When the father returned to his apartment this afternoon, his son entered in a quarrel with him, and attracted the attention of a woman in another apartment. Just as she opened her door she saw the elder Shaver run into the hall. A shot rang out and he fell to the floor. Officer Kendall, who heard the shot, rushed up the stairway. Investigating Cause of Accident Which Cost Lt. Warneford His Life

Upsetting of British Aviator's Machine Not Due to Explosion as at First was Believed.

Paris, June 18.—The British Royal Naval Flying Corps today began an investigation of the aeroplane accident yesterday which resulted in the death of Lieut. R. A. J. Warneford, the British aviator who recently destroyed a Zeppelin airship, and Henry B. Needham, an American writer. The accounts of various persons on the scene at the time of the accident disagree as to the exact cause of the fatal drop. A defect in the tail of the aeroplane or in the propeller, or imprudence on the part of Warneford, are among the explanations offered. That the accident was not due to an explosion or to motor trouble, as to the first reports said, was shown by an examination of the motor today. It was found to be in perfect condition. Witnesses of the accident were examined today by members of the Royal Flying Corps.

The witnesses said that Warneford first fell from the machine, and that Needham tumbled out as it drifted toward earth. Needham had been strapped to the seat and had the strap not given away he might not have been killed, as the machine at the time he fell from it was only about fifty feet in the air. It was at its maximum height when Warneford fell. In falling Needham hit the propeller blade of the machine and his death was almost instantaneous. The bodies of Warneford and Needham remained this afternoon in the English hospital in the Trianon Palace.

TWO MORE STEAMERS SUNK BY SUBMARINES

London, June 18.—The British steamship Alisa, of Leith, was sunk by a German submarine today off the south-east coast of Scotland. The crew was saved.

The steamer Alisa was of 576 tons gross and built in 1884.

Norwegian Steamer Sunk. London, June 18.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Copenhagen says:

"The Norwegian steamer Svein Jarl, a vessel of 1,134 tons, has been torpedoed. The Norwegian newspapers allege that German spies were aboard the Jarl, and other steamers which have been torpedoed, before they left port. The newspapers urge the government to take energetic action."

A British flag covered that of Warneford, and the Stars and Stripes that of Needham.

This afternoon the convalescent English soldiers in the hospital picked flowers from the garden and placed them on the biers of the soldier and writer. The funerals will be held Sunday under the military tent in the hospital garden, which serves as a chapel.

HARWOOD ADMITTED HE HAD DECEIVED THE GOVERNMENT

Confessed to Hon. G. R. Coldwell and Says He Expected to go to Jail, Witness Tells Royal Commission in Manitoba Case.

Winnipeg, June 18.—Hon. G. R. Coldwell blamed V. W. Harwood, former provincial architect, for wrong doing in connection with the Kelly contracts at this afternoon's session of the Royal Commission. He swore that one day after the close of the last session of the legislature, Harwood confessed to him that he had deceived the government, and expected to go to jail for it.

Until this evidence was given by the ex-Minister, the day's proceedings had not been productive of anything new. J. B. Coyne had examined Mr. Coldwell in detail with respect to various matters in connection with the parliament buildings, receiving, for the most part, non-committal replies. Finally counsel asked the witness when he first knew that something was wrong. Mr. Coldwell said that shortly after the prorogation of the House some one, he thought it was Kelly, told him the contractors said they had a lump sum contract for the seasons job. He sent for Harwood, he said, and asked him what this contract was that Kelly claimed he had.

"Harwood told me it was right, Kelly had a tender in," testified Mr. Coldwell. "I was thunderstruck, and said some very impolite things. I am afraid this poor fellow felt very bad about it, and said 'I deceived you.'"

Mr. Coldwell said he wanted to be fair to Harwood. It was only right that the commission should know Harwood said he had accepted the Kelly tender with the object of protecting the government. Harwood was quoted by the witness as saying "I did not know what figure I could keep those caissons within."

The ex-Minister further testified that Harwood repeated his confession before himself and Hon. J. H. Howden the next day, adding on this occasion that he would likely go to jail over the matter. Counsel pressed Mr. Coldwell hard for an explanation of his conduct before the Public Accounts Committee. He admitted having been practically in control of the government forces at the committee. He had helped to rule out certain evidence because at that time he thought Salt's book would be ruled out. There had been no doubts in his mind that all was not well, and he had entire confidence in Harwood, Salt and Elliott.

Mr. Coyne had just begun to examine Mr. Coldwell with regard to Salt's black book when the commission adjourned, to meet again on Monday at 10 a. m.

NEW BRUNSWICK RAISED $20,000 FOR THE SUPERANNUATION FUND

Sydney, N. S. June 18.—The principal business before the Methodist conference today was the consideration of the report of Dr. Morton, secretary of the Superannuation Fund. He reported that during the past year New Brunswick had raised $20,000 as an addition to the fund, and the New South Wales conference has raised $7,000. The Nova Scotia conference has not yet raised half of the allotted $23,000.

During the past year the claims on the fund had increased by $3,000. There are now sixty-four retired ministers and fifty-eight clergymen's widows on the fund. It was expected there would be a substantial increase in the claims for the next year, and a proposition was submitted for the increasing endowment by $50,000. The conference increased the representation on the fund from two to four. Rev. Dr. Heartz and E. Hewson of Amherst, were the new men appointed.
