"Cy" Signs as Manager. Cleveland, Ohio, April 24.—"Cy" Young, famous for more than a score of years, late today signed a contract to manage the local club of the Federal League for the coming season.

Border-Team's Manager. The Biddford Journal says: Ernest W. Doyle, Biddford baseball manager, has returned from a trip to Calais and St. Stephen and it is just the same as settled that he will take charge of the team that will represent the two cities in the Maine-New Brunswick league.

Baseball enthusiasts in Biddford and St. Stephen, as well as Kennelburg and other nearby towns, regret that Mr. Doyle is to leave. It was supposed that he would put on a team in Biddford this season.

One thing is certain, that Calais and St. Stephen sports men look for something good in baseball from Mr. Doyle. He is a good, straightforward man and there are few men handling independent ball teams who have anything on him. He can always be depended upon to do as he says.

He is a good business man and it is his one ambition to get a crack-a-jack team together. With his acquaintance among the ball players he does not have to worry either about getting good players. They have got to be good players and if they do not come up to Doyle's expectations.

Diamond Sparkles. Frank Shaughnessy, manager of the Ottawa Baseball Club, has landed his first new pitcher, Walter Mullin, a younger brother of George Mullin, famous general of the Detroit Tigers.

The shortest baseball game on record was played at Atlanta, Ga., on September 17, 1910, on the last day of the Southern League championship race, when the Atlanta and Mobile teams played a full nine-inning game in 22 minutes.

The Cincinnati Red Stockings went through the season of 1880 without losing a game. Overhand pitching was authorized in the big leagues in 1884.

The longest game on record played in the major leagues took place in Boston on September 1, 1906, when Connie Mack's Athletics defeated the Boston team by a score of 4 to 1 in 24 innings.

The famous shortstop of the Pittsburgh team, Hans Wagner, was born in Carnegie, Pa., on February 24, 1874. He is 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs 190 pounds. He bats and throws right-handed.

Frank Chance, the leader of the New Yorks, broke into the big show on April 29, 1898, being an added starter in the game against Louisville. He caught Clark Griffith (now manager of the Washington team).

Manager Stallings is scouring the country for players to strengthen his Boston team. Several times it looked as if he had secured a man he was after, but one thing after another has bobbed up to prevent the consummation of the deal.

An X-ray examination of the injured knee of Hans Wagner has disclosed nothing more than a bad bruise. It is said he will play ball within two weeks.

PASS IT ON. If you have a leaden time, Pass it on. Do not fume and waste good time; Pass it on. You may feel real mean, it's true, But in just a week or two It will come right back to you, Pass it on. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

If you have a cure for grip, Pass it on. Do not let your chances slip. Pass them on. Never fear that you'll forget The prescription that's your pet; It will drift back to you, you bet, Pass it on. —Denver Republican.

If you have some wornout pants, Pass it on. Johnny needs a pair, perchance; Pass them on. They will bristles make for Lou, Tommy, Harry, Teddy, too; But they'll not come back to you, Pass them on. —Johnstown Tribune.

If you have a wormout tail, Pass it on. Do not mind if others rail, Pass it on. Though the crowd may yell and roar Don't you care if they get sore. It will come back as of yore, Pass it on. —Altoona Times.

If your kid says something bright, Pass it on. Tell your friends by day and night, Pass it on. Tell it loudly on the street And some day a dad you'll meet. It will come back as of yore, Pass it on. —Johnstown Democrat.

If you've got a smile to spare, Pass it on. It will lighten some one's care, Pass it on. It will make the skies more blue, It will make hearts seem more true, And it will come back to you, Pass it on. —Houston Post.

This is Brucker, a daring aviator, who will attempt to cross the Atlantic ocean in a dirigible balloon. He will start from the Canary Islands, and hopes to land in the West Indies.

they are quietly notified that they are ex-members of his team. Doyle has played ball in his young days, and this, together with the fact that he keeps well read on the game, puts him in a position to know something about the game.
