ABLEAU GIVEN AT ANNIVERSARY

by Banquet.

The feature of the concert, which followed a delicious supper, was an anniversary tableau, written espe-pecially for the event by Miss Lily Sachse. It was entitled Our Dream, and the scenes portrayed the history of the church from the time the first plan came to the minds of the people til it was established. In allegorvarious church societies was de-

Mrs. Leonard Starling took the leading role, as the Spirit of Chris-tianity, and the heralds were Frances Mayne and Bobbie Hartop. Deacon Frank Mayne was the reader.

The scenes were interspersed with musical selections, including vocal numbers by Captain Woods, Luther Jackson and Mrs. M. Pyman; double trombone solos by Mr. Chapman; cornet and violin solos by Miss Davidson, and orchestral selections with solo parts by an augmented or-chestra. Much enjoyed readings were contributed by Miss Lotta

Previous to the concert a supp was served in the schoolroom of the church, under the auspices of the ladies' aid, and after-dinner speeches were given by early members of the congregation, including William Gurney of the Adelaide street church and R. Sanders and H. Pierce of Egerton street. Rev. A. Burgess, the pastor, was the chairman. An enjoyable social hour was spent after the

WOMEN TENDER E.S. LITTLE ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION

Gather in Hyman Hall To Complete Plans For Campaign.

HEAR CANDIDATE

E. S. Little, London's Liberal standard-bearer, received a rousing reception from a large gathering of representative women in Hyman Hall yesterday afternoon. The women expressed themselves as firm in their belief that Mr. Little was the right man to represent London at Ottawa. Their campaign in his interests is well under way, and they hope to elect him on October 29. Mrs elect him on October 29. Mrs Little, the Liberal candidate's wife was present and remained after the meeting to chat with the women present. Little groups formed here and there about the hall, talking earnestly about the nam, tanking earnestry about the election and the work which remained yet to be done.

Mr. Little, in his address to the meeting, referred to the big Liberal gathering of last Friday night. Has Helped Home.

"The women should be ready to work after the inspiration of Friday night's meeting," he declared. "I believe in the present government
