Dairy produce report, week ending Oct.

10, by Hodgson Bros.: Cheese—The demand has again improved and the market has advanced fully 1s 6d to 2s per cwt on the week, closing strong at the quotations. English cheese of choice quality are scarce and dear, and the general position seems healthy at the high values now prevailing. There is a scarcity of medium grades. We quote today: Fancy late-made Canadian white and colored, 52s 6d to 54s; summer makes, ripe qualities, 49s to 52s; lower qualities extremely scarce, nominally 42s to 46s. Butter—The market for choicest continental produce has declined considerably this week, but there is now a steadier feeling. Copenhagen quotation remains unaltered for next week. Demand for choicest Canadian is only moderate, although at present price it is clearly the best value. Lower qualities of butter are a slow sale. Today's values are as under: Choicest Canadian fresh-made creamery, in 58-1b boxes, 102s to 105s; fine Canadian dairy, in tubs and boxes, 78s to 34s; States ladle butter, in tubs, 78s to 82s; choicest Danish, in Kiel casks, 108s to 116s; finest Siberian, do, 92s to 96s; fine Siberian, do, 92s to 105s; fine Csiberian, do, 92s to 105s; fine canery, 105s to 112s; lower grades of Irish butter, 80s to 112s; l Dominion Steel Bonds....... Policeman.

Three Arrested Men Confess Burglary of Belcher Residence.

Three arrests were made today by the local police in connection with the burglary last night at the Bruce street residence of Evangelist T. L. Belcher. The prisoners are Wesley Perry, James Langley, and a wayward youth of respectable parentage. The latter and Perry were arrested by Detectives Rider and Nickle, while Langley was gathered in shortly after by P. C. Harry Down. The prisoners confessed their guilt, and revealed the whereabouts of the stolen watches, purses, and other booty, which they had hid-den in barns. All the property was recovered by the detectives, who have reason to congratulate themselves on securing both culprits and valuables within twelve or thirteen hours after

MITCHELL FEELS CONFIDENT

Has No Fear That His Programme Will Be Defeated.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 20 .- During the recess an expression on the outlook was sought from Mitchell. He smiled, shook his head and said: "I have nothing to say at this time. The outlook, in fact the whole situation, is in the hands of the delegates. They ordered the strike and they must decide what course to pursue."

While President Mitchell is extremely noncommittal in all that he says, those at strike headquarters do not doubt that he has any fear that the programme he has in mind will not go through.

AGAINST THE TOWNSHIP

Drainage Referee Grants Petition of John Byrne.

Drainage Referee J. B. Rankin, of Chatham, has handed down his judgment in the case of Byrne vs. North Dorchester. This is the case in which the township undertook to drain certain lands, at a cost of $8,000, nearly half of which cost would be saddled upon Westminster township property. The referee's judgment pronounces the bylaw illegal, sets is aside, and orders regret. the township to pay costs of the reference. Macbeth & Macpherson represented the petitioner, John Byrne, of Westminster, and Meredith & Fisher appeared for the township.

THE BURNE-JONES GIRL

Miss Olive Cox in the City-How She Joined the Stage.

Olive Jennings Cox, the new stage beauty, known as the Burne-Jones girl, from her coronal of red-gold hair, is in the city with the "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home" Company. She is in the cast as Honie Chisholm. Miss Cox, who is said to be a lineal descendant of Sarah Jennings, Duchess of Marlborough, has brains as well as beauty. She sketches eleverly, and has had success as a short story writer. The New York Herald tells how she came to go on the stage. In the studio of Hamilton King, a noted New York artist, Mr. Fred Whitney saw the portrait of "a dreamy blue-eyed girl, with wonderful red-gold tresses, in a black picture hat, with drooping ostrich tips and fluffy black ruff." Mr. Whitney was looking for types, and the Burne-Jones girl in the portrait at once took his fancy. He learned from Mr. King, who the original was, and offered her a place in his new company. Miss Cox has posed ever since she was a curlyheaded baby, and her likeness was at that time on the calendars and children's story-books, illustrated by Miss Maud Humphries. Her figure is tall and slender, but symmetrical. Her sole ambition is to succeed in her pro-

FAVORITE OF THE STAGE

Charming Lucille Saunders, of the Whitney Opera Co.

Well Fitted by Study and Experience for Leading Female Role.

Miss Lucille Saunders, the charming contralto singer whose name (like Abou Ben Adhem's) leads all the rest in the cast of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," was seen at the Tecumseh House this morning by an Advertiser reporter and asked to tell the story of her past life, not to the accompaniment of the chills-and-fever music of the melodrama, but in the prosaic hotel parlor, with the October sunshine filtering in and the trains whistling at the station hardby. Miss Saunders, however, exhibited a becoming aversion to talk much about herself, and insisted on dilating on the merits of the opera, which has met such success since its initial presentation a few weeks ago, and which Londoners are to see in all its entirety tonight. The reporter, however, prefers to write of Miss Saunders, and let the opera speak (or rather sing) for Skipping her childhood years, Miss Saunders said that she left her happy home at Hartford, Conn., and went to Europe, where she studied under several well-known masters there. She then put in three years as a drawingroom entertainer in London, after which she joined the Carl Rosa Opera Company for a time. She was also a member of Sir Augustus Harris' forces and took part in the production of some of the most successful of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. Coming to America six years ago, Miss Saunders has since been connected with such high class comic opera com-panies as the Lillian Russell-Jeff de Angeles-Della Fox combination in "The Wedding Day," Alice Neilsen in "The Singing Girl," the Bostonians, Oscar Hammerstein's productions and others. For eighteen months Miss Saunders was also contralto soloist for one of New York's largest churches, but the strain of seven performances and two church services a week was too great, and she had to resign her choir work, much to her

"I have played in Toronto and Montreal before," said Miss Saunders, speaking of her Canadian experience, "but this is the first time I have ever been here. From what I have seen of your city, I think it a charming place. I like to come to your Canadian cities, for it makes me feel as though I were back in England again."

Miss Saunders relates with great enjoyment an amusing experience she had while entertaining in England. "I was engaged to appear at the Tennis and Racquet Club at Knightsbridge, one of the swell clubs of Lonbowed low in an obsequious salaam. The Cockney accent in which they asked 'What is your pleasure, lady?' showed, however, that their birthplace tiled chamber, whose atmosphere was stifling. 'This is the 'ottest room, lady,' he said. He had conducted me to the club's Turkish bath."

Miss Sainders has been pronounced by leading critics one of the very few true contraltos on the stage today. Her work as Mrs. Pemberton, in the new opera, has been highly praised. and one veteran Detroit critic said of her: "The fact that Lucille Saunders lives and sings is another evidence of the existence of a divine providence.

courage in arms. The generals, and especially Gen. Dewet, received rousing welcome. The speakers avoided attacks upon Great Britain, but the audience cried "Shame!" when Gen. Botha referred to the charges that Mr. Kruger had carried off Transvaal money and mentioned the concentration camps. Gen. Botha asserted that the Boers would be true to the peace treaty like men. Gen. Dewet said he hoped the Boers would have a great future, and added: "We will wait until God's time comes." This remark was greeted with thunderous applause. Gens. Botha, Dewet and Delarey left Berlin for England Saturday, intending to consult with their wellwishers over the practicability of opening a subscription there for the relief of the Boers, hoping thereby to allay the political feelings stirred up by their continental utterances. The German collections for the Boers amount to $75,000.
