AT THE HOUSE.

Another Board of Railway-Commissioners
Appointed—House Will Prorogue
This Afternoon.

The house met at 4.30 p.m. No reports or petitions were presented; questions were asked by Messrs. Moore and P. Cashin.

In answer to Mr. Sullivan, the Colonial Secretary stated that Dr. R. A. Brehm was acting doctor for the Fever Hospital and Dr. A. Carnell acting Port Doctor. Neither had received full appointments.

Mr. Higgins asked who ordered the printing of the pamphlet containing the address of the late Prime Minister on the subject of the Humber Proposition; what number of copies were ordered? What office they were ordered from, and what the price was to be paid for them.

The answer is as follows:—
"The pamphlet containing the address on the subject of the Humber Proposition was ordered by the Deputy Colonial Secretary; ten thousand copies were ordered. The copies were ordered from the office of the Daily Mail. The price has not yet been fixed as the pamphlets are not yet completed."

Mr. Higgins in reply to the answer of the last question denounced this method of financing a political newspaper outfit as a grave scandal and those who participated in the arrangement should be censured or made pay the bill. He characterized the matter as a fraud and a steal. Who authorized the Deputy Colonial Secretary to order these pamphlets? The man who gave the authorization should be made pay for them. If the Deputy Colonial Secretary ordered them without authorization. This

Hon. Mr. Warren, Prime Minister, surprised the Assembly when he stated the printing of this pamphlet was ordered and undertaken without his personal knowledge or that of the Executive Council. He answered the Opposition that steps would be taken to stop the work immediately.

Sir M. P. Cashin thanked the Prime Minister and supported the contention of Mr. Higgins. He said the booklet should have never been ordered or printed, as they were filled with false and misleading statements, and the Deputy Colonial Secretary should be reprimanded for allowing himself to be used by the Prime Minister. During the past six months the Deputy had been mixing himself up in politics. He was very prominent in labor negotiations a short time ago. He thought it would be well for the Deputy Colonial Secretary to mind his own business. He ought to be made pay the bill for the printing and that would teach him a lesson. He did not see why the Colony should pay for printing bills for the gentlemen whose speeches were contained in the pamphlet, because it was nothing more than glorification of deceit and hypocrisy. It was as Mr. Higgins said, a steal and a fraud.

It was only at last sitting he held up in his hand four or five sheets of paper containing the census returns for St. Barbe and a sheet or two of St. John's East, for which the Colony advanced $7,500.00 and if the rate of advances continue, the census will cost $100,000.00 for printing alone. The House then went into Committee on the Loan Bill.

NEW RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS.
Hon. Mr. Warren availed of the occasion to announce the decision of the Government to comply with the wishes of the Opposition in cancelling the appointments of Mr. Bertheau and Mr. Hall. Civil Servants, as Railway Commissioners, and instead of these two gentlemen, Hon. Tasker Cook, and Hon. Geo. Shea, had been selected who, with the Colonial Secretary, would take charge of the Railway policy until the next session of the Legislature.

Mr. Higgins on behalf of the Opposition thanked the Premier.

The Prime Minister also agreed to the wishes of the Opposition in closing up the Militia Department immediately. In consultation with Col. Rendell he said every effort will be made to close up the Department in the next six weeks.

Sir Michael Cashin was pleased with this decision. He asked what provision had been made to tide the destitute over the coming winter, as no balance was left from the loan bill.

The Prime Minister said that $250,000.00 would be spent as indicated by Sir Michael and 50,000.00 would be spent on the Railway under the control of Mr. P. Joyce who, he believed, would see that good value was given for the Armsworth-Whitworth Company had now 2,000 men employed, 1,500 others would be employed cutting wood. The A.N.D. Company would be employing their usual quota. The Mooney & Crowe operations would account for another 1,500. So in all he could see where between six and seven thousand men would be employed during the fall and winter.

Mr. Higgins brought up an important point when he asked the Premier to give a promise to the House that no large sums would be expended as they have been during the past three years by orders in Council without the notice or approval of the members of the House not on the Government side. He also hoped that useful and beneficial work would be found for the unemployed to which the Premier agreed. He asked if the loan was to be raised by tender in view of the loss of $25,000.00 which was entailed when the Government raised the last loan. The Premier answered in the affirmative.

Mr. Sullivan once more addressed the Assembly on the immediate need of employment for his constituents, who were hoping to receive work along the railway route before it is too late.

Hon. Mr. Warren asked Mr. Sullivan to confer with him and the Minister of Public Works on the matter.

Mr. Woodford took exception to his name appearing in a morning paper in which it was alleged he used money for a special train, which he wished to contradict as he offered payment to the Passenger Agent who refused to accept.

The Colonial Secretary regretted the name of Mr. Woodford being on the list. The result of the discussion was that Sir M. P. Cashin's name was mentioned.

Sir M. P. Cashin—Yes, my name was conveniently mixed up in it. I happened to get request from Messrs. Woodford and Kennedy to run up a special train on Nomination Day. I telephoned the order and told them to collect the bill from the parties who needed the train. A month ago I received a bill for certain debts. I paid the bill and at the same time told the officials in charge of the accounts to send the bill and collect same from Mr. P. Kennedy, Harbor Master. I heard nothing more about it and thought the thing was paid until the answer was brought down in the House. Some gentlemen whom I know would be very glad to have me mixed up in a scandal, but they cannot do it. I owe the railway nothing. I paid for my special trains. Other people cannot say the same.

Mr. Woodford continued his remarks by asking the Minister of As-griculture to immediately settle all cattle claims in connection with the railway, to which the Minister agreed.

THE INVESTIGATION WILL BE CONDUCTED UNDER THE PUBLIC ENQUIRIES ACT.
Mr. Fox in commenting on the item of $1,000,000, required under the new loan to meet the loss on pit prop and other accounts incurred by the Dept. of Agriculture and Mines, asked the Prime Minister whether the proposed Commission of Enquiry into the alleged scandals connected with the administration of various public departments recently, would be appointed under the Public Enquiries Act.

The Prime Minister said that that was the intention of the Government.
Mr. Fox said that, in his opinion, appointing a Commission for this purpose, under the Public Enquiries Act, as at present framed, might well prove fatal to a thorough and searching investigation. Under the Act now in force—on the well known rule of evidence—a witness may claim privilege and refuse to answer any question; and the Commissioners cannot compel him to answer or punish him for refusing. Surely if this were to happen in the present Enquiry, and it is quite likely that it will, the investigation might well prove abortive; and instead of being what it should be, impartial, though effective, and just to all parties concerned, it would be a mere mockery, ineffective and useless. He suggested that a Commission, (as in the famous Parnell case) be constituted with special powers to compel a witness to answer any and all questions put to him; to commit for contempt in the event of a witness wilfully refusing to testify; but with the saving power enabling the Commissioners to issue a certificate to protect a witness, who was thus compelled to answer, criminalizing questions, from criminal proceedings. As was remarked to him to-day: "If the present enquiry, through any fault of the authorities, fails to satisfy the ends of justice, a period of recrudescence will follow, the administration will become a bye-word, public morality will suffer, and a state of affairs more serious perhaps in its consequences than that which followed the Bank Trials, result."

The Prime Minister said that the Public Enquiries Act was the only order under which the investigation could be held. The only case he ever knew of such powers granted to a Commissioner was that mentioned by Mr. Fox, the Parnell case. Even in the Supreme Court a witness may decline to answer a question if such answer might incriminate him and lay him open to prosecution. He doubted the wisdom of amending the Public Enquiries Act. But of course it could be done. He could assure Mr. Fox and the House that with the knowledge he possessed of the matter to be brought before the Commission. There was no danger of the investigation proving abortive.

Mr. Fox in reply stated that now that the matter had been specifically drawn to the attention of the Government, the responsibility rested upon them. He hoped that the views of the Prime Minister, in whom he had the utmost confidence, would be amply realized.
The Retiring Allowances, Preferential Tariff on the Products of Spain, Preferential Tariff on the Products of Jamaica and Loan Bills, were passed and sent to the Legislative Chamber. The House then adjourned to meet this afternoon, when His Excellency the Governor will attend for prorogation.
