curred in the Weish basin of late, took place on Tuesday morning at the Cuminer colliery, near Pentypridd, Glamorganshire, when the loss of human life was of the most trightful character. It is but a few days since an explosion of gas occured in the coalworks of the Coalbrook Dale Company, Blaina, when ten lives were lost, and it would appear that apprehensions of similar explosions had existed among practical men for some weeks past, owing to the extremely electrical state of the atmosphere. No positive fears Tuesday morning, the unfortunate colliers, numbering 116, went down to their frightfully bazardous occupation; and in a short time after, the harrowing intelligence of an explosion of the ton's Condition Powders, Youatt's, Gargling Oil,
