THE BOSTON SHOE HOUSE

Ventilation.

The Resilia insole expands from outsole when foot is lifted.

It thus draws in fresh air, through a tiny valve in the heel, which locks it in.

When insole is borne upon, the air contained in the cross channels is then forced up around the stocking, through a row of perforations, under the hollow of the foot.

The valve works one way only.

It thus locks the air in, when foot is lifted, compelling it to circulate up around the stocking, and out at the boot top.

WHITE WINGS WILL RACE

Yachts at Rond Eau will Test Speed in Competition.

Meeting of the Rond Eau Sailing Association Last Night.

The Rondeau Sailing Association held a short meeting at the Bungalow, Erieau, last evening, for the purpose of arranging for a number of races for this week.

Those who were present at the meeting were chiefly the captains of the yachts including E. Jones, of the "Bonnie Belle"; W. R. Fellows, of the "Enterprise"; W. R. Phillimore, of the "Baden Powell"; "Doc" Arnold, of the "Outlaw." There were also a number of others present.

It was decided that the races be held The big boat's race, in which the larger part of the interest is being taken, will be run off between the Baden-Powell, Outlaw and Enterprise, on Friday at two o'clock. The other free for all races will be run off after that, if they have time.

On Monday, civic holiday, the annual regatta will be held. The yacht races on that day will be run off in three classes. The first class will be between the three big boats, the Baden-Powell, the Outlaw, and the Enterprise. The second will be the 48 foot class, including the Bonnie Belle, Eric B. Louie and Banahes, and the third class will include the Pirate, Tom Cat, and Erid Boy. The final arrangements will be made later re the regatta.

The interest in the above boats, especially the three large ones, is very very keen. Each captain is confident of success, and is working hard to have his boat in good trim for the race on Friday. Ever since the race between the Outlaw and the Baden-Powell, last year, in which neither came out victorious, it has been an uncertain question as to which is the faster boat. This, it is expected will be decided on Friday.

One of the promoters of the regatta suggested that it would be well if the Lake Erie would run a late train from the Eau Monday Evening. It is understood that they will be asked to do so.

MAD LEAP

An Ex-Chathamite Received Concussion of Brain in Detroit.

Detroit, Aug. 7.—Agnes Cornell, 22 years of age, jumped from a fleeting street car near the corner of Jefferson avenue and Bates street about 10:30 o'clock last night. The car was on its way west and most of the passengers were coming from Belle Isle or the resorts out Jefferson avenue.

Sergt. Michael J. Coleman, one of the island police officers, noticed Agnes Cornell stand, but as the car was going at a very fast speed, the sergeant, like the other passengers, who witnessed the accident, did not believe the young woman would attempt to alight.

"As near as I could see," observed Sergt. Coleman, "the girl threw up her hands and jumped from the floor of the car to the pavement without stepping on the running board at all." Several women screamed and the car was stopped as soon as possible. The unconscious woman was carried to the store of the Brown Pharmacy Co., where she revived sufficiently to tell her name and address.

"Where were you coming from?" she was asked.

"The roller-coaster—the chutes," she replied.

City Physician Gorenflo found that the injured woman was suffering from concussion of the brain and stated that her condition was serious. Boyd's ambulance carried her to St. Mary's hospital.

Agnes Cornell came to Detroit from Chatham about three years ago, and at present is rooming at the New York hotel, on Jefferson avenue, near Randolph street.

THE DISTRICT

TILBURY

Aug. 7.—Mrs. B. Richardson, and son, accompanied by her mother and sister, arrived here yesterday on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, of Ella street.

Eight-five tickets were sold here yesterday on the M. C. R. excursion to Detroit.

A number of our citizens spent the civic holiday in cutting down the surplus woods on Queen street. Many days more could be profitably spent at the same occupation.

The exodus to the Canadian Northwest still continues, and Tilbury is sending its share of the twenty thousand harvesters wanted. The following left on the C. P. R. this morning for different points in the Northwest:—Arthur Rollet, Fred Rollet, William Brown, M. Broadbent, John Francis, O. Embrey, Arthur Cullinrois, W. Foxton, all of Tilbury East and Raleigh; B. Lefaiwe, A. Hiser, Geo. Honey, C.

Houston, A. Manning, D. Scriven, H. Woolat, J. Hickson, Jno. Kemp, Julia Gormican, Nelson Hornick, Jno. Stewart, James Tasker, and William Innes, all from the vicinity of Tilbury. The gun club held their regular weekly shoot last night.

SOUTH BUXTON.

The corn crop promises to be immense, unless there is an early frost. Farmers are very busy just now getting out their manure, preparing their land for wheat, and threshing. The grain is turning out fairly good, but in many cases the wheat is not a good sample.

Among the successful farmers of Raleigh Jas. Barry holds a distinguished place. Last year the products of his farm, 100 acres, brought him $1,500, his cows averaged him $50.80 each all told. And the rest was made out of hogs. He has grown no wheat for three years and says it does not pay to grow it at present prices. So far this year he has sold $780 worth of stock and has 70 hogs to put on the market yet. Mr. and Mrs. P. Gibbala were visiting in Charing Cross Sunday.

John Richardson, who is spending his holidays at the Eau, caught a large green bass yesterday, which weighed 2 1/2 pounds.

Miss Jean Weatherston, of Hamilton, who has been spending a week at the Bothy, Sandy Knowe, returned last evening to Chatham, where she will spend a few days with Mrs. James S. Gray before returning home.

Police Officer Tom Groves is keenly enjoying his vacation here. "The Eau's all right," said Tom to The Planet in his characteristic style. "What with resting, boasting and swimming it is an ideal spot for the holiday. Then the band concert excursions serve to liven up any monotony that may be felt." Tom cautiously admitted he had done a little fishing but declined to tell of his prowess or enter the lists in competition with such nimrods as Vittel Goudreau and—beg pardon, once again.

SUNDAY DISASTER.

There is a common saying that Sunday excursions invariably end in disaster. This was undoubtedly the case last Sunday when a party of excursionists took a short trip in the "Bonnie Belle," the fine yacht owned by E. Jones, of Chatham. The Bonnie Belle has lately been fitted up with new canvas and every one was anxious to see how she would run with her new rigging. Early Sunday morning the captain of the yacht and a few others took her out for a trial spin, intending afterwards to take out a party of young people. They sailed her down as far as the point and returned again to the Eau. Everything went off in grand style. The "Bonnie Belle" sailed along in a manner which reflected credit upon her crew and made her well deserving of the name she bears. Everyone pronounced her a grand success. But when comes the sad part of the whole affair. The party of young people, including a number of ladies, came down to the dock dressed in their grandest attire, anticipating a rare treat. A large number of spectators were down at the beach also to watch the start. The boat certainly did look pretty as she shot out from the dock, but alas! the managers of the craft, had left the centre board up and the sails tied. The wind caught, the boat capsize and the whole party were thrown into the water. The yacht was righted again, but the trip was not attempted again that day. The members of the different party returned to their various homes in a far different condition than they had expected to and a number of them state firmly that they will never again attempt a Sunday excursion.
