Passengers to be landed within certain limits and at certain hours.

XV. And whereas inconvenience and expense are occasioned by the practice of masters of vessels carrying Passengers anchoring at great distances from the usual landing places in the Port of Quebec, and landing their Passengers at unreasonable hours, Be it therefore enacted, That all masters of vessels having Passengers on board shall be held, and they are hereby required to land their passengers and their baggage, free of expense to the said Passengers, at the usual public landing places in the said Port of Quebec, and at reasonable hours, not earlier than six of the clock in the morning, and not later than four of the clock in the afternoon; and such vessels shall, for the purpose of landing their Passengers and baggage, be anchored within the following limits in the said Port, to wit: the whole space of the River Saint Lawrence from the mouth of the River Saint Charles to a line drawn across the said River Saint Lawrence, from the Flag-staff on the Citadel on Cape Diamond, at right angles to the course of the
