378th Day of the War

LATEST

From the Front.

11.30 A.M.

TUG RAMMED AND SUNK.

VINEYARD HAVEN, To-day. The tug Lackawanna owned by the Reading Railway was rammed and sunk in South Handkerchief Shoals last night by the barge Natokie on the tug Triton. The mate and cook of the tug were drowned. Eleven survivors including the chief engineer greatly exhausted after being in the water four hours were brought here by the tug Scramton to-day.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND CANADIANS FOR DARDANELLES. VANCOUVER, To-day. Hon. T. Chase Cosgrain announced at a Canadian Club banquet at Vancouver to-day he had been officially advised by the Minister of Militia, that fifteen thousand Canadian soldiers now in Britain would be sent to the Dardanelles.

NO CASUALTIES FROM BOMBARDMENT.

LONDON, To-day. The submarine bombardment is the text of a statement as follows: A German submarine fired several shells on a portion of Harrington and Whitehaven between 4.30 a.m. and 5.20 a.m. to-day, but no material damage was caused. A few shells hit the railway embankment in the north portion, but the train service was only slightly delayed. Fires were housed at Whitehaven and Harrington which were soon extinguished. No casualties are reported. Whitehaven, which lies near the entrance of the Solway Firth, has a population of about 20,000. In the town are numerous factories for manufacture of cordage, sail cloth and other commodities, together with iron and brass foundries and shipyards. Harrington is a small town 5 miles north of Whitehaven, its population being about 4,000. Porton is another small seaport town a mile and a half from Whitehaven.

NOT USING POISONOUS GASES.

PARIS, To-day. The Ministry of War this evening issued a note saying the published statements that British troops are using poisonous gases is untrue.

ITALIANS ADVANCING ON THE NORTH.

BRESCIA, Italy, To-day. The Italian advance East of Condo, thirty miles S.W. of Trent, towards Riva at the head of Lake Garda is being continued, notwithstanding the stormy weather and terrific hailstorms. Reports say the trenches captured by the Italians are full of water in which bodies are floating.

GERMANS DEMAND EXPANSION.

BERLIN, To-day. Resolutions calling for the extension of German frontiers as a result of the war were adopted by the executive committee of the National Liberty Party, which met yesterday at the Reichstag. The resolutions made the following declaration: "The outcome of the present war can only be a peace which by expanding our frontiers East and West and overseas will protect us militarily, politically and economically against new attacks and compensate us for the enormous sacrifices, which the German nation has already made and is still making to continue to a victorious conclusion."

GALLANTRY IN THE NAVY.

LONDON, To-day. A record of deeds of gallantry performed by officers and crews of British ships in the Dardanelles during the bombardment of forts subsequent to the landing of troops is given in a report by Vice-Admiral De Robeck. The Admiral devotes the greater part of his report to the officers and men whose work was particularly noteworthy. As a result of the report five Victoria Crosses and numerous other decorations have been awarded.

THE DACIA CONDEMNED.

PARIS, To-day. The decision of the Prize Court in the case of the former Hamburg American line steamer Dacia which was granted an American registry in January, and seized by a French cruiser in February, while bound with a cotton cargo for Bremen, was made public to-day. The court finds the transfer "tainted with fraud" and orders the steamer to be seized as a prize.

PROPOSED JAP-RUSSIA ALLIANCE.

MILAN, To-day. A despatch from Petrograd outlines the situation in Russia, growing impression of being inspired by the Russian Foreign Minister was published by Corriere Della Serra Article which says in conclusion, the proposal for a Russo-Japanese alliance finds no opposition on condition that it be not aggressive against China and even less so against America, whose friendship is necessary in Russia.

GERMANS ON THE GREEK CRISIS.

BERLIN, To-day. The Athens correspondent Tabeblatt who has frequently shown himself to be well informed, telegraphed the following statement of the attitude of former Premier M. Venizelos as expressed by Venizelos on Saturday in conversation with political friend M. Venizelos believes now as before Greek interests lie on the side of the entente Allies, but that the tide is not ripe for Greece to join the quadruple alliance. The activity of Greece should therefore be to preserve neutrality for the present. The correspondent adds: "The question now is whether King Constantine regards these views as a proper basis for entrusting the future of Greece to M. Venizelos as Premier."

LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, To-day. The left wing of the Bavarian army under Prince Leopold fought its way across the Bug River near Drohiczyn which lies East Sokolet and is some fifty miles northwest of Brest Litovsk, according to an official Berlin report. This move forms a slight wedge on the Russian front which had been virtually straight since the Warsaw salient was abandoned. Field Marshal Von Mackensen is also reported to be pushing back the Russians along the Bug where the Germans are advancing along the Eastern bank of that river.

Further west Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is credited with a successful attack on the advanced positions of the Russians, as well as a successful attempt to break the Russian line between Narew and Bug. After Narew River has been crossed by the Germans, the former the most critical military movements of the day but they attract less attention here than the Bulgarian negotiations in the Balkans where a crisis has not yet been reached. The most significant phase of to-day's news concerning the near Eastern situation was contained in a brief despatch from Athens stating former Premier Venizelos had won a decisive victory over the Government organization in the Greek Chamber of Deputies. The withdrawal of the Bulgarian delegates from Constantinople caused much speculation here. The consensus of opinion being that Turkey is so confident of her present position, she does not feel under any compulsion to make the concessions Bulgaria demands.

The usual grenade and mine fighting is reported on the Western line. There has been some activity along the minor front of the Caucasus, where the Russians claim they have successfully repulsed Turkish attacks. Livingstone on the Rhodesian border of South Africa, the British force which had been besieged by a German detachment is reported to have finally driven off the besiegers. A German submarine boat shelled three towns in Cumberland on the coast of England, several fires were started by the shells from the underwater boat. The railroad was damaged and there were no casualties as the result of the attack. Except in their financial columns newspapers pay little attention to the decline in sterling exchange, the Government has given no hint of any plans it may be considering to relieve the situation, which leading financial authorities here regard as decidedly serious.

2.0 P.M.

GREEK CABINET RESIGNS.

LONDON, To-day. King Constantine of Greece has accepted the resignation of the Gounari Cabinet, according to a despatch from Athens. Eleutherios Venizelos, leader of the Opposition, was invited to consult with the King to-day.

GERMANS FIND COMMUNICATION DIFFICULT.

ROTTERDAM, To-day. No point is yielded by the Russians to the advancing Germans until railway bridges and everything else of military value have been destroyed, according to German reports received here. The Cologne Gazette admits the difficulties confronting the invaders and says the great area west of the Vistula is covered by ceaseless processions of wagons bringing up supplies. In this devastated country where railways have been destroyed an incredible amount of work has to be done. Only by fabulous exertions have we been able to carry supplies for our armies over the Vistula.

RUSSIANS RETIRING ORDERLY.

LONDON, To-day. The Times' military correspondent, dealing with the warfare in Russia, says, in conformity with the general plan of retirement, Grand Duke Nicholas has now withdrawn his forces from Poland to points west of the line of Ossowetz, Bialystok and Brest.

Litzvok, and we shall learn within a few days whether he intends to make a long stand on this front. The staffs of Russian armies have performed the difficult tasks with the greatest competence. Attacked in an untenable position by six or seven German armies, the Russians fought steadily back and are now in line. The Russian armies are neither beaten nor demoralized nor dispirited, but they are not yet out of danger, nor can they be until the menace of Von Hindenburg in the north is disposed of. The chief interest still lies in the struggle north of the Niemen, in the defence of Kovno, and in the decision of Grand Duke Nicholas to stand up on Brest Litovsk, or to continue his retirement. The real crisis of the Grand Duke's operation is still to come.

SERBIA MORE CONCILIATORY.

LONDON, To-day. Telegraphing from Nish Serbia, the Times Balkan correspondent promises a speedy agreement between the Balkan disputants. If a conciliatory attitude on part of Serbia will effect this prospect of adjustment of difficulties between the Balkan States, the correspondent says the prospects have grown brighter the past few days. So far from the attitude of the Serbian Government being irreconcilable, assurances have been given to-day which make it evident that the way is open for a quick settlement. This, however, will be more of general character than a mere ratification of frontiers in one particular locality.

A STRANGE EXPLANATION.

LONDON, To-day. The key to the Balkan situation may be in the shortage of ammunition in Bulgaria. In support of this view the Daily Mail cites the alleged statement of the German military attaché at Bucharest who is pleading with Roumania to allow ammunition to pass through that country. These were not intended for Turkey, but destined for Bulgaria which was neutral.

2 30 P. M.

BRITISH TRANSPORT SUNK—NINE HUNDRED SOLDIERS AND SAILORS LOST—600 SAVED.

LONDON, To-day. The British transport Royal Edward has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. An announcement to this effect was made officially to-day. Six hundred men were saved out of 1350 troops and 220 other persons on board. So far as has been reported officially, this is the first instance in which a British transport has been attacked successfully by a submarine. It has been a matter of pride with the British Government that it had transported hundreds of thousands of troops across many seas without loss of life. It is probable that the number of troops sent to France and Belgium since the beginning of the war is considerably in excess of 700,000.

In addition large numbers of men have been transported to the Dardanelles, Egypt, South Africa and Serbia. Troops have been brought in from Canada, New Zealand, Australia and India. The announcement gives no clue to the branch of the transport service in which the Royal Edward was engaged. The text of the announcement follows: The British transport Royal Edward was sunk by an enemy submarine in the Aegean Sea on Saturday morning, according to information at present available. The transport had on board 32 military officers, 1,350 troops in addition to the ship's crew of 220 officers and men.

Troops consisted mainly of reinforcements for the 29th division and details of the Royal Army Medical corps. Full information has not yet been received, but it is known that about 600 have been saved. The Royal Edward has been in the transport service since early in the war and for a time at least was detailed to take Canadian troops to England. On August 11th, 1914, she sailed from Montreal with French reservists on board.
