Cattle values eased a little yesterday under receipts that were somewhat heavier than—expectations. While the offering was not above normal it would have been better if it had been several hundred head lighter. Included in the above receipts were 15 loads of cattle billed through from Chicago to Montreal for export. The early trade was slow and prices held about steady.

Prices generally seemed to be about 26c per hundred lower, although cows and builts may have exceeded this in spots. A few sales of heavy cattle were made for export, but there was no demand for stockers or feeders. The top price of the day was $9.50 paid for a baby beef and several head of helfers brought $9.26.
