In speaking of the menace of tent caterpillars, one of our leading orchardists predicts, judging from the swarms of brown moths infesting the orchards these evenings and by the quantities of eggs already deposited, that not a leaf will be left, either on our orchard or ornamental trees, next season, unless some general and complete system of spraying is resorted to.

WANTED.—A girl to learn telephone operating. Apply to Wolfville Telephone Office.

Mr. Olin Prestwood has just completed a neat little motor boat which was launched on Wednesday evening. It is named the 'Nilo' and is a very dainty little craft. Her length is eighteen feet and she is built of cypress and is a model of workmanship. The little craft is fitted with a five h.p. gasoline engine and the appliances are all of the best. Quite a crowd assembled on Wednesday evening to witness the initial trip which was a complete success. THE ACADIAN tender congratulations to the clever young builder.

WANTED.—A couple to occupy large, pleasant room with board. Apply to Box 126, Wolfville.

Rev. J. W. Prestwood, who is leaving Wolfville to-day, wishes heartily to thank his Wolfville friends for many attentions and courtesies during the past three years. Strives of work in packing up presents doing so personally in many instances. All the family go to-day except Mr. Olin Prestwood, who will be in town a while longer. Mrs. Prestwood much regrets that, owing to illness all this week, she was unable to call upon many friends before leaving. Their new home is Southampton, Cumberland county.

Several residences in town have the new out of door fly-trap in the back yard, and the traps are proving to be an effective means of solving the fly problem. The trap is made in the same style as the wire fly-traps used in kitchens many years ago. It is, of course, much larger, and attracts the flies out of the house as well as from the yard. The outer part is a small tub in which the bait (preferably fish) is placed. This is covered by a close fitting wire globe, with just enough openings at the bottom to accommodate the flies and with a small opening at the top through which they crawl up, after finishing their meal, into a large outer globe, also of wire, where they busy trying to find their way out, until dead.

Your visit to the Mighty Heng Shows at Kentville, afternoon and evening of July 22, will not be complete without a tour of the colossal canvas equestrian. Even though you are not a lover and admirer of blooded stock it is claimed you will find an hour of genuine pleasure and much to interest you inspecting the drives of horses and ponies. For the last year agents have been in different parts of the world making purchases for this department. With a report that to-day the Mighty Heng Shows possess one of the largest, most varied, and costly collections of representative members of the equine family which result can produce, and it is doubtful if anywhere else the line has ever been exhibited before. Certainly not by any traveling show. Ladies and children are particularly invited to visit this home fair, which all may do without an escort as uniformed attendants are always present to look after the welfare of visitors.

WOLFVILLE.

'A Day at the County Fair.'

Wolfville trooped en masse to the opera house last Friday evening, for the occasion was the amateur comedy, 'A Day at the County Fair,' presented by the Tennis Club, under the direction of Miss Ethel Ault; and the Club always fulfils its promise of a good entertainment. Beside members of the Club the actors included about sixty young people of the town and all were admirable both in action and clearness of diction.

The curtain rose with a view of the exhibition, the crowd of spectators and the Mayor presenting his opening address. Thereupon Jeremiah and Samantha Hoopole appeared, the former searching in the fancy work department for a place to exhibit his basketful of fine greenstevens. From then until the curtain dropped the play abounded in amusing incidents and humorous speeches among the visitors at the fair.

Some of the characters, especially well taken were the widow Mrs. Killjoy (Miss Flora Chambers) who succeeded not only in seeing all the fair but also in giving her opinion of the same, but also was united to her long lost son and affianced to a second husband, St. Perkins, the town constable; Mrs. Krausmeyer (Mrs. Earl Burgess) with her fifteen children; the bride and groom, Charles and Clarence Mush (Miss Pitt and Mr. Burgess); Aunt Matilda and her nephews, Johnny Cake (Mrs. Moore and Master Willie Delaney).

The musical specialties were particularly good. The song by forty little maids, 'I've got the mumps,' captivated the audience, and the small boy's song, 'They gotta stop kickin' my dawg aroun' was most amusing. 'Nappenee,' an Indian song rendered by Miss Helen Beckwith, with chorus of ten young ladies in costume was impressive and most enjoyable. Two songs by Mr. Fred Bishop with choruses by ten club members, 'When Sunday rolls around' and 'Oh, you beautiful doll,' were bright and amusing; and 'Snap your fingers and away you go' was delightfully rendered by Miss Doris Chambers and Mr. Joe Ducean. The Wolfville band, under the leadership of Mr. Haystead, of Kentville, gave an open-air concert before the opera house early in the evening, and was listened to by a very appreciative assembly.

The Boy Scouts.

The weather on Saturday being very dry and hot, the 'Fire Lighting Competition' was postponed to a later date. On Friday evening next the regular meeting will take place. The Wolf Patrol is particularly requested to be present to make arrangements for the trip to Chester.

There will be no meeting on Saturday. All Scouts are requested to meet at the Club Room at 10.30 a. m. on Sunday for Church Parade to St. John's Episcopal church. Full notice to be worn. Only leaders will carry staves.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. H. K. Lee wishes to express her grateful thanks for all letters of sympathy from her friends during the past fortnight. She regrets that she is unable to answer each personally.

A Visitor This Week.

The motor car seems to be coming in to more general use every year. This week we had a visit from Mr. A. G. Watson, the Maritime Provinces sales manager for Regal flour. He came through from Halifax to Windsor in his car. He tells us that he now covers his whole territory in the same conveyance. Where formerly he could only do one or two valley towns in a day, he says he can now do four or five, and after the day's work is over he has no trouble on a fine night to push along 25 or 30 miles further and be ready for business in a new place the next morning.

Mr. Watson's special visit to our office was in connection with the advertising of Regal flour. He intends to use THE ACADIAN to let the people of this county know that they should use Regal in preference to all other flours. He says he has no doubt that once they give it a trial, they will not hesitate to make it their permanent choice. Ben McIvor, of Halifax, one of the best bakers in Canada, recently told Mr. Watson that he had never used a hard wheat flour which gave him as good satisfaction as Regal as Mr. Watson thinks that flour that suits Mr. McIvor will suit the best bread makers every where.
