Dear Mr. Meighen:

Some time ago I ventured to mail you through the University of Chicago Press a small volume entitled "The Prophets and Israel's Culture". I wanted you to have a copy because some of the contents have been much stimulated by your ideas. I meant it to be a presentation in expression of my esteem.

To my surprise the Press reports that the volume was returned to-day. I have been wondering if this was caused through some misunderstanding because the Press now informs me that an invoice was enclosed for customs purposes. If such is the case I deeply regret the matter and hope you will accept my assurance that this was done inadvertently, so far as I was concerned.

If, however, it was returned because you preferred not to have it nothing more need be said about the matter.

With sincere esteem,

Faithfully yours

M. B. Kahane
