

THE PROTESTANT AND EVANGELICAL WITNESS.

For thee an inheritance of infinite value has been purchased... and it is freely offered to thee, "without money and without price."

THE Protestant & Evangelical Witness.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1860.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

The second week in January, 1860, will long be remembered by the friends of Zion. A "voice from the East" is heard calling to prayer, and the whole world responds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—We are just in the week of the holy convocation which we suppose is being quite generally observed throughout the Christian world.

From the Halifax Witness.

The work of prayer is past. The unwonted interest which was manifested during the week in the numerous religious exercises, both in the several churches, and in the public meetings, filled the hearts of God's people with unalloyed joy.

From the Halifax Protestant Witness.

A Cornwallis correspondent informs us that Prayer Meetings were held daily during the week at Canaan, in the Episcopal and Protestant churches, and in the Episcopal and Protestant churches.

From the St. John, N.B. Church Witness.

The appeal for a universal concert of prayer, during the second week of January, was warmly responded to in this City. The meetings in this building were held daily, and were generally attended at the week passed.
