TO INVESTIGATE DEATH

The local Crown authorities are now engaged in investigating the death of a squaw named Peters, who died under mysterious circumstances near Fletcher. Dr. Bray left for Fletcher this morning to ascertain the facts of the case. He will arrive back in the city at two o'clock this afternoon, when he will report his findings to Crown Attorney H. D. Smith.

Details of the woman's death are rather meagre, but it is understood that an information has been laid by white people living in the vicinity to the effect that the Peters woman died as the result of a criminal assault made for an unmentionable purpose.

INQUEST NOT NECESSARY

Dr. J. P. Rutherford, coroner, who had been called in to see the child, Glen Alexander McCallum, whose death was reported in Saturday's Planet, found that it was suffering from diphtheria. He did what he could to alleviate the suffering of the child, but it died Saturday morning.

At the request of the Crown Attorney, Dr. Rutherford made an investigation, and reported that from all he could find from the parents and others, and the circumstances surrounding the case, the parents did not know that the child was suffering from diphtheria. That, as soon as they became aware of it, they immediately called in a physician, and were as anxious as anyone could be that the proper remedies should be applied. As a coroner Dr. Rutherford made his return to Crown Attorney H. D. Smith, as follows:—

"That, in my opinion, an inquest is unnecessary, the said Glen A. McCallum having, in my opinion, come to his death by reason of an attack of diphtheria, no physician having been called until it was too late to check the disease, owing to, and as a result of, the ignorance of his parents as to what was actually the matter with him."

As a result of the coroner's finding no inquest will be held.

DEATH OF MISS McLEAN

The death of Evelyn Grey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. McLean, corner of Gray and West streets, occurred yesterday morning at six o'clock after a lingering illness of two years.

Deceased was 24 years and two months old and was a very highly respected young lady. Her death was very sudden and unexpected and will be mourned by many. She was sitting in her chair and had just helped herself to a drink of water, immediately after which she quietly and peacefully passed away.

For two years she was employed as stenographer at Manson Campbell's, and her departure from this firm was on account of her illness.
