

- tion and tribe, 14, 15; how used, 15.
- Nasal catarrh, 122, 123, 128.
- Nasal speech, and catarrh, 119, 121.
- Nature, as doctor, 15, 16; proper function of doctors, to assist, 16.
- Nausea, causes of, 77, 78; derivation of word, 248; nature of, 257.
- Necator Americanus. See Hookworm.
- Nerve deafness, 272.
- Nerve fluid, 99, 100.
- Nervous humor, 98, 99.
- Nervous system, in kidney disease, 172; increasing death-rate from diseases of, 169.
- Nervous troubles, nitrate of silver as remedy for, 10.
- Neuralgia, in sea-sickness, 255.
- Neurasthenia, Dr. Mitchell's treatment for, 53; 374.
- "Neurotic" disturbances, 142, 143.
- "Neurotics," delusions of, 388 ff.
- New England conscience, the, 189.
- Newton, Sir Isaac, 331.
- Nietzsche, Friedrich W., 12.
- Nose, genesis of the, 74; in catarrh, 122, 123, 125, 126; its action on the air, 126, 127, 128; deformities of, 134, 135; diseases of, in hay fever, 154; port of entry for infections, 279.
- Oatmeal, dyspeptics produced by, 66.
- Obesity, discussed, 46 ff.; commonly a mark of health, 48, 54; relation between, and food, 51; natural increase of, with increasing years, 51, 52; advantages of, 53. And see Adipose.
- Oils in the home medicine chest, 39, 40.
- Old age, and deafness, 266, 267, 268, 408, 421, 422; and failing sight, 267, 268, 408, 420, 421; dread of, unnatural, 406, 407; disadvantages of, how avoided, 407; causes of most "symptoms" of, 407; children's diseases and, 407, 408; rheumatism in, caused by infections, 409, 410; premature, caused by poverty, 410; postponement of, 411; degree of happiness in, 412, 413; rate of mortality in, less than in infancy, 413; most acute infections less likely to be fatal in, 413; increase of equilibrium in, 414; decline of powers and inclinations in, 414, 415, 416; reaction from operations in, 416; diseases generally milder in, 416, 417; and youth, contrasted, 419; results of modern science in respect to, 419 ff.; loss of teeth in, 421; exercise in, 423; physical changes in, gradual and painless, 423; effect of modern inventions, 424, 425; change of climate in, 426; character of physical changes in, 427; no definite beginning of, 427, 428, 429; has gone out of fashion, 429; a paradox concerning, 430; recent investigations of, 430 ff.; Metchnikoff's theory of, 431, 432; results of autopsies, 434.
- Old-age pensions, 435.
- Opium, discovery of, 5; date of