The Insolent Reply Of the Government to the People.

On Saturday we just touched on the Government's reply to the petitions of the Fishermen's Union, presented to the House of Assembly in the session of 1912 by Sir Robert Bond. Those who attended the House on that occasion will remember the loud, violent and bumptious manner in which Premier Morris addressed the House. Who are the Councils of the Fishermen's Union? Who are the members of the Fishermen's Union that they should presume to talk to him about extravagant expenditure? They are only the dupes of some designing person for whom there will be a rude awakening. And this is the man who has proclaimed himself and his associates the People's Party. The People's Party, forsooth! The PEOPLE'S SCOURGE is their proper title, for they are the most incompetent set of political reprobates that an angry Heaven ever sent to curse a people.

Why was not the Fishermen's Petition acceded to? Why was not the General Election held last fall or this spring, as it should have been, the constitutional life of the Government having then expired? Why have the Government held on to office in defiance of the law and of the people's protest? Why, because the public chest and the public lands are at their disposal. Let us forget—Has it not been shown that Sir Edward Morris obtained thousands of dollars from the Treasury in the shape of "payments on account," and was not his holding of forty thousand shares in a company, holding timber lands shown up after he had denied ever holding any such interest?

Has it not been shown that the Hon. Donald Morison has also obtained thousands of dollars on account? And was it not proven from public records the large interests he held in a company which obtained timber areas on the Labrador, equal in area to a THIRD OF NEWFOUNDLAND! Do not the public accounts prove that Crosbie and Morison's company obtained thousands for coastal contracts and old spars; that Devereaux, Downey, Bennett, Goodison, Emerson, Howley and others are drawing thousands from the Treasury, the two first, namely Devereaux and Downey, in the shape of annual salaries as Agricultural Commissioners, the others in the shape of solicitors or arbitrators, under Morris's railway scheme.

Do not the Public Accounts show that the Daily News, the Evening Herald and Evening Chronicle have received tens of thousands of dollars for printing, etc., and are not Morris, Morison, Watson and Cashin, shareholders in one or other of these newspapers?

Have we not published extracts from the public accounts showing that Whiteway, Bishop, Moore and Kennedy have been receiving thousands of dollars in connection with the public institutions?

There is not a member of the Government or one of its supporters who have not been receiving either money directly or indirectly from the Treasury, or lands from the Crown Lands Department during the past four years. These political highwaymen deceived the people in 1908 and obtained the power to do as they have been doing, and they will hold on to power until an enraged people kick them out in November.

To Right Hon. Sir Robert Bond.

BY A NATIVE.

Caed mille falthis and Heaven's best blessings
Attend you, Sir Robert, our son true and brave:
Accept from your country her choicest caressings,
Dear land, that from ruin you often did save.

Who won her the gift which to-day she possesses—
The boon which all freemen doth use on their side:
The Ballot Act system, which heals and redresses,
And baffles and wounds the vain autocrat's pride?

Though oft shafts of derision and envy were blended
To weave a false web in the year ninety-four,
All hail to the hero who nobly defended
The honor and fame of his sea-girted shore.

When pervers and traitors disowned her for lucre,
And sold her to strangers to do as they please,
Your love for a moment had never forsok her,
But it scorned all the wilful intrigues of these.

Caed mille falthis! a true son we're greeting!
May Heaven protect you on land or on sea,
And may you forever your foes keep defeating!
Is the prayer TERRA NOVA bequeaths unto thee.

Though you have been feted and honoured where glory
Doth reign more supreme than the land of your birth,
Yet dearer to her is your unsullied story,
She boasts of your honour, your manhood and worth.

The exile from dear Terra Nova doth cherish
A heartfelt regard for her Patriot Son,
And his love for your manhood shall never perish,
Nor the many bright deeds of the past which you've won.

Then hail to you, Chief, whom we all love to honour!
Long life and good fortune attend you, we pray;
And dear Terra Nova, God's blessing upon her!
Is the wish and the prayer of true natives to-day.

How News Was Received.

Liberals Jubilant. Tories All In. What's the Matter With Bond? He's All Right!
Coaker's Name Received With Applause

Saturday evening in almost all the mercantile establishments and in most places where men are employed, very little work was done until the Telegram was published, and when it was known that Sir Robert Bond and Mr. Coaker were coalitionists the people could not be restrained from showing their pleasure. Such exclamations as "Bond and Coaker for ever," "Our popular Premier is with us again," and "Bond's our man" could be heard on all sides. In several places men threw aside all restraint and ran out on the sidewalks to get copies of the Telegram. Later when they saw the good news confirmed in Mr. Coaker's paper, the Advocate, enthusiasm reached its highest pitch. They now say that the man who could down Tory graft had come back to his own. During working hours men tried to suppress their feelings, but about 9.30, when the people began to get about, the feeling was evident. If the sentiment in St. John's East and West is a criterion, then certainly the People's Party is "up for sale." It was hard to find Tories Saturday night, they seemed to have all gone to cover. They had to get in out of the wet, and they are getting in so quickly that Morris is looking around for sympathizers and can't get them. Perhaps the Hon. P. T. McGrath will soothe him. He can soothe him too, and it may soothe him to know that the men who formed up committees for him last election in the West End have formed them since Saturday night for SIR ROBERT BOND'S NOMINATION. The surprise of this election will be St. John's West. The young voters are all arrayed against Morris. The older voters who have heard his palaver, who have received his insults and who have heard him "coddling" the whole electorate, are only awaiting the chance to mark adverse ballots for him. Sir Edward, you see how the people of the West End regard you. This is your Waterloo. All along the line "Victory" can be read on the banners of the Liberals. Sir Robert Bond and Mr. Coaker can't lose. Sentiment is too strong in their favor and the whole country is with them. Anyhow, graft, boodle and bribery must be stopped. Newfoundland must get a Liberal Government and there will be no "eighteens." Sir Robert Bond will sweep the country.

Uncle Tim's Message.

My fellow men of Newfoundland,
Tis time to look around,
To see how in the world we stand,
And whether we are bound.
Two hundred thousand telling men
Must labour day by day,
Are all we have to trust to, when
The time is come to pay.
For all the mad expenditure
The waste, the lack of skill
In managing our business, sure
There's neither fact nor will
In any of the "Morris" crowd

But borrow, boys, and spend
For all your worth, then get your shroud
For you are near your end.
Why should they longer rule us, men
Of pluck and strength and wit,
I've said before, I'll say again,
If you alone are fit
To take the helm of the state,
When danger is in sight,
To save us from a woeful fate,
To turn the wrong to right,
To do this, all you fishermen
And labourers likewise
If every working man ye ken,
Who have to live honest tries,
Must join together hand in hand
To fight your country's cause
To wrest her from this guilty band,
From out their boodling paw.
