the Sisters' convalescent home, and are reported as doing well. The city firemen got the flames under control but not till after a good portion of the roof had gone. (The damage is estimated at about $15,000. The hospital, a private organization, originally cost $100,000.)
