

A HINDOO MOTHER AND HER BABE.

How true are the words of the Bible, that the heathen are "without natural affection!" But what makes them so? It is their cruel superstition. It makes the mother "forget her sucking child." But it is not for want of tender motherly love, as we may see in this touching picture. It is a custom in India for people of high caste to burn their dead; but, as this ceremony costs much money, the poorer Hindoos
