INTER-AMERICAN RADIOCOMMUNICATIONS CONVENTION

concluded at Havana, on December 13th, 1937, among the Governments of the States named below:

Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, United States of America, Panama, Brazil, Canada, Peru. Guatemala, Uruguay and Colombia, Haiti, Venezuela. Cuba. Mexico,

Chile,

The governments named above, recognizing the benefits of co-operation and mutual understanding resulting from the exchange of views with respect and mutual understanding resulting the undersigned plenipotentiaries have designated the undersigned plenipotentiaries have designated beld in the City of Haven-tiaries. The governments and resulting from the the undersigned plenipotentiaries and mutual understanding resulting from the undersigned plenipotentiaries to radiocommunications, have designated the undersigned plenipotentiaries to radiocommunications, have designated the undersigned plenipotentiaries to radiocommunications, have designated to ratification have reput to to radiocommunications, have designated the radiocommunications, have designated the first Inter-American Radio Conference, held in the City of Havana, Republic the first Inter-American Radio consent and subject to ratification, have common consent and subject to ratification, have common consent and subject to ratification, have consent and subject to ratification of the recognition of the the first Inter-American Radio Conservation, subject to ratification, have concluded of Cuba, who by common consent and subject to ratification, have concluded of Cuba, who by common in conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provisions of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the provision of the International Cuba (Conservation in conformity) and the conformity with the cuba (Conservation in conformity) and (Conservation in conform of Cuba, who by common consent and subject the provisions of the International the following Convention, in conformity with the provisions of the International Telecommunications Convention of Madrid, 1932.

PART ONE

CONFERENCES

ARTICLE 1

Objective

The contracting governments agree to meet periodically in conferences of resolving by common understanding of The contracting governments agree to like the common understanding of plenipotentiaries for the purpose of resolving by common understanding such plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotentiaries for the purpose of radiocommunications in the American plenipotential plenipot plenipotentiaries for the purpose of resolving plenipotentiaries for the continent.

ARTICLE 2

Composition of the Conferences

The conferences shall be composed, as provided in the Internal Regulations

The conferences shall be composed, as provided in the Internal Regulations

Conferences (Annex 1 of this Convention) of the conference The conferences shall be composed, as property of this Convention, of the Inter-American Radio Conferences (Annex 1 of this Convention), of the Inter-American Continent which agree the of the Inter-American Radio Conferences (American Continent which agree to attend.

nd.

Representatives of institutions and organizations associated with radio. Representatives of institutions and soldies or persons communications, of enterprises or groups of enterprises and bodies or persons communications, of enterprises or groups of enterprises and bodies or persons communications, of enterprises or groups of enterprises and bodies or persons communications, of enterprises or groups of enterprises and bodies or persons communications, of enterprises and bodies or persons communications, of enterprises or groups of enterprises and bodies or persons communications, of enterprises or groups of enterprises and bodies or persons communications, of enterprises or groups of enterprises and bodies or persons communications. communications, of enterprises of groups of the bodies of persons engaged in the operation of radio services may also attend, as observers provided they are authorized by their respective Governments.

ARTICLE 3

Voting

- (A) Only one vote shall be had in the Conferences by each State that meets the following qualifications:-
  - I. a permanent population;
  - II. a defined territory;
  - III. government;
  - IV. capacity to enter into relations with the other States.
- (B) Countries or territories not possessing these qualifications may have (B) Countries or territories not post-voice but no vote in the conferences; but agreements resulting from the con-tor their adherence through the medium of their respector. voice but no vote in the conferences, but and the medium of their respective home governments. 4