A BULL MOOSE AS A NEW DANGER FOR MOTORISTS

Mr. Fred Rankine and a party of friends were driving into town in his automobile early Tuesday morning when a large bull-moose jumped across the road and struck the front of the car, smashed the windshield, and badly damaged the exterior of the machinery. No one was injured, and the car was able to go on to its destination. The place where the accident occurred was on the St. John Road by the Boyd farm, and the last that was seen of the moose was a brown streak disappearing across a field, belonging to Mr. J. D. Grimmer. There seems to be no limit to the unexpectedness of automobile accidents, but perhaps the moose feels somewhat aggrieved himself. Times have changed greatly for the worse, he doubtless thinks.
