Crescent Hydrant.
has two pipes, one covering the valve rod (dry pipe) and the other conveying the water to the spout (wet pipe). The rod in this hydrant is actuated by a brass screw and handle above and raising plunger, the smallest fraction of an inch, closes waste before any water can enter discharge pipe. With the valve open we have the full and unobstructed flow of water through the hydrant which can well be compared to a straight way valve or round-way cock. Closing the valve empties water from wet pipe through dry hole. To repair hydrant or washer remove top cap or plate and withdraw plunger valve. It can be readily repaired without digging up.

A Wealthy Widow Marries a Peddler.
BELFAST, Me., Feb. 29.—Anne French, of Belfast, a widow aged 90, and worth $100,000, has created a sensation by marrying Herbert C. Peavy, of Amherst, Me., aged 36, an itinerant peddler.
Locked in a Freight Car for Eight Days VINCENNES, Ind., Feb. 29.—In a box car standing on a side track on the Ohio and Mississippi Railway, five miles west of this city, a man was found confined. He was in a wretched condition, having lain there for eight days without food, water, or fire.
His feet were so badly frozen that he could neither stand nor walk. He was Frank C.
Harris, a farm hand who had worked for a farmer near this city. In attempting to steal a ride he had been locked up and side-tracked in an out-of-the-way place.
The Machine Is Running Too Fast—Extremes that Are Fatal!
A celebrated medical writer says: A life of extreme labor, or, indeed, extreme exercise of any kind, of extreme anxiety about worldly concerns, of extreme moral excitement of any kind, is unfavorable to long life; whilst, on the contrary, a moderate degree of each favors it. Scarcely any thing powers in the home and in the rounds of quiet, cheerful habit of mind, and a freedom from annoying cares.
We live in an age of hurry, worry, bustle and everlasting excitement, which is not conducive to health or longevity. Men and women, and even the young, are caught in the whirl of business, pleasures and excite-ments, and ere they are aware of the consequences, they are made helpless and powerless through disease and bodily suffering.
The business and professional man over-works brain and body every day in his earnings to overtake some more fortunate brother; the young miss and the more mature woman overtax their physical
outside pleasures and frivolities.
Men and women of all classes become nervous, irritable, sleepless, dyspeptic and rheumatic before they come to the prime of life, and are subjects for the physician to work upon. While we deplore this state of things, and feel keenly regarding the future results on the coming generation of men and women, we cannot at present do more effective work than recommend strongly to the weak, nervous, broken-down and dyspeptic, the use of that grand invigorator, strengthener and builder, Paine's Celery Compound—a specific preparation for the troubles mentioned above. If we are to judge by the number and character of the testimonials in its favor, we must come to the conclusion that it is truly what our people require, and what they have long sought for.
The record of Paine's Celery Compound is the grandest and noblest ever heard of; its honesty is beyond question; its works speak louder than written encomiums. It is heaven's remedy for the restoration of brain, brain and body to that perfect condition of health which tends to a happy and long life.
