

SUFFERED TERRIBLY WITH HAY FEVER

Until "Fruit-a-lives" Completely

"I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and took their treatment—and I tried every remedy I heard of as a good for Hay Fever. But nothing did me any good. Then I tried 'Fruit-a-lives' and this remedy cured me completely. I am now well, and I wish to say to every sufferer from Hay Fever—'Try Fruit-a-lives'. This fruit medicine cured me when every other treatment failed and I believe it is a perfect cure for this dreadful disease'."

Sunshine.

Put a bit of sunshine in the day; Others need its cheer, and so do you— Need it most when outer sky's dull gray Leaves the sunshine-making yours to do. Give the day a streak of rosy dawn; Give it, too, a touch of highest noon; Make the ones about you wonder why Sunset crimson should appear 'so soon. 'That was a disgusting tramp I helped this morning,' said old Mrs. Smythe, to her neighbor. 'I gave him a pie and told him to saw some wood, and about ten minutes later he came in and asked me if I'd mind if he ate the wood and sawed the pie.' Put the golden sunshine in each day; Others need the cheer that comes through you— Need it most when outer sky's dull gray Leaves the sunshine-making yours to do. —Junista Stafford.

My Purpose.

I purpose to live a clean, temperate, industrious and economical life. I purpose to take the same religion into politics that I take into church. I purpose to hate cant and Sunday whining and to love frankness and bravery. I purpose to sing just as sweetly at home as I do in the prayer meeting. I purpose to read the Bible with the same common sense that I read other books. I purpose to pray more for the approval of God than for the compliments of men. I purpose not to talk about the inabilities of Christians until I am very sure that I am nearer the standard of Jesus Christ than they are. I purpose to hate with the same intensity and to treat with the same contempt all snapping, snarling and growling in the hiped as in the quadruped. I purpose to open my mouth when I believe I can do some good by so doing; to shut it on other occasions. I purpose to pay my grocery before I make any great display over the contribution box. I purpose to bear the disagree of my own mistakes without trying to throw it on some one else. I purpose to make mistakes and to learn from them. I purpose to give people a chance to see every lateral change, but whatever the result, to be glad and to thank God for it. —Junista Stafford.

Cured Diseases of the Kidneys

And is Dependent On Eight Stomach and Liver Disorders.

Once Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are introduced into the family and are usually found too valuable to do without. For everyday ailments arising from liver and bowel disorders they bring relief promptly, and when complicated diseases of the kidneys and liver develop they often prove a successful cure after doctors have failed. As an illustration, you may read the following, which was received a few days ago:

Mrs. John Wright, 53 McCree street, Toronto, Ont., states: "We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for ten years, and would not be without them. My husband suffered from kidney trouble, and after taking treatment from several doctors without receiving any benefit, tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which worked a complete cure. Since that time we have used them for all stomach and liver disorders."

One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Thoughts.

Always in your darkest hours strive to remember your brightest. If industry is no more than a habit, it is at least an excellent one. Do the duty which lies nearest thee, which thou knowest to be a duty. The grand essentials of happiness are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

If you wish to be happy in this world there are only three things that can secure you your aim—the love of God, the love of truth, and the love of your fellow men.

She Gained 36 Pounds.

Mrs. George Bradshaw, Haylow, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for many years with weak, watery blood and dropsy. I had nervous head aches, dizziness and sinking spells, and was, in fact, a semi-invalid. Doctors told me my heart and kidneys were diseased and gave me up. By using ten boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I have been cured of many of my old complaints and gained 36 pounds in weight."

Uric Acid Suffering.

Uric acid is an accumulation of poison which finds lodgment in the system when the kidneys fail to remove it from the blood. In the kidneys and bladder it forms stones in the joints and muscles it causes rheumatism. In any case the pain and suffering is almost beyond human endurance. Uric acid is promptly removed from the system when the kidneys are kept healthy and active by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. 'That was a disgusting tramp I helped this morning,' said old Mrs. Smythe, to her neighbor. 'I gave him a pie and told him to saw some wood, and about ten minutes later he came in and asked me if I'd mind if he ate the wood and sawed the pie.'

Dr. A. W. Chase's 25c. Catarrh Powder.

Is sent direct to the diseased parts by the improved device. It kills the bacteria, cleans the air passages, stops dropsy, and restores the normal action of the mucous membrane. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for all catarrhs of the nose, throat, and lungs. It is sold by all druggists and by Dr. A. W. Chase & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Do you mean to tell me...

'Do you mean to tell me,' demanded Mrs. Whackburn, 'that it is a bad thing for a woman to have an aim in life?'

'I do,' said Whackburn, 'especially if she's going to throw bricks. She might hit something.'

'What did you do with your book whose leaf you found loosened?'

'Put it through a log press!'

'What do you mean?'

'Had it bound over to keep the piece.'

'Mother—I say, Tom, what did you do with the money in your bank?'

'Tom—You told me to save it for a rainy day, and as yesterday was rainy I spent it for candy.'

GIVE SOME DETAILS OF ROYAL TRAGEDY

Countess Marie Recalls the Tragedy of 1889 When Her and Baroness Were Found Dead

Countess Marie Larisch, niece of the late Empress of Austria, made public what purports to be the true story of the mystery surrounding the death of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria since 1889, when the bodies of the heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary and Baroness Mary Vetsera were found in the royal hunting lodge at Mayerling. There has been no official explanation of their double tragedy. "The accidental shooting of the Crown Prince when on a hunting expedition," is the way the court circular referred to the tragedy, which there was no making whatever that the death of the young Baroness had occurred at the same place and at the same time. The Countess says, in effect, that the Crown Prince killed his sweet heart and then took his own life because he feared that a plot in which he was engaged was about to be discovered, and that he would be court-martialed and shot. That plot, according to the Countess, was a conspiracy on the part of Rudolph, the Archduke John of Tuscany and some others to disrupt the Austro-Hungarian Empire by making Rudolph King of Hungary.

Blames the Baroness

The Countess says that although the Crown Prince was a dissolute man, whose conduct had cost him the love of his father, mother and wife, he was not primarily to blame for the affair with the Baroness. The girl fell in love with him before he had ever noticed her, and wrote him a letter begging him to meet her. The Countess appears to have assisted to arrange some of the stolen interviews that followed, though she protests that she only shielded the girl. But soon gossip connected their names. The indiscretion of the young Baroness was the height of publicly humiliating the Crown Prince, and it seemed probable that she would be dismissed from the court.

A Ghastly Ride

It was in this crisis of their affairs that Rudolph took her with him on a hunting expedition to Mayerling. One morning when they did not appear at the usual hour, Count Hoyos, the attendant of the Prince, broke open the door and found both dead, a small revolver in the hand of Rudolph. Calling in another servant whom he could trust, the Count removed the body of the girl to another room. Then he had both doors locked and guarded while he hurried to Vienna with the news of the tragedy. It was announced that the Crown Prince had been injured, and after a noted doctor had been consulted, in the meantime, the family of the Baroness Vetsera were communicated with. Two uncles went down to Mayerling to bring the body home. The police insisted that the girl should be dressed, and that the body should be held upright between the two uncles on the seat while they drove in a carriage from the hunting lodge. A few miles away, the carriage turned into the gates of a monastery, and here the body was hurriedly buried, neither the father or mother being allowed to be present and see one who knew anything of the scandal being sworn to secrecy.

GALLOPING HORSE TOY

Best of Legs and Head and Jockey's Body Move

An amusing toy in the form of a galloping horse has been designed by a Kentucky man. It is particularly appropriate these days when mechanical toys are absorbing the youth of the land. The body of the horse is fixed to a standard rising from the base, but the forelegs and hindlegs are pivoted to the body and at their middle joints. The tail and neck are also pivoted to the body and the hip of the jockey is pivoted at the base. The horse's feet are fastened to swinging shafts that operate in the base by means of a rotatable gear. As one shaft is pushed forward the other comes backward, such carrying with it a foreleg and hindleg on the same side of the animal. The gear is operated by means of a crank and the faster the crank is turned the faster the horse trots, bobbing his head and waving his tail, while the jockey seems to urge him.
